

TRIBUTE PAID
A. C. WARNER

Who Passed Away At Colebrook on the 16th of July.

WARNER FAMILY CONNECTED

WITH COLEBROOK VILLAGE SINCE ITS EARLIEST DAYS.

Deceased's Father Built the First Store There in 1842 and Laid Out the Land Along the River in Village Lots.

At Colebrook on July 16th an honored and respected life-long resident of the village passed peacefully away in the person of Augustus Coleman Warner. Although 77 years of age, he retained a much younger appearance and until a few months previous to his death was seldom ill.

On the 5th of May last he suffered a slight hemorrhage of the brain, and after six weeks in bed, seemed to be regaining his usual health, so that he was able to sit outside the greater part of the day. But one morning, eleven days previous to his death, he suffered another severe stroke, from which he never rallied, and although loving hands did all in their power to ease his sufferings he gradually weakened and sank until the end came.

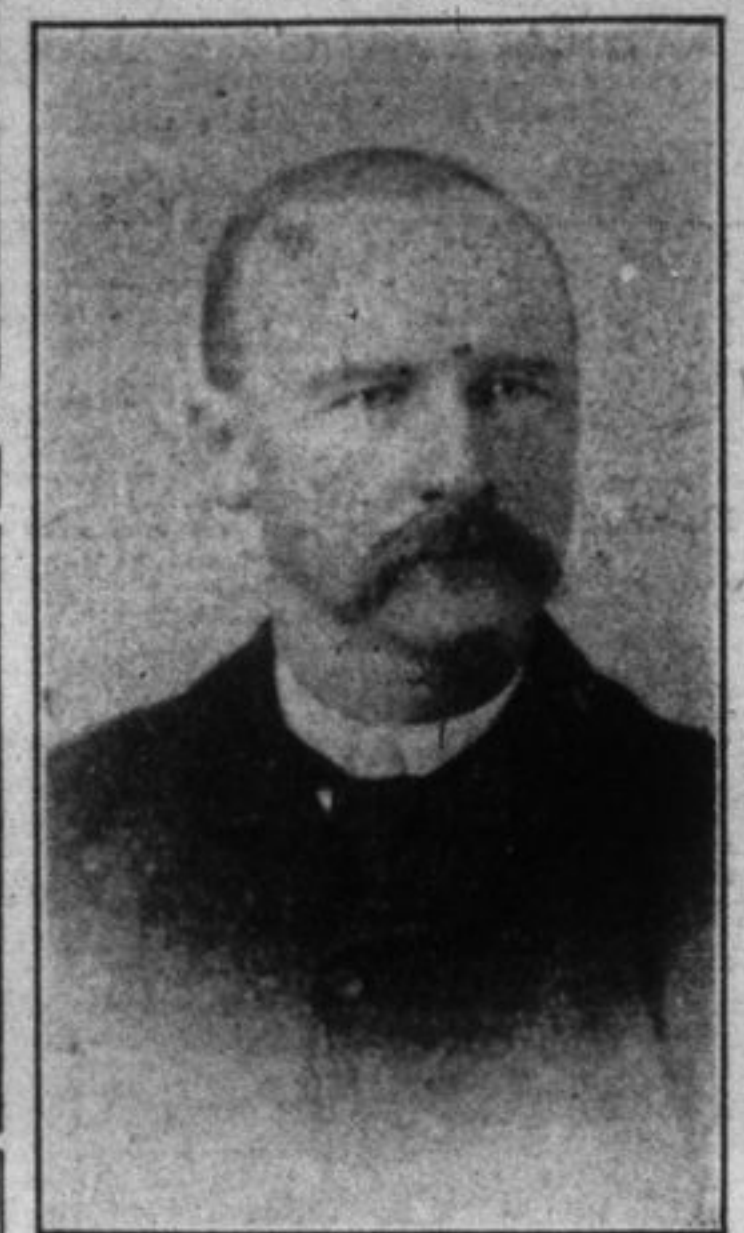

He was born in Camden East Township, and when he was three years of age his parents removed to Colebrook, where practically his entire life has been spent.

In 1876 he married Miss Jane Garrison, daughter of the late George Garrison, Moscow, who survives him. His surviving children are: Arthur H. Avonlea, Sask.; Mrs. Harold Anderson, Napanee; Mrs. Stinson Martin, Ottawa; and Misses Georgie and Mary, at home.

The funeral took place at "Warnerheim," his late home in Colebrook, on Tuesday, July 18th, at 2 p.m., and the remains were interred in the family plot at Moscow cemetery. Rev. Mr. Banner, of Yarker, officiated, taking as his text, "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints."

