CHANGED THEIR STORY
CHARGE AGAINST YOUNG MARRIED MAN WAS DISMISSED.
 Sisters Declared That Story They Told to W. H. Wyllie, Inspector for Children's Aid Society, Was False—Dog Must Die for Biting Little Boy.
 As the result of serious charges laid by three of his sisters to W. H. Wyllie, inspector for the Children's Aid Society, William Francis, a young married man, was placed under arrest, but at the police court on Wednesday morning he was dismissed by the magistrate, as the three girls, under oath, and examined by J. L. Whiting, crown attorney, declared that the story they had told to Mr. Wyllie was false.
 Mr. Whiting had in his possession a statement signed by the three girls, in which they made charges against their brother. This statement was read over to the girls by Mr. Whiting, and they stated that it was all false.
 Questioned by the magistrate as to why they should want to make such charges against their brother if there was no truth in them, all the girls had to say was that they should have sought advice from an older person before making such charges, and that they had become confused.
 T. J. Rigney was present on behalf of the accused, who pleaded "not guilty."
 Both magistrate Farrell and Mr. Whiting stated that they could not understand the action of the girls. The ages of the girls are 15, 17 and 19. The magistrate gave the older girl a severe reprimand.
 Dogs can bark all they like—that is if citizens do not object, but they must not bite. If they do they must pay the penalty. And the penalty is death. A pet dog which made its home on Corrihan street will be shot by Constable Arnel, as a result of the canine biting a little boy on that street.
 "I didn't get any notice about the dog biting people," said the owner of the dog.
 "No, and the little boy did not get notice that the dog was going to bite him," replied the magistrate.
 "The dog growled," said the little daughter of the owner of the canine.
 "Well, he won't growl or bite any more," said the magistrate.
 "He wouldn't bite if the people would not pull his tail," said the woman, who was sorry to part with her pet.
 "We can't have dogs running around biting people," said the magistrate, as he closed the debate and signed a death certificate for the unruly canine.
 The charge against Frank Hepburn was that he did use abusive and insulting language to one Israel Cohen. The words he uttered would not look very nice in print, but Hepburn said that he was drunk at the time, so this accounted for the bad talk. The magistrate fined him $5 and costs or ten days.
 James Kelly, up for being drunk, was fined $1 and costs or ten days.

FIRE ANTICIPATED BY PEOPLE OF THE NORTH.
Capt. Hunter Found Them Very Apprehensive Few Days Ago.
 Capt. Alford Hunter, of Belleville, inspector of fisheries, was in the city Wednesday morning en route to Pembroke. In conversation with the Whig he stated that he was in Northern Ontario a few days ago, and the people were fearing that there would be a disastrous fire on account of the hot, dry weather. Their worst fears had unfortunately been abundantly realized. Capt. Hunter said he knew many of those who lost their lives in the recent holocaust.
 The captain stated that the fisheries laws were well observed, there being comparatively few infractions. There were, he said, fewer non-resident fishermen this year than in preceding years. He thought that quite likely the long, rainy spell that heralded the hot weather might have had something to do with the falling off. A number of summer resorts in the Georgian Bay district, he added, were not opening up at all this season.
 The inspector if firmly convinced that Kingston, which he regards as an ideal tourist city, would attract many visitors if it had a fine summer hotel. Capt. Hunter is a brother of Lieut.-Col. Hunter county magistrate.

Fire Chief Graham, of Ottawa, Says That Strict Inspection Cut Down Fire Losses.
 "We are still fighting fires, but what we are working hard on to-day is fire prevention," said Fire Chief Graham, of Ottawa, who was a visitor in the city on Wednesday morning.
 Chief Graham has been head of the Ottawa fire department for several years, and is regarded as one of the best men in the business to-day. He has been assisting Provincial Fire Marshal Heaton at some of the investigations held into fires in different parts of Ontario.
 Chief Graham says that the strict inspections being made in various cities to-day is making a wonderful cut in the fire losses of the province, and he is ever at work on methods for fire prevention.
 Ottawa's chief is on his way to Windsor to attend the annual convention of the Provincial Association of Fire Chiefs. He is making the trip by automobile. He arrived in Kingston from Brockville early on Tuesday night, and left Wednesday forenoon on his trip west. He was accompanied by Mrs. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Walsh, Ottawa, and his chauffeur. Fire Chief Armstrong will also attend this convention, which will open on August 8th.

LICENSES TO BE EXTENDED? TRAVELLERS PREDICT GOVERNMENT WILL MAKE EXTENSION.

Will Then Issue Licenses to Sell Beer and Wine—Party and Public Exigencies Are Demanding This.
 A traveller, who seems to be in the know, predicted to the Whig that the liquor licenses, which were to expire on September 16th, will be extended to enable the holders to get rid of the hard stuff, and subsequently the licenses will be given licenses to sell four per cent. beer and also wines.
 The traveller said that Government would be forced to make this concession, from the party and the public standpoint. He explained that the delay in securing a Government candidate in South Toronto was due to the fact that the party was demanding an extension of the present licenses and then a granting of licenses to sell beer and wines.
 The party workers realize that it is impossible to carry the seat if the new temperance regulations are not altered.
 Then, according to this traveller, the bars must be allowed to do business, if the hotels are not to be closed up. He pointed out that very few hotels had taken out a license to sell soft drinks and tobacco, the great majority declared that they intended to go out of business altogether, if prohibition came into effect.
 The traveller forecasted the retirement shortly of Premier Hearst, the cold water man of the Cabinet, because of ill-health, and said that he was to be succeeded by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, a practical politician.

LIEUT. STANLEY CUNNINGHAM NOW ACTING ADJUTANT OF THE 21ST BATTALION.

Kenneth Taylor Now With 21st—The Battalion Loses Lieut. Thompson, Who Was Transferred From the 59th.
 In a letter dated July 20th, Lieut. S. L. Cunningham, of the 21st Battalion, gave some interesting information in regard to the affairs of that unit.
 Colonel Hughes left the battalion on the 15th to take command of a brigade in the 4th division. Major Jones, formerly of Brockville and Vancouver, is now in command, with Major Elmett, formerly of the 43rd Battalion, Canadian Militia, Ottawa, second in command. Both these officers have many friends in Kingston, where they resided with the battalion during the winter of 1914-15. Under their direction it is safe to say that the reputation of the battalion will not diminish.
 Lieut. Cunningham is now acting adjutant, and an idea of the casualties may be gathered from the fact that he is now the seventh officer from the top. Notwithstanding this, he is still only a subaltern.
 Kenneth Taylor, son of Jeremy Taylor, of the Bank of British North America, is now with the 21st.
 On the morning of the 20th the battalion lost an officer, Lieut. Thompson, who came to them from the 59th Battalion. Lieut. Thompson was an Englishman, who formerly practised law in the City of New York. At the outbreak of the war he came to Canada and enlisted. He had many friends in Kingston, who will mourn his untimely end.

 George Thompson Will Sell no More to "Indians."

 "Any person on the prohibited list trying to procure liquor in this store will be immediately arrested."
 This action of Mr. Thompson's comes as a direct result of selling liquor unawares to a member of the so-called "Indian List" which is now so large that liquor dealers have difficulty in recognizing all the members.

The animal ran out as the ambulance was passing, and was caught in the wheels. It was whirled around a number of times, and then thrown out, and died soon afterwards. Mr. Handler stated that the dog was a great pet and he feels the loss keenly.
