A NIGHT ALARM. WAS HELD

THE SOLDIERS AT BARRIEFIELD WERE IN THE MANOEUVRES

The Performance and Conduct of the Men Was Very Creditable—Active Service Conditions Prevailed—The Men Were Inspected.

On Monday night a very successful and instructive night alarm took place at Barriefield Camp. At 9.45 p. m. the alarm was blown by the buglers, and the call was taken up in all part of the large camp. Within a very short time every soldier was on the parade ground ready to take part in the manoeuvres. The time between the alarm and the parade of the men was very short, and everything was carried out in an expeditious manner.

The 155th Battalion was marched as far as the trenches on the heights of Barriefield. The duties of all had been explained, and the men took delight in the novelty of their task. These night manoeuvres, although sometimes they are rather long, are enjoyed, and are essential in the training of men for work at the front.

The trenches were manned and conditions as nearly similar as possible to those at the front were maintained. Outposts and pickets were placed, and men were put in the listening posts. The reconnoitering parties were out, and special use was made of the telephone communication in the trenches. The men realized that they were supposed to be on active service and on the lookout for an enemy, and everyone was zealous in the performance of duties.

At midnight another company took the place of those in the trenches, and the relieved men were allowed to go behind. The new company retained the positions until reveille was sounded, that is they stayed at the posts all night.

During the night Brig.-Gen. T. D. R. Hemming and Col. G. Hunter Ogilvie inspected the lines, and they were very pleased at the excellence of the manoeuvres. Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown, G. S. O., was in charge of the night's performance, and the success of the alarm is due to his painstaking care and thought in the arrangement of the many details.

WAS HIT BY AN AUTO

WHIG CARRIER BOY HAD VERY CLOSE CALL FROM DEATH.

Clarence Clark Seriously Injured in an Auto Accident at the Corner of Montreal and James Streets on Monday Afternoon—Complaint to Police About Speed of Cars.

A Whig carrier boy, Clarence Clark, aged thirteen, a son of W. H. Clark, barber, Charles street, came within an ace of being killed by an automobile at the corner of James and Montreal streets at 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon.

The lad was delivering his papers on his bicycle when the accident occurred. He suffered serious injuries to his back and also to his leg, and is now confined to his home. The report given the Whig is that the car was driving very fast, and that the driver of the car did not stop after he had run into the boy.

It is claimed that the car was travelling at the rate of forty miles an hour, and if that is the case the lad certainly had a miraculous escape. His bicycle suffered serious damage.

It is stated that the driver of the car, a young man, had a number of young girls with him, and that when the accident occurred one of the girls remarked, "Oh, he's all right," and the car was not stopped.

The matter has been reported to the police. It is claimed that automobiles are travelling in this part of the city at a very fast rate of speed, and that the lives of pedestrians are constantly in danger as a result.

GERMANY HAS LAID BLIGHT ON BELGIUM

Violation of Laws of the Hague Responsible for Pitiful Condition of Country.

Montreal, Aug. 29.—Many enquiries have been made of the Belgian Relief Committee as to the actual reason for the destitution now existing in that part of Belgium under German occupation. The Belgians are a thrifty, industrious people and many wondered why industry should not continue even where people are under subjection.

The answer is learned from those having possession of documentary proofs from Belgium is clear. Since her occupation of Belgium and Northern France Germany has violated every international law governing war as laid down by the Hague Tribunal. Under the laws of the Hague the invader is privileged to levy upon the occupied country to the extent necessary for the invading army.

Instead, Germany has laid a blight over the whole of occupied Belgium, denuding the country of everything—manufacturing, crops, stock, food, raw materials—and has ravaged her women and children as well. A tax of half a million francs has twice been levied on the already poverty-stricken people and fines for some petty offence against the German Government have added daily misery to the people. The result is an invading army living in luxury from stolen goods and a populace consisting of half-clad, haggard women, weeping, starving children and babes, and the aged and infirm—all of whom are obliged to look to Canada and the more fortunate nations of the earth for food to keep them alive.

