

BRITISH OFFENSIVE ON THE WEST.
Indian cavalry awaiting orders to advance into the Battle of the Somme.

FRENCH TROOPS HOLDING ADVANCE TRENCHES AND WEARING GAS MASKS.
The Goblin-like appearance of the men in the trenches is enough to scare away any enemy.

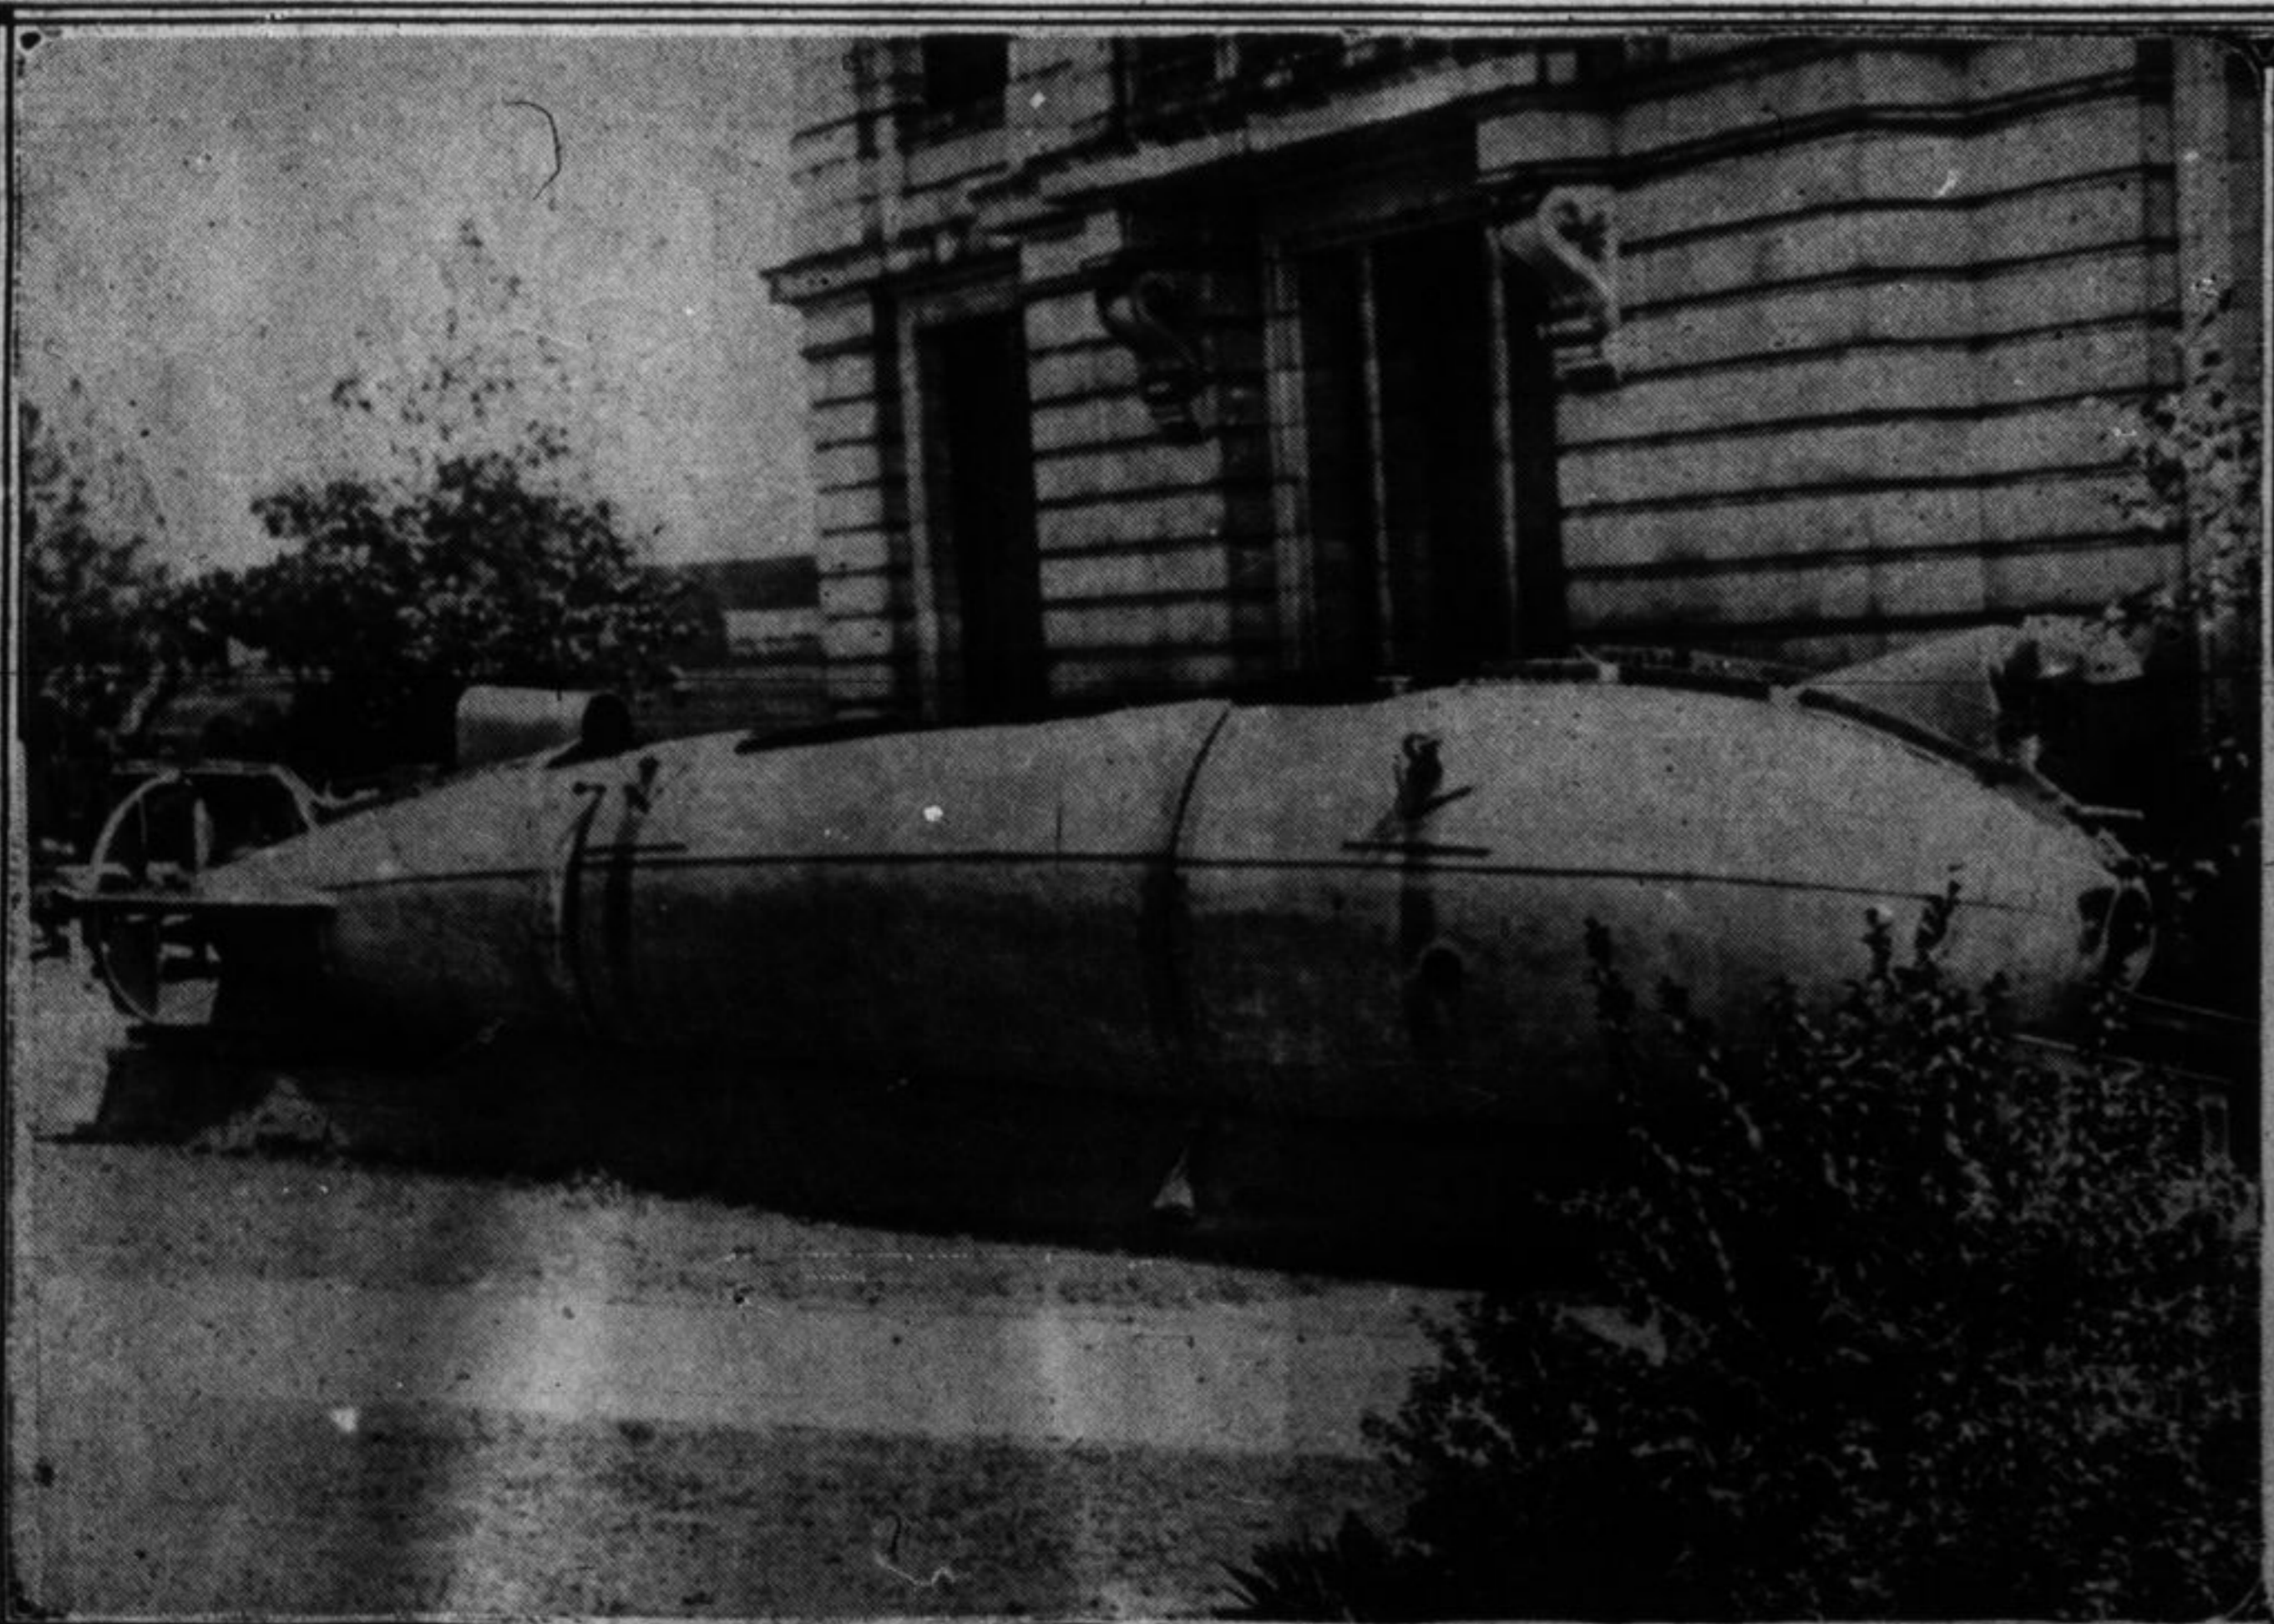

REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPH SHOWING HOW THE BRITISH FORCES FORD THE RIVERS AND STREAMS IN FRANCE WITH THEIR GUNS.
Photo shows cavalry machine guns crossing a river in France. Getting the gun across.

The submarine chasers being hoisted aboard ship.

SUBMARINE CHASERS FOR THE BRITISH NAVY.
Here are three of the "submarine chasers," part of an order of forty built at Lawley's Yards, South Boston, Mass., for use in guarding the coasts of Great Britain.

HOLLAND SUBMARINE TO BE PRESERVED.
The Holland submarine, pioneer in underwater navigation, has been purchased by private parties, and will be preserved as a relic of American enterprise. The vessel was about to be sold for old junk. The submarine is now in Philadelphia.

HISTORIC MUSEUM DESTROYED.
The interior of the Natural History Museum in the destroyed city of Verdun, showing all the stuffed animals knocked to pieces by the German shells.