WALDRON'S

HAD A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

SAPPER NELSON McCARTNEY VICTIM OF MACHINE GUN FIRE.

Now Laid Up in St. Bartholomew Hospital in London, But is Getting Along Nicely — Queen's Man Has Warm Praise for Work of Red Cross Society.

That Sapper Nelson McCartney, Queen's man, serving with Queen's Engineers, at the front, had a miraculous escape from death, when he was recently wounded, has just been learned, in a letter received by his aunt, Miss Perce McCartney, of 231 University Avenue.

Sapper McCartney is in St. Bartholomew Hospital, in the heart of London, Eng. He was hit in the upper part of the right arm and the fact that he was not wounded in the spine or lung is remarkable, as he was the victim of machine gun fire. He is getting along nicely, is receiving the very best of care, and the doctor attending him states that there is nothing to prevent a quick recovery. This is very pleasing news to his relatives and most of his friends in this city, as in and out of college he was a very popular young man. The doctor told him that his escape was nothing more than a miracle.

The gallant young fighter, who was under constant shelling from last September until July 28th, says that he cannot speak too highly of the work of the Red Cross Society, and also of the work of the Queen's men with whom he was fighting. After he was wounded, his comrades gave him the very best of attention.

NOT HANDWRITING, BUT SCARE TYPE.

"The handwriting is on the wall for the Tory party after that Toronto election," said a citizen to another at the Whig bulletin this morning. "It's not handwriting," was the ready response, "it's big scare type that's on the wall."

IS ROUMANIA JOINING THE ALLIED FORCES?

The Teutons Reported to be Serving Her With an Ultimatum.

London, Aug. 22.—Roumania is reported to have sent a note with the Entente. No formal declaration has yet been made, but the situation is regarded so seriously in Berlin that the Central Empires are said to be preparing an ultimatum.

Great importance is attributed to a conference between the Roumanian Minister for War and the Russian Military Attache at Bucharest on Sunday. The Kreuz Zeitung of Berlin is quoted in a Copenhagen despatch as expressing the supposition that the conference was held to discuss a plan of campaign. Russia, it is said, will send armies to co-operate with Roumania in a march into Serbia, taking the Germans and Bulgarians in the rear.

"Germany must regard such a conference as a casus-belli," the newspaper is quoted as saying.

RECRUITING SCHEME COMING INTO FORCE

Early in September—Buttons for Munition Workers and the Ineligible.

Major G. I. Campbell, chief recruiting officer for Military District No. 3, arrived in the city on Monday afternoon, after a trip through the district in the interest of recruiting. He left on Tuesday noon for Cornwall.

It is expected that the new system, which has just been authorized by an order-in-council, will go into effect in the first part of September. By the new system ineligible men and munition workers and any other man who has a reason for not taking part in any patriotic activities will be given a button, giving exemption from services in the army, and also a card. Definite instructions from Ottawa regarding the new scheme are expected at any time now, along with the buttons and cards.

OBITUARY

Late Miss Sadie Peo. On Monday the death occurred in the General Hospital of Miss Sadie Peo, aged twenty-eight years, following an operation for appendicitis. The remains were sent to Cape Vincent on Tuesday morning for interment.

The Late Felix Lennon. Felix Lennon, a well-known citizen of Kingston, passed away on Tuesday at noon at his home on Barrie street from heart failure. The deceased was about fifty-seven years of age and for years was fireman at the Waterworks pump-house. He was a Roman Catholic in religion.

Canadian Casualties. Wounded—B. C. Clark, J. J. Smith, Peterboro; F. Ford, Napanee; F. M. Hockey, Portland; A. Viancourt, Pembroke. Gassed—H. Elliott, Belleville.

Canadian Peaches. A six-quart basket for 50c all this week at Carnovsky's.

The little boy of Mrs. Plumb, of Portsmouth, was bitten in the thigh by a dog belonging to a resident of the village, and County Magistrate Hunter on Tuesday issued an order that the dog be killed or removed from the municipality.