All each family asks is $2.50 to keep them alive a month. This amount will do if sent to the Kingston Board of Trade or to the Treasurer Central Belgian Relief Committee, 59 St. Peter street, Montreal, to be spent by them in purchasing supplies here to send over to the general committee.

Poets are born, and occasionally one is paid.

RIPTON GIVEN FAIR TRIAL

HE PROVED TO BE A GERMAN AND A SPY.

Enlisted in the 8th C. M. R. at Barriefield Camp—Little Game Was Soon Discovered.

The two escaped German prisoners who are at the Herald House, Clayton, N. Y., tell a story of an Albany, N. Y., boy named George Ripton, being held at the fort without being given a trial.

Inquiry in official circles shows that the charge is false. Ripton was a trooper in the 3th C. M. R. at Barriefield. He was in the habit of making frequent trips to Clayton and returning with "much money." In a local hotel at the time a citizen reported hearing and interpreting the language used by him with certain friends as being German. The talk and other things convinced the military authorities of the need of an investigation, and his belongings were searched. Lieut.-Col. J. R. Munro discovered that he was carrying six passports of as many different countries and all ere dated 1915. When before witnesses at the detention compound he admitted being a German he was interned at Fort Henry. The military authorities claim to have proof enough to warrant the most serious charge against him, and this will probably be done if he continues his present method of pleading innocent of being a German.

Contradicts German's Statement

Kingston, Aug. 29.—(To the Editor): Will you please spare a little of your paper in which to enable me to contradict the statement in your last night's issue regarding the capture of the German prisoner, Willy Brubacher, who escaped from the Military Hospital two months ago. He was recognized and caught by W. Mitchell, who was at that time civilian cook at the Military Hospital, who nabbed him on the night of Sept. 1st, 1915 near the fair grounds. Mitchell went overseas with the 59th Battalion and is in France with the reinforcements to the 21st Battalion.—Mrs. W. Mitchell, 169 Pine street, city.

In Bivouac And Barracks

(See also Page 9.)

The Daughters of the Empire, Brockville, have contributed the sum of $50.00 towards the outfit of the 156th Battalion, and Hon. George P. Graham has contributed $50.

The name of J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., is spoken of in connection with the position of paymaster for the new battalion for Peterboro County.

Lieut.-Col. H. R. Wilson, D.A.A., and Q.M.G. Major A. P. Allen, 155th Battalion, and Lieut. N. Munsee, School of Signalling, have been selected as the officers on the board to advise on the escape of the two German officers from Fort Henry. The board will be convened immediately. The investigation is being conducted at the request of Gen. Otter, in charge of the Internment operations for Canada.

WON'T PUNISH PRISONERS

Governments Reach Agreement, According to Berlin Newspapers.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—(by wireless to Sayville).—The following official statement was issued here yesterday: "The German Emperor has ordered postponement until after the war of the execution of all sentences imposed for the punishment of French prisoners, both civilian and military, on account of acts committed up to September 1st of this year."

The Overseas News Agency adds: "The newspapers state that this action was taken as a result of a reciprocal agreement with the French government."

The Imperial Cabinet order providing for the postponement of sentences on French prisoners also provides for the immediate release of such persons from confinement and their return to the prison camp at Cotebush in cases where a breach of discipline in German prison camps is involved, however, the offenders are exempt from the provisions of the order.

THE HUDGINS' PICNIC.

It Was a Fine Event Held at Selby.

Selby, Aug. 25.—On August 18th, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Hudgins, of Phoenix, N.Y., there met at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. J. Winter, Selby, his brothers and sisters with their children and grandchildren. Out of the twelve children of Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Hudgins, of whom six are still living, five were present—Ira B., John N., Mrs. Lydia Schermehorn, Mrs. Sarah Abbott, and M. P. The absent one, Mrs. Joseph Brashaw, with her husband and five children reside in California. In a cool shady place on the lawn were set two tables, which fairly groaned with their burden of good things. About one o'clock, both old and young, surrounded these tables to do justice to the tempting dishes provided by all. The afternoon, which passed all too quickly, was spent in games, other amusements and social chat. A couple of interesting letters from Kenneth Wilson, a grandson of Ira B. Hudgins, were read by Mrs. James Wilson. Kenneth's home is in Edmonton, but he is now at the front doing his bit for King and country. About 4.30 o'clock tea was served; after which all dispersed to their homes. "Uncle John" notwithstanding his seventy-one years, is as straight as a youth of twenty, and is hale and hearty.

