MORTALITY AMONG BABIES

HAS BEEN VERY LOW IN KINGSTON THIS YEAR.

Only Nine Have Died From Cholera Infantum—Great Care Should be Taken by Mothers to Preserve Infant's Health.

Several of the leading undertakers in the city express the opinion that the mortality among babies this year is low when compared with other years.
This is a surprising thing, but true nevertheless. Although cholera infantum has been prevalent, the death rate among babies has been very low. Most of the milk dealers are now pasteurizing their milk, and this lessens the danger from contamination.
One undertaker stated that in other years, when conditions were more favorable than this year, the death rate had been very much higher. He stated that in one day as many as six babies had been buried by his firm.

It is fortunate, therefore, that in spite of the extreme heat the mortality among infants should continue so low, and mothers that feel relieved to know that the danger has been lessened. Of course, during the hot spells much care must be taken to keep the babies cool, so that they will not die from exhaustion, which is a common form of ailment.
Of the thirty-four babies which have died since June 1st, only nine have died from cholera infantum, so that the dangers from this, although they must be recognized, are not as great as sometimes imagined.

This information is presented so that no unnecessary alarm need be caused mothers with young infants. Great care should, however, be taken to insure for them a healthy condition at this time.

LIQUOR MEN ARE JUBILANT HIT SOLDIER IN THE EYE

AND YOUNG MAN WAS FINED AT THE POLICE COURT.

ARE PLEASANT WITH DEWART'S ELECTION IN TORONTO

Regard it as Expression of Dissatisfaction With Government's Temperance Policy—Handwriting on the Wall.
The liquor men of the city are naturally much pleased with the election of H. H. Dewart, Liberal, in the southwest Toronto. They regard his election as a unmistakable indication that the people are dissatisfied with the present Government's temperance policy, and that they are beginning to realize that the Government went too far. The liquor men to emphasize the fact that the temperance vote cuts more in a parade than it does in the polling booths. A prominent liquor dealer stated to the Whig that Mr. Dewart's victory showed that elections were not won by the rabid politicians of either side, but by the silent thinking voter. The intelligent electors realized that strong men were needed in the Legislature at Toronto. The Government, he said, lacked men of statesmanship and strength. Strong interests of the people. The Hearst Government had rode roughshod over the interests of many landowners of the province.

The liquor man related the case of a local landlady who, at an expenditure of $15,000, recently fitted up her hotel property, the tenant spending another $2,000 or $3,000. Now, what would happen if he cancelled his lease, which he desired to do in three months if he so unenviable position. Her hotel could not very well rent for a store, a warehouse or for any other kind of business. In other words, the $15,000 which she recently spent to make the property more effective for hotelkeeping would be worse than thrown away. And this instance was only one of many that could be mentioned in the province.
In view of these facts, concluded the liquor man, strong men are needed at Toronto to safeguard the property interests of the people.
A leading hotelman said he was glad Dewart was elected because his election would demonstrate to the Government that it had pleased neither the liquor nor the temperance people. The Government, said the hotelman, should have consulted the people before adopting prohibition, or failing to do this, it should have allowed a beer and wine license, with the sale of liquor at certain hours. The electors, too, were condemning the Government for ignoring the commercial interests of many people in passing prohibition, and for throwing many people out of employment.

The liquor men are agreed that the election of Liberal in North Perth and in Southwest Toronto was the handwriting on the Hearst Government's wall, indicating its defeat at the next election.

ANOTHER LAWN SOCIAL HELD BY THE Y. W. C. A.

A Very Successful Event on Monday Evening—155th Band Present.

The lawn social held on the grounds of the Y.W.C.A. on Monday evening was very successful. The grounds and building were attractively decorated, and presented a charming sight.
There were a number of refreshment tables, and the many dainty things for sale were quickly bought. Two large blocks of ice, each weighing over one hundred pounds, were placed on the tables, and electric lights placed behind them.
The 155th band was in attendance, and under the direction of Bandmaster Hinchey, the thirty-eight bandmen discoursed sweet music throughout the evening.
Before the affair was brought to a close F. G. Lockett on behalf of the board of directors thanked the band and H. Breck, who had shown a number of stereotypical views during the evening, for their kindness in taking part in the programme.

LIQUOR MEN ARE JUBILANT HIT SOLDIER IN THE EYE

AND YOUNG MAN WAS FINED AT THE POLICE COURT.

Wilfrid Turcott Found That It Does Not Pay to Strike Man Wearing the King's Uniform—Three Young Taxi Drivers Were Fined.
Wilfrid Turcott, a young Kingstonian, paid dearly in the police court on Tuesday morning for striking another young fellow wearing the King's uniform. It was shown that without any provocation whatever he struck a blow that made the other fellow start for a few minutes. John B. Papat was the "other fellow," and he had a witness to corroborate his story, although it was not necessary, as the accused pleaded "guilty." However, the magistrate desired to get the particulars of the case.

Papat said that he came out of an hotel, and as he reached the door Turcott was coming out, and it was just at this point that Turcott landed the man in khaki a punch in the eye. The soldier had court plaster over his left eye. Turcott also exhibited a black eye, but the story surrounding this was not brought out in the police court.

Corporal J. E. Freeman was sitting in the recruiting booth on Princess street when the row occurred, and he said that the soldier's story of the affair was true. The magistrate said that the fine would be $15 and costs, with the option of one month in jail. Langley Bird, Joseph Wallace and Thomas McKay, three young taxi drivers, who have only been on the job a short time, and who were over anxious to get fares at the outer station, and went on to the platform and solicited passengers, were fined $1 and costs each. They pleaded guilty. They were summoned as a result of an investigation made by W. M. Tisdale, acting for the Grand Trunk.

Joseph B. Abramson was charged by Charles W. Keller with refusing to pay wages, but as all parties concerned were not ready to go on with the case, it was enlarged till Friday.

HOTEL DIEU FLAG DAY REALIZED $1,408.88

The Contributions by the Public Last Saturday Were Most Liberal.

On Saturday, August 19th, the members of the Hotel Dieu Ladies' Auxiliary had a very successful flag day. About one hundred and fifty young ladies and wee maids took possession of the dainty white and blue decorated contribution boxes, and very few of the passersby refused their earnest appeal to "Buy a flag." Both the solicitors and donors entered with generosity and earnestness into the spirit of the charitable work. When the tired workers brought their boxes to the hospital in the evening they were pleasantly surprised to find they had netted the creditable sum of $1,408.88 clear, the expenses having been collected previous to the event. Coffee and refreshments were served the Ladies' Auxiliary and their assistants by the grateful sisters, who cordially thank all who contributed to make the day such a success. To their many kind friends, and in fact the general public, who responded so generously to this appeal, as in the past, the sisters are deeply grateful.
The success of this movement is due mainly to its organization, which reflects much credit on the energetic and zealous president and staff of officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Fence Around Hotel Dieu Property Cannot Be Removed.
With regard to the letter of "J.H.", which appeared in Monday's Whig, suggesting that the old wooden fence around the Hotel Dieu property should be replaced by a wire fence to improve the place, it is learned upon enquiry that the Hotel Dieu grounds cannot be entirely thrown open owing to the fact that there are in that institution cloistered nuns whose vows require them to remain in privacy. If the wooden fence was removed, it would have to be replaced by one of stone just as high.