The floral tributes were beautiful, and included the following: Wreath of orchids, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson, Napanee; sheaf of roses, Mr. and Mrs. T. Windover and Mr. and Mrs. W. Exley, Napanee; large wreath of roses, C. N. R. employees, Ottawa; spray of wheat and roses, W. S. Holmes, Ottawa; cross, carnations and sweet peas, Mr. and Mrs. Ross McRae, Kingston; roses and sweet peas, Mrs. Kelly, Napanee. A large upright cross and anchor from wife and children were placed at the head of the casket.

The pallbearers were: Thomas Keyes, Andrew Galbraith, Harry Woodruff, Norman Boyce, Edward McNeil and Isa Salisbury.

Of English Descent.

The late Mr. Warner was of United Empire Loyalist descent. Paternally he was a descendant of English forefathers, being a grandson of the late Stephen Warner, whose ancestors were supposedly English, and who prior to 1812 lived near Saratoga, N.Y. Then moved to South Fredericksburgh, and finally settled in the 7th concession of Ernestown. His father, the late Charles Warner, came to Colebrook, then called Peter's Mills, in 1842. He bought lot 45, on which the mills were situated, and lot 44, built the first store, installed new machinery in the mill and laid out the land along the river in village lots. Day and night shifts of men were employed in the mill, and 750,000 feet of lumber was the yearly average. The logs were floated down the river from timber lands north of here. It is interesting to note that in those days sawdust and salts were regarded as waste material and were allowed to drift away as best they could. As time went on these completely filled the river bed at the foot of the rapids below the mills, and destroyed the eddy there. The present generation is pulling out of that part of the river, between Colebrook and Yarker, the slabs that collected there over sixty years ago. The first grist mill built over seventy years ago by John Rouse, an Englishman, also passed into Charles Warner's hands. These combined with the potash business which was at its height, at the time, made this a flourishing little village. Charles' brother, Sidney, of Wilton, had two years previous to this, bought the Gorman Simcoe tract, which comprised about three thousand acres of well wooded and well watered land, lying directly south of what is now the village of Colebrook, and on part of which the village of Yarker now stands. In 1851 Charles petitioned the Government for a post office. This was the first post office in this section and the only one for several miles around and was given the name Colebrook in honor of his oldest child Coleman, then a lad of twelve years. The large stone residence known as "Warnerheim" was built in the east side of the river in 1855 and has been the home of different members of the Warner family ever since. In 1860, Charles who was at that time a lieutenant was made made captain in the second battalion of the Addington Militia and died in 1885. His mother, Hannah Wartman, of the Township of Kingston, was married to Charles Warner in Kingston in 1837, by George Stuart, L. D., rector of St. George's church. Their children were Coleman, born 1839, died 1916, Sidney, born 1841; died 1887, and Callista, born 1843; died 1894. She was a direct descendant of Abraham Wartman, born in Amsterdam, Holland, in 1735 and of Christiana, his wife, of noble birth, born 1738, only child of Bartholdt, of the house of Wessenberg, Germany, born in 1698. This couple came to New York from Germany in 1758 and settled in Tunkanoach, Pa. In 1812 they sided with the English, came to Canada and finally settled near Kingston.

In Mercantile Business.

The late Coleman Warner was engaged in the mercantile business here, practically since his boyhood. In the early days the nearest wholesale warehouses were located in Montreal and frequent trips had to be made there, principally by boat, to replenish depleted stock. At later days, warehouses sprang up in nearby cities and the Montreal trips were not necessary. About fifteen years ago he retired from active business life. He was one of the oldest operators in the service of the G. N. W. Telegraph Company, having had charge of the office here over thirty years.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist Church over thirty years, trustee of church and public school for many years, a member of the A. O. U. W. Lodge and a life-long Liberal. He received his early education at Newburgh Academy, which was one of the first grammar schools in the province, and in that day one of the most noted. The writer has often heard the late Mr. Warner speak of old school chums from the Bahama Islands and other parts of the globe who came to Newburgh for their early education. He often related little anecdotes concerning the first school house in Colebrook built more than sixty years ago on the concession line between the first and second concessions of Camden, which has since been removed to the west side of the river, where the present school now stands, and of the first church built in 1874, which still stands, also of when the village was swept by a disastrous fire in 1877. The store he then occupied was burned although it was rebuilt later. However, the fire practically destroyed the village, and it seems as if it never regained its former busy life.