Important Notice. We strongly urge all intending purchasers not to miss this great Clothing Sale, as it positively ends Thursday.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand. The excellent bill at the Grand last evening attracted a houseful of well-pleased patrons. In the feature picture the enchanting little character actress, Fannie Ward, was seen in "A Gutter Magdeline," a vivid drama with close connection to the Salvation Army work in a big city. A four-reel picture, "Lord John in New York," a comedy, "Base Ball Bill," and the Paramount Topical Budget were also shown. On the vaudeville bill Bergere and Vincent made a decided hit. Miss Vincent did some very clever toe-dancing, while Mr. Bergere, the Rubber Neck King, exhibited some incomparable equilibrium work, together with refined contortion stunts that were phenomenal. Same bill to-night.

At Griffin's. To-day will be the last day for the showing of "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row," Lonesome Luke comedy and Pathe English war news. Commencing to-morrow, for two days, Theda Bara will play the leading role in the wonderful Fox masterpiece, "The Galley Slave," without doubt her latest and greatest production. R. E. Willis will also be heard on these days in the new motion picture song hit, "The Little House Upon the Hill," illustrated with motion pictures.

At the Strand. Mary Miles Munter, of whom much has been heard and read about, made her initial bow to Kingstonians at the Strand Theatre yesterday in a most wonderful play, "Enemy of Stork's Nest," a beautiful story of life in the mountains. The large audience present was more than pleased with the play. A two-part drama, "The Man in Irons," the "Selig Tribune" of latest current events and a good comedy completed the programme. Same bill to-night and to-morrow.

Lake Ontario Park.

A most enjoyable programme of vaudeville and pictures was presented to a large crowd at Lake Ontario Park last night. On the screen was shown a three-reel feature, "A Stranger in New York," a comedy, "Herodity," and the Pathe News. In the vaudeville two-headline acts were performed. Miss Lillian Wright, a dainty subrette singer, delighted the audience with the following: "You're a Dangerous Girl," "You Can't Get Along With Them or Without Them," and a number of popular dances. Herbert Camp, an extraordinary violinist, rendered "The Rosary," a comedy Italian number, and an eccentric rag. This bill will be seen each evening. This week will close the vaudeville season at the park. Don't forget to-morrow, the last one cent day this year for children on the cars.

GERMANS MAY SHORTEN LINE AT THE SOMME

The British Can Advance and Also Withstand Enemy Counter-Attacks.

London, Aug. 29.—From the British point of view the situation on the Somme is eminently pleasing, for they have demonstrated that they have the guns and the men not only to advance, but—what is equally important—to withstand the counter-attacks of the Kaiser's finest troops and the pounding of his most powerful guns.

The British will not be hurried. They are satisfied to let the artillery pave the way—which is impossible in present weather conditions—before the infantry is called upon to move out of its trenches and shelters. However, the present week may see a swift change in the positions around Thiepval and Guillemont. It would be no surprise to the military observers if the German high command decided to shorten the present line, abandoning those villages and falling back to positions they have been preparing which can be held with fewer men.

Lost on the Falmouth.

Cobourg, Aug. 29.—Leonard Fry, who was a fireman on the railway between here and Toronto before enlisting, lost his life on the British cruiser Falmouth in the North Sea, when the two British cruisers, the Falmouth and the Nottingham, were sunk by German submarines while engaged in searching for the German fleet. Norman was a brother of Gunner Leonard Fry, of Cobourg, who signed up with an artillery draft here for overseas services a short time ago. The only other brother is a stoker in the navy.

A sewage disposal system is planned for Peterboro.
