TORONTO MEN HERE LOOKING FOR EASY MONEY ARRESTED

Were Given Until Noon by the Magistrate to Leave the City—A Charge of Theft Preferred Against James Elliott.

Edward Moore and Charles Lanchlin, Toronto "knights of the road," hit Kingston on Friday, and tried to make some easy money. They started to "hold up" people on Princess Street for their small change. Both had hard luck stories. Moore had his arm tied up, and his partner, on crutches, said his feet had been injured in an accident. Moore had over $6 on his person, in ten-cent pieces, when searched at the lockup, while his partner, who had not fared so well, had $1.50. The couple were regarded as undesirable, and were given until noon to start on their way to Toronto. Constables Arnel and Jenkins rounded them up.

That he did steal the sum of $90 from one Edward Gormley, was the charge James Elliott had to face. D. A. Givens was ready to go on with the prosecution, but Elliott asked to be remanded in order to give him a chance to secure a lawyer. The Magistrate accommodated him, putting the case over until Tuesday.

Elliott was searched at the police station, and a $10 bill was found in his boot. He was arrested by Constable Daniel McCarey.

Charles W. Kellar charged Joseph B. Abramson with the nonpayment of wages. Kellar built a fence for Abramson. It was shown that the case was a dispute over a contract, and should be aired in Division Court, and on this account it was thrown out by the Court.

Harry Lesslie, gathered in as a drunk by Constable Tebworth, was remanded until Monday.

Want Poles Removed.
 Now that a boulevard is to be constructed on University avenue, some of the people residing on that avenue have approached the Bell Telephone Company, to ascertain if it would be willing to remove its poles. H. W. Snelling, manager of the local plant, replied that the company would be willing to do so, provided it were given right of way to the rear of the houses for the poles.

Plenty of Tomatoes.
 Market gardeners assured the Whig on Saturday morning that Kingstonians would not be called upon to pay more than $1 a bushel for tomatoes. It is expected that there will be a very large supply on Saturday next. To-day they sold for $1 per bushel on the market.

Moonlight Excursion.
 S. S. Thousand Islander will leave at 7.45 p. m. Saturday for evening excursion. Fare 35c.

"Palm Olive Shampoo," Gibson's. The police were called to the steamer Thousand Islander, upon her arrival from Ogdensburg, Friday night. A soldier was accused of having broken some glass with his swigger stick. He paid for his fun and the matter was then dropped. Fresh on Friday, Ice Cream Bricks, Gibson's.

 You are assured accuracy and prompt service in fitting your eyes with us. Appointments made for any evening.
