BOSTON MAY BE THE SCENE

OF THE ENTIRE WORLD'S BASEBALL SERIES.

Red Sox and Braves Threaten to Bring to Hub Annual Classic Next October — Champions in Front With Long Home Stay.

The New York Herald says: Baseball prognosticators who last spring selected Boston as the city to entertain next October America's "fans" are beginning to realize complete satisfaction in their early predictions.

Just at present William Carrigan's world champion Red Sox have only a slight lead over several struggling fighting combinations and the Braves have still to climb to the top rung; but close followers of the game can see greater strength, better spirit and a clearer right to the ultimate honors in the two Boston outfits than in any other aggregation in the chase.

There seems little hope for the other American League clubs, inasmuch as the Red Sox climbed to the lead away from home and while on foreign shores. Any club that can wrest the laurels from a rival while fighting in that rival's own back yard exhibits a victorious aim that universally is recognized.

STILL ANOTHER TRACK.

Sam Holman to Open New Half-Mile At Montreal.

Montreal will have still another one-half mile race track in full operation in a few days. Sam Holman, general manager of the King Edward half-mile and Dorval one-mile race courses, who was asked to retire from the latter in favor of Capt. Presgrave, a week or more ago, is to blame.

Holman has signed the leases for the land necessary for the new track. It is stated that he was going to be forced out of the Dorval track management if he got his friends together and laid his lines for the establishment of a new track. His charter, it is said, is the oldest racing charter in existence here, and was given by the late Queen Victoria herself.

Pittsburg Recall Smith. Barney Dreyfus, president of the Pittsburg Nationals, announced yesterday the recall of Pitcher Hill and infielder McAuley and sign from the Rochester International League Club, and infielder Smith from the Toronto Club of the same league.

PLANK'S UNIQUE WAY

Steps Off Rubber Before Delivering the Ball.

"I have been pitching this way for sixteen years," said Eddie Plank, when called to task the other day for stepping off the rubber before delivering the ball.

His endless delays fret the batters and amuse the fans. The former Mackman's routine in delivery is approximately as follows: Hitches belt, adjusts cap, walks back to box in half circle, steps on rubber with left foot and taps right foot to ground eight times when ball is delivered to batter, tucks in shirt with every third ball pitched, gazes into sky over third base on every called ball, dislodges imaginary pibles in pitcher's box every time batter has three balls and one strike, or three and two.

DIBBLE IS READY

To Race the New United States Sculling Champion.

News of the defeat of John B. Kelly, the Philadelphia sculler, who was looked on as a prospective opponent for Lieut. Bob Dibble, was received from Duluth with much interest and some surprise. The new champion, Thomas Rooney, of the Ravenswood oBAt Club of Brooklyn, will be just as welcome, if he is willing to meet the Canadian champion.

Nat Scholes, who is looking after the preparation of Dibble, said: "We hardly expected that Kelly would retain his title, but what we want to decide is the best amateur sculler in America, and if Rooney is the United States champion we will be very glad if he can accommodate Dibble with a race over a mile and a half course, Kempenfelt Bay, at Barrie, is the logical course, and is neutral water for both."

"We would like to know about the 16th of September."

LETH GRAHAM WOUNDED.

Ottawa Hockey Club Player in Trent Bridge Hospital.

Word was received of the wounding, somewhere in France, of Gunner Latham A. Graham, of Ottawa. He is in the Trenbridge Hospital, Nottingham, suffering from a gunshot wound in his right shoulder.

This is none other than "Leth" Graham, the well known young forward of the Ottawa Hockey Club. He went overseas in the fall of 1915 with an artillery unit, in which were Harry Broadbent, Cecil Dewar and other local athletes. They have been in France since last spring and have evidently been through some of the heaviest fighting.

IN FAVOR OF BOXERS.

Contest of Speed and Skill is Not "Prize-fight."

The charge against Frankie Fleming, the Montreal featherweight, and Eddie Wallace, of New York, of having engaged in a prize fight in Montreal on the night of June 21 last, preferred by John H. Roberts of the Montreal Vigilance Committee, was dismissed by Judge Saint Cyr.

The judge in his decision quoted from the Encyclopedia Britannica the definition of boxing, and he ruled that the affair in question was a boxing bout.

Disallow Player's Claim.

The National Baseball Commission disallowed the claim of Player H. L. Chancey, of the Macon, Ga., club, to eleven days' pay from the Boston National League club. The committee held that Chancey requested his unconditional release, and that in accommodating him the Boston club should not be held for the ten days' salary which under ordinary conditions is due a player from the day of his release.

Detroit Gets Vancouver Player.

Announcement has come from President Bob Brown, of the Northwestern League team, that Jack Calvo, the Cuban outfielder and general all-round star of the Beavers, has been disposed of to the Detroit Americans. Calvo leaves Vancouver for San Francisco, where, under the orders of Hughie Jennings, he will finish the present season of baseball. He is to report to Detroit in the spring.

Play Ball in Venezuela.

That the American national game of baseball is becoming popular in South America is vouched for by the report of a game played recently at Rio Chico, Venezuela. The opposing teams were a native nine of Rio Chicoan players and an American team made up from the crew of the steamship Alpha, which had been purchased from a Philadelphia concern by a wealthy Venezuelan.

