PROCLAMATION

August 4th, being the second anniversary of the declaration of war against the Central European Powers by the British Empire, owing to the importance of the vital issues involved and the fact that a successful ending has not as yet been secured, I hereby call upon all citizens of whatever nation or creed resident in our city to observe this date as one of special prayer and sober meditation.

We are fighting for freedom against oppression, the defence of the weak and helpless, whose lands have been invaded, their homes ruined, their women and children violated, enslaved and brutally murdered.

Strengthened by a sense of right and justice, irresistible weapons, I call upon you as your circumstances permit to assemble at your various places of worship, to research the Almighty to prosper the right; to strengthen our brave soldiers in their hours of trial, to comfort them in their sufferings, to soften their beds and dispel the darkness of death; beseech Him to confer and console those who mourn, loved ones who have made the supreme sacrifice.

Examine your own hearts, searching its inmost recesses for evidence of your own contributions of time and labor and means.

I call upon those who cannot gather at their own place of worship to set apart one hour for private devotion and re-consecration to the great cause.

A. W. Richardson, Mayor's office, Kingston, Aug. 2nd, 1916.
