QUEEN'S DEFEATED C.L.C.

BY CLOSE SCORE OF 3 TO 2 IN GAME ON SATURDAY

College Boys Nosed Out Victory In Good Match In Kingston Amateur League—Red Socks Won From St. Mary's In Junior Series.

Fresh from their holidays, Queen's got into harness again on Saturday afternoon, and won the ball game from C.L.C. in the Kingston Amateur League, by the close score of 3 to 2.

It was a good game, in which honors were about even, the college boys putting up a little more "pep" than enough to nose out a victory. Wilfrid served up the slants for Queen's, and played a horse of a game. His work was good all the way through the piece, in fact it was his "bit" that pulled the university squad to victory.

Purtell, the old stand-by for C.L.C., put them over the pan in great style. He was credited with his best game of the season. He worked fine all through the season. Queen's had a new man behind the bat, in the person of Bert Hunt, of hockey fame, and he showed the fans that he was just as good at baseball as hockey.

He was a two-bagger, which helped a whole lot. Purvis, the speedy little shortstop for the college nine, whalloped the pill for a home run, but he ran wild on the second pillow, making the circuit without touching this bag, and was called out. Eccles and Swarts had their batting togs on, and each gathered in two hits. A strange feature of the set-to was the fact that McCulla scored the two runs for the C.L.C., while Swarts had the honor of tallying the three runs for Queen's.

As a result of this win for Queen's. We have to hand it to "Doc" Mundell for being some prophet. "Doc" who has been playing first base for several games for Queen's, announced before the game that his team was going to put it over "Nipper" Matthews' farm hands, and he did his share of rooting to bring home the bacon.

Smith was a new man behind for C.L.C. and his work was good. He was there with the stick too, knocking out two hits. O'Connor played his best game of the season at short and came across with two hits, while McCulla, without doubt the best all round player of the league, also got a couple of hits, and pulled off some big league work in his throwing to first base.

He is a clean, fast player, and the man who gets first on his "pick-up" has to go some. Summer-ville and Clark shared in the batting honors. Wilfrid had eight "strike-outs" to his credit, while Purtell fanned five. Hugh Shanahan was the umpire.

Jack Barry never ranked among the great hitters of the game, but at no stage of his major league career did he bat at such a low figure as at present. In eighty games Barry has batted at a .199 clip.

George Burns of the Giants and Jake Daubert of the Robins are far ahead of all other national league players in scoring runs. Burns is likely to be the first across the century mark, but it will likely be some time before George turns in his century sprint.

Frank Gilhooley continues to hold second place in base-running in the American League despite his long absence from the game. The little Yankee outfielder averaged one stolen base for every three games up to the time of his injury, and Cobb is the only player in the league to do better.

"Ty" Cobb's fight to overtake Tris Speaker and keep his long record as the leading batsman intact grows more difficult with each succeeding game. Tris has a big lead and refuses to slump.

Markie will remain with the Toronto Leafs until the end of the season. Brady will probably be returned to the Highlanders at once.

It is rumored that Washington will not be in the American League next year. The Senators will be lucky if they do not drop out this season, as only the week-fibred Mackmen prevent them from falling through.

Baker and Pipp each have eight circuit punches to their credit, while the next two in the American League are Felsch and Graney, with five each. In the National League, Williams, of the Cubs, leads the home run count with ten. The once mighty Casner Crath is no longer among the first ten sluggers of his corral.

"Out of the race?" says Donovan. "Why? We won 21 out of 24 games before we were shot to pieces. Most of the cast will be back in by Monday, with Shocker tacked on. We are only about six games from the top, and we have the pitchers that can stop any club in the business. And there are still 50 games left. Watch our smoke."

BASEBALL BRIEFS.

It is rumored that Zimmerman, third baseman of the Chicago Cubs, may become a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

John McGraw predicts that the French will adopt baseball as a popular pastime after the war, and he thinks they will speedily develop some great players.

The western clubs in the big leagues, formerly the pace-setters, have been out of it for several years. The Detroit Americans of 1909 and the Chicago Nationals of 1910, were the last western clubs to cop a pennant.

New York, Boston and Philadelphia have won the National League gongalon in succession. Col. Ebbets figures that it is now Brooklyn's turn, if there is to be a fair division of the spoils among the eastern clubs. As for the west, Gen. Ebbets says they may whistle.

Rube Marquard is said to bitterly hate John McGraw, and he is also alleged to have it in for some of his former teammates of the Brooklyn Dodgers. But we know one former Giant that Rube doesn't hate, never has hated, and never will hate.

It was a sorry day for the Giants when Al Demaree was traded to the Phillies. Demarre has won at least a dozen games from McGraw's men, with one defeat, since his departure.

The Boston Braves can justly be called the Hitless Wonders. Pitching, fielding and pugnacity have kept them in the race.