Ball Players Raise $1,500 Fund.

The Mobile and Chattanooga teams of the Southern Association raised a fund of $1,500 at an exhibition benefit game for the orphaned sister of Johnny Dodge, former Philadelphia and Cincinnati National player, who became a member of the Mobile team several months ago, and was killed by a pitched ball.

Relics of Old Baseball Teams.

Manager Joe Tinker and Pitcher Mordecai Brown are the only remaining players at present members of the famous club outfit of a few years ago. Connie Mack has only Amos Strunk, outfielder, and "Stuffy" McInnis of his world's famous combination remaining with the squad he is trying to reconstruct.

Fans in Newark are clamoring for the release of Tenney as manager, with Ben Egan to take his place. Tenney was a great player, but never meant to manage. He is a poor guesser.

BASEBALL BRIEFS.

Schacht has been released outright by Newark. He may pitch for Bill Clymer's Louisville team.

After Eddie Plank's comeback it looks as if John L. Sullivan, Louis XVI. and Julius Caesar all have a chance.

The cry in the American league is "Watch the Browns." They are coming along with the speed of an express train.

Some ball players consider it unlucky to be presented with a loving cup. We'd rather be handed a loving cup than the can.

Is the world series going to be staged in Boston? The Red Sox are in the lead and the Braves are only three games behind.

An umpire for twenty-five years and still alive and fairly cheerful! The combined hats of the universe should be doffed to Mr. Emslie.

Bradley Koehler is catching all of the games for the Giants. Bill Raden had the index finger on his right hand badly split on Saturday last.

Old man Plank has allowed five hits in his last three games. He's showing many of the youngsters and other veterans that age doesn't tell in his case.

John McGraw, the Giants' boss, employs an effective though heartless method to make his pastimers behave. He threatens to trade 'em to St. Louis.

The full name of Thirdbaseman Betzel of the St. Louis Cards is Christian Frederick Albert John David Henry Betzel. Many a man is interned for less than that.

The Mackmen, before reaching New York, had lost 41 out of 43 games. There was a day when Nap Lajoie and "Stuffy" McInnis alone could have made a better showing than this!

Jimmy Viox, the most recent addition to the Leafs, is an infielder by trade. He will play the outfield for the present, but his acquisition is doubly welcome because of a scarcity of tried material for the first line of defence.

FAMOUS ATHLETES KILLED IN ACTION

Old Country's Bravest and Best Die With Faces to the Foe.

The latest casualty list contains the names of several more prominent British sportsmen who have fallen in action in the fighting on the western front, which sadly thins the ranks of stars in every branch of sport.

A well known polo player and a keen man to hounds was killed in Lieut.-Colonel Harold Brassey.

Lieutenant D'Arcy J. J. Harley, killed in action, won the long jump for Oxford at Queen's in 1911, covering 21 feet 5 inches, and was also on the University team which opposed Harvard.

Another athletic "blue" killed is Captain W. Thornton Wettenhall. In 1910 he won the quarter mile in the inter-variety sports and established fresh records for the 100 and 440 yards while at the City of London School.

Lieutenant J. Whittet, shot dead while gallantly leading his men to attack Troves Wood, rowed for Radley College at Henley regatta in 1914.

A crack polo player and a successful rider in point to point races and army steeplechases has been lost in Lieut.-Colonel O. S. Flower.

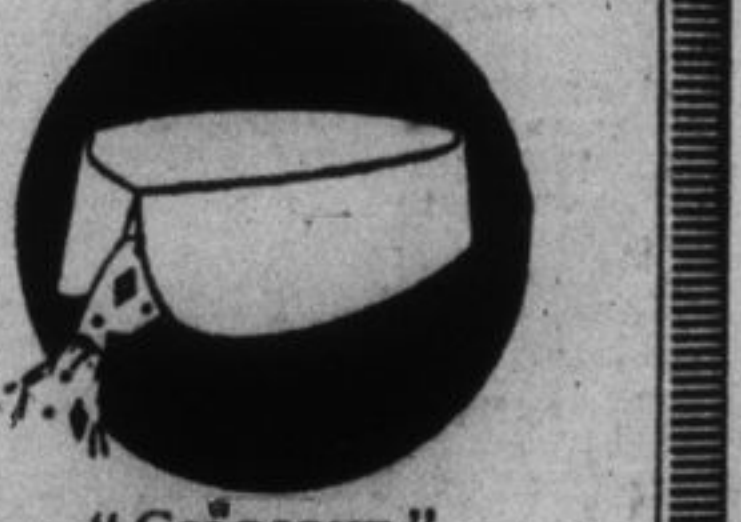

Lieut.-Colonel A. E. Fitzgerald, who has died of wounds was a son of the famous secretary of the Marlborough Cricket Club. The late R. A. Fitzgerald, who captained the team of Gentlemen of England which toured Canada in 1873.

Lieutenant Walton R. Wilson, who has made the big sacrifice, shot for his school at Bisleigh and represented Cambridge on several occasions.

Lieut. E. Milroy, of the Black Watch, is reported as missing. He captained the last Scottish fifteen in the international rugby games and is the nineteenth Scottish rugby "cap" reported killed or missing.

A famous rowing captain has been killed in action in Captain J. A. R-1 son, who rowed in the winning Cambridge eight against Oxford in 1914.