TORONTO ELECTS HARTLEY DEWART.

(Continued from page 1.) Liberal candidate on an advanced progressive platform. He rallied around him hundreds of younger workers in the Liberal party, and made a frank bid for the support of independent Conservatives desirous of improved conditions. Mr. Dewart declined to make prohibition an issue, as a result of which the brewing interests allied themselves with the Conservative candidate on his beer-and-wine declaration of policy. The hotel interests is said to have been divided among Messrs. Dewart, Norris and Waldron.

Hoped to Split the Vote. The presence of Gordon Waldron in the field as an Independent Liberal and M.A. Comer, the Social Democrat, as a strict prohibitionist, was counted upon by the Conservative organization to helplessly split the opposition vote and insure the election of Norris. Mr. Dewart, however, polled a larger vote than that of his three opponents combined.

The street scenes when the result became known were picturesque and enthusiastic. A huge procession of thousands escorted the new member round the principal downtown streets and to various newspaper offices. There was a band, a big torchlight procession, and with horns and flags the paraders gave vent to their joy.

Liberal Enthusiasm Swells. "It is not my victory," said Hartley Dewart, K.C., M.P.F., when interviewed after the results had been announced. "It is the people's victory. I am proud to have been chosen by the people themselves. I only want to add this. If there are any cynical politicians who still think I am not in earnest in the matters I placed before the electors, let me ask them to follow my course and see. I intend to fight with Sir Adam Beck for municipal control of the great Hydro-electric enterprise through Sir Adam and a Commission, and I intend to continue the fight for Canadian rights in respect of Ontario's nickel production. The people elected me to serve them. I intend, to the best of my ability, to do so."

Toronto's New Member. Whether on the political platform, upon which he has appeared for upwards of twenty-five years, in the court room, or among his hosts or friends, H. Hartley Dewart has been for years a conspicuous figure in Toronto, and far beyond. The son of the late Rev. Dr. Dewart, former editor of The Christian Guardian, Mr. Dewart comes honestly by his forceful personality and felicity of speech. His appearances in public have been as frequent as could be accomplished by a busy and prosperous lawyer, and his suave and genial personal qualities have won for him many friends. Mr. Dewart is a speaker of logic and grace, and he has assisted many a candidate in the Liberal cause. He is known far and wide for his legal services, and within recent months he represented the Liberals in the prosecution of the small-arms charges at Ottawa, when he had lively tilts with Sir Sam Hughes.

Mr. Dewart was born at St. Johns, Que., in 1861, educated in Toronto, was called to the Bar in 1887, and was Crown Attorney for the county of York from 1891 to 1904.

THEATRICAL NEWS

Mao Murray At Grand.

The excellent bill at the Grand Opera House last evening attracted a large crowd to its well-cooled auditorium. Charming Mao Murray appeared in "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," a beautiful and exciting romance of the powdered wig and courtly manners. Among those supporting Miss Murray are: James Neill, Tom Forman, Lucille Young, and Horace B. Carpenter. Other pictures were a two-reel Universal feature, "The Iron Rivals," a comedy, "Dark Suspicion," and the Paramount Topical Budget. In the vaudeville was seen George and Nettie, a clever pair who presented an act of superior acrobatics, hoop manipulating, and tumbling. This same bill will be repeated to-night and to-morrow.

At the Strand. Edmund Breece, the great screen star and interpreter of Alaskan roles, was shown in that famous piece of Robert W. Service, "The Spell of the Yukon," at the Strand last night. This picture is easily one of the finest ever shown on any screen. Other good subjects on the bill included a past drama, "The Man in Hiding," "The Self Tribune" of latest current events and a very clever vitagraph comedy, "Putting the Pep in Slowdown." Same bill to-night and to-morrow.