Tris Speaker drew a total of $36,000 in salary from the Red Sox in 1914 and 1915 and will have received $15,000 from the Cleveland Club but he helped President Dunn to put away a big bank roll.

Connie Mack told the critics that his ball club might be expected to show some real form by August. Connie's team certainly did not "arrive" in advance, but they have already done better in August than in the entire month of July.

Red Smith is the only regular of the Boston Braves who is batting .300. He is also the only one listed at 360. He has made his count, his collection including thirteen doubles, seven triples and a home run.

Jack Barry never ranked among the great hitters of the game, but at no stage of his major league career did he bat at such a low figure as at present. In eighty games Barry has batted at a .199 clip.

George Burns of the Giants and Jake Daubert of the Robins are far ahead of all other national league players in scoring runs. Burns is likely to be the first across the century mark, but it will likely be some time before George turns in his century sprint.

THE PONIES WIN AGAIN

THEY HAD THE BEST OF IT IN CITY SERIES

Gallagher, Pitcher, Was in Good Form and Was Well Supported—He Also Made A Home Run.

A much larger crowd was at the cricket field on Saturday last than at any City League ball game in a long time. They were not disappointed in the brand of ball handed out and, although somewhat ragged at times, the game was interesting. The Ponies won out by a score of 6 to 1.

The Ponies had the advantage as could be plainly seen. Gallagher was in the best form he has been in this year. He held the Vics down to four hits only one of which was more than a one-bagger. He was given good support by all of the team except Daley who, at first, seemed to be a little wild and piled up three errors for himself.

The Vics got their one, and only, run in the first innings when Laird came in on a single of Sommerville. However, they played good ball and the old timers used their heads to good advantage. Saunders at third could not get near the ball either in his hitting or fielding. Baker played a very good game in the left field but Weaver, a new man at right, did not shine. Grace, the pitcher, allowed the Ponies to knock the pill all over the field and was replaced in the sixth by Gillespie who finished in great style.

The Ponies started to load up the runs in the first when Vics went up in the air and got three of the four errors they are credited with. J. Stewart and Daley started the firing. When Weaver muffed and fumbled the ball at right field, in the third Gallagher smashed the ball for a homer, and in the fourth C. Stewart went the rounds scoring Swain but was nipped himself at the home plate, after shooting the ball past left basket. In the seventh they got two more. C. Stewart shot another three-bagger and came home on a nice light hit of Daley. J. Stewart followed when Saunders was thrown out. This completed the runs. The teams were:

Ponies—C. Stewart, 3b; J. Stewart, 1f; Daley, ss; Saunders, 2b; Gallagher, p; Walsh, 1b; Evans, cf; Cherry, rf; Swain, cf.

Victorias—Laird, 1b; Dick, ss; Baked, lf; Sommerville, 2b; Taber, c; V. Saunders, 3b; Gillespie, cf and p; Grace, p and cf; Weaver, rf.

BASEBALL PUZZLES—PEOPLE OF ENGLAND Paper Says the Chief Object Seems to Maim Your Opponent.

Baseball is beautifully misunderstood in England judging from an account which recently appeared in an English newspaper of an exhibition of the American pastime given by some Canadian soldiers here in Brighton.

About 120 Canadian soldiers arrived in Brighton and have recently and their coming was made the occasion of a festive holiday with speeches, refreshments, etc. For the entertainment of their hosts the soldiers staged several athletic contests including a game of baseball.

This is how the reporter for the Brighton Herald saw the game: "The great attraction was the baseball match. It struck a mere Briton that if Canadians look upon baseball as fun it is no wonder that they take the dangers of the trenches so light-heartedly. To an outsider it would appear that the great thing in baseball is to stun your opponent. The pitcher grips a ball about the size of a cricket ball and quite as hard. This, without any preliminary warning, he hurls with all his strength at the batsman's head. If the batsman is lucky he ducks out of the way. If he is luckier still, he hits it and sometimes sends it sailing into the crowd. If the ball escapes both batsman and bat, it is caught by a player on duty for the purpose. He is suitably armored for the purpose of escaping with his life from the game. His head and face are enclosed within iron bars, his chest is heavily padded, and he wears gloves that would make a boxer look small. The fielders are also protected with gloves. Otherwise the game resembles our homey rounders. Several men receive what seem to be nasty blows during the course of the game, but only one man encountered a real injury, breaking his finger while catching the ball. Possibly it was for this small amount of casualties that accounted for the fact that no score was kept and no one could say which of the two sides engaged, Montreal or St. Johns had won.

Would Take Entire Team. Speaking of the wholesale big league recalls from the International League, here is the case of Rochester. Should the Giants exercise all their options and the St. Louis Browns their, the Rochester owners would have a baseball plant, a franchise and a pitcher to carry over the winter. The Hustlers have a clear title to Fred Herasche. Their claim to Tommy Laseh's services expires at the end of the 1916 contest.

Sing Sing has a baseball league, but all games are played on the home grounds.