Deceased was a man of extremely quiet and retiring disposition and a great lover of home and family. He was happy in having his wife and four daughters in attendance at his bedside during his last illness. He was a member of the National Geographic Society of Washington, D.C., and an innate love of nature manifested itself in his quiet, unassuming way he amused himself by sowing seeds along the river's edge for food for wild birds and planting shrubs and trees to beautify its banks. He was highly esteemed by all as a Christian gentleman and by his death Colebrook has lost an honest and upright citizen and a member of a family which has been connected with the life of the village since its earliest days.

THOUSANDS OF MEN

PLEASANT LAWN PARTY

WAS HELD AT HOME OF MR. AND MRS. R. PATTERSON.

The Little Folks Enjoyed the Afternoon Events With Games and Races—A Musical Programme Presented in the Evening.

An exceedingly pleasant lawn party was held on August 1st at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Patterson, Pittsburg township.

In the afternoon from 3 till 4 o'clock Masters Gordon, George and Reginald Patterson entertained about thirty of their little friends, when games and races of various kinds were held.

Among the prize-winners were Alma Trotter, Helen Franklin, Alice Cowan, Wilma Hyland, Noreen Franklin, Reginald Patterson, Kenneth Burns, Karl Burns, Ben Gordon.

After the races were over, refreshments were served on the lawn.

In the evening a number of adult guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Patterson. A musical programme was given, which included piano selections by Miss Jessie Maitland, Mrs. R. Patterson, Mrs. George Franklin, Mrs. Chester Cowan, Miss Mina McClymont (Ottawa), Mrs. Arthur Thompson; vocal selections by Mrs. R. Patterson, Mrs. W. J. Franklin, Mrs. Chester Cowan, Mrs. Arthur Thompson, Mrs. George Franklin, Miss Jessie Maitland, Mrs. A. Cowan, Master Franklin Cowan, Master Regie Patterson, and Master Harry Franklin; violin selections by George Franklin.

Among the guests were Rev. C. W. Hollister and wife. The enjoyable gathering broke up about 10.30 o'clock, all present extending thanks to the host and hostess.

JUMPED OFF A STEAMER

POLICE TOOK IN CHARGE YOUNG MAN AS UNDESIRABLE

After He Got Off Vessel and Tried to Make His Escape—Spent Night in Cells and Was Taken Across Border on Morning Boat.

The authorities at border points are keeping a sharp look-out to see that no "undesirables" get into Kingston.

When the boat from Cape Vincent arrived in the city on Wednesday night a young fellow rounded up as an "undesirable" was under the care of the immigration officers. He was given a room to sleep in during the night, as it was his intention to land here over the next day.

However, the young man thought he would take matters into his own hands, and when he thought the coast was clear he jumped off the boat and made a bee-line for the police station for the night.

Constable John Naylor was called, and he took the man to the lock-up, where he spent the night, and on Thursday morning he was taken across the border.

HUSBAND WAS WOUNDED

MESSAGE FOR TORONTO WOMAN CAME HERE BY MISTAKE.

"Nothing Too Good For the Canadians," Says Pte. J. F. McCann, Who Is Laid Up in An Hospital in London—Doctors and Nurses Doing Good Work.

As the result of a message being sent to Toronto instead of Toronto, Pte. J. F. McCann, was late in getting word that her husband, Pte. J. F. McCann, had been wounded. Through some mix-up the message which should have gone to Toronto was forwarded to Kingston. Some time was spent in endeavoring to locate Pte. McCann, but eventually the message was sent on to Toronto, as it was believed that Mrs. McCann lived there, and as a result she was soon located.

Pte. McCann was wounded last May, and is at present in No. 4 General Hospital, London, Eng. He speaks in the highest terms of the whole-hearted desire of nurses and doctors to minister to the needs of the wounded men in their care. "Nothing is too good for the Canadians," said the wounded man. Before enlisting, McCann was employed as a clerk with J. C. Hayes at Toronto. He is thirty-eight years of age, and has a wife and one son. He is known by a number of Kingstontians.

Appointed Justice of Peace.

George William Prescott, of 507 Huron street, Toronto, has been appointed by Sir John Strathairn Hendie, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, to be a Justice of the Peace for the City of Toronto and County of York.

Oscar Renaud, a soldier of the 156th Battalion, from Barrfield camp, was given ten months with hard labor in the Ontario Reformatory by Magistrate O'Keefe in Ottawa police court for stealing $40 worth of clothing.

A war anniversary service is also to be held in St. Bon's church at 8 a.m. Friday, when Canon FitzGerald will celebrate Holy Communion.

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid in the blood, which affects the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive process. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood, and improves the digestion. Don't suffer. Get Hood's today.