At Griffin's Photoplay Palace. In spite of the fact that yesterday was the hottest day of the year, large and appreciative audiences attended the Griffin Photoplay Palace to witness America's foremost actress, Clara Kimball Young, in "Tribby." It is safe to say that all were well repaid, as the production positively outclasses any other photoplay of its nature hitherto shown at this popular place of amusement. Clara Kimball Young is the American Bernhardt, and she gave no hesitation when we say that her name will go down the annals of time unforgettably. To-day is your last chance to see her in "Tribby." Commencing tomorrow for two days Nance O'Neil will be featured in the drama of international life, "Princess Romanoff." For the week-end, Frederick Perry comes to this theatre in "The Family Stain." Other big features are on the way. Watch for them.

Lake Ontario Park. As yesterday was a day of great humidity, large crowds visited Lake Ontario Park. Last night a first-class show was presented. On the screen was seen a three-reel feature, "Anselo Lee," a comedy, "Artful Artists," and the Pathe News. The vaudeville was good. Pete Baker, a character comedian, sang "The Canadian That Likes His Beer," "I Haven't A Word To Say," a recitation on the present war in the cockney dialect, a song of nations in ten different dialects, and a comedy number. Miss Helen Walters sang in fine voice, "Good-Bye Sweetheart, Good-Bye," "Songs My Mother Used to Sing," and "She Was a Grand Old Lady." This bill will be repeated to-night.

ISSUE HANGS IN BALANCE (Special to the Whig.) Washington, August 22.—The greatest industrial struggle in the history of the country hangs in the balance to-day. As the situation stands this afternoon the railway employees have put their demands for an eight-hour day and time and half overtime in the hands of the President. He has put it up to the heads of the great systems. After an all-night session a select committee of the "big barons," appointed by two score executives, failed to reach any decision early to-day.

Sergeant Accidentally Killed. Camp Hughes, Man., Aug. 22.—Sergt. G. Osborne Bethell, 203rd Battalion, a son of Rev. Mr. Bethell, Wesley Methodist Church, Winnipeg, was accidentally shot and instantly killed yesterday while acting as assistant instructor of a class of musketry. A live cartridge clip in the rifle of one of the men he was instructing.

In Bivouac And Barracks (See also Page 9.)

Capt. Walter Lipman leaves Friday for Valcartier Camp to begin his medical duties.

"Jack" Goddard, "Chris" Fraser, and Stanley Cole, three Queen's men, have enlisted with the Engineers and are now training for commissions at Valcartier Camp. They expect to go overseas shortly. "Jack" Goddard played hockey for the Queen's team last winter. At present he is interested in baseball, and is managing and playing at the big camp.

A new battalion has been authorized to be raised in Peterboro County. It will be known as the 247th Battalion, and will be commanded by Major W. D. Johnston. This is the first new Ontario battalion which has been authorized in some time. The authorities are, except in special circumstances, taking the ground that present battalions must be filled up before new ones are authorized.

A meeting of the Artillery Athletic Association was held Monday night. It was decided to have a field meet on Thursday and an aquatic meet on Friday. The field meet will be held in front of the batteries' quarters and the aquatic meet at Cartwright's wharf.

Lieut. Graham, who was at Barriefield Camp last year conducting a School of Machine Gunnery, has returned and was in conference with headquarters Monday afternoon. He was overseas with the 2nd Battalion and wounded at Givenchy, and was brought back last year for instructional duty. He returned to the front, and is now again in Canada.

Poor-Street Watering. Complaints have been made to the Whig about the poor system one young fellow has of watering the downtown streets. On Monday afternoon while the dust was blowing around in clouds on Ontario street in front of the city building he was noticed to make three trips up and down Brock street, between Ontario and King streets, pouring water on the one block, while the other should have received some attention.

Vandals on Nelson Street. Residents on Nelson street have been taking great pains this season to make their lawns and gardens beautiful. For some time, however, they have been troubled by sneaky persons, who have torn up their beautiful flowers and destroyed the beds.
