

The British Whig 33RD YEAR

Published Daily and Semi-Weekly by THE BRITISH WHIG PUBLISHING CO. LIMITED.

J. G. Elliott, President; Leman A. Guild, Managing Director and Sec. Treas.

The circulation of THE BRITISH WHIG is authenticated by the ABC Audit Bureau of Circulations.

legislature was elected, gives the people a chance to end the profligacy which has not had a counterpart in Canada, and they are expected to make a clean job of it.

The Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance has instructed its legal lights to give to the present situation—to any attempt which may be made to defeat the Prohibition Act—their attention. They will act accordingly.

RETAILATORY LEGISLATION. An election is pending in the United States, and congress, in order to make votes, or to mollify voters, has passed with the concurrence to some extent of the state department, several resolutions that are most unfriendly to the Allies.

There were about 10,000 accidents in Ontario last year. Twelve per cent of them involved permanent disablement. Two per cent of them were followed by death.

Work Not Done. (Toronto Globe) The duty of Ottawa is not done when it authorizes overseas battalions, leaving to overworked officers the task of raising them.

Why the Pot Boils. (Brantford Courier) No wonder the political pot of the Balkans is boiling so much with Greece under it.

Canada's Pension Fund. (London Advertiser) If Canadian pensions do reach $15,000,000 a year it will only be about $3 a head for the population.

Has Had Enough. (Ottawa Free Press) You possibly have had enough of ceremonial parades, the Duke told the soldiers at Borden Camp.

When the Roblin government fell there were those who insinuated that the liberal government dared not prosecute the offenders.

MIS RULE AT THE COAST. Next week the people of British Columbia will have an opportunity to say or show what they think of the men who have misgoverned them in the province.

There is, in addition, an aroused public conscience. It is possessed by men who have been voting for the government though possessed of serious misgivings with regard to its deserts.

EDITORIAL NOTES. What has become of the projectors of the photoplay factory in Kingston? They were men of great "promise."

The managers of the Kingston Fair are really deserving of encouragement. They are putting great energy into their work.

Mr. Rowell shows no disposition or desire to abandon prohibition. He is advocating it in England, and will presently return to Canada to take up the work here where he left it off.

While the bill was under consideration several amendments were moved. They were suggested by the blacklist of the British government, the British embargo on certain importations, the naval blockade, and the censorship of the mails.

When it is said, discrimination has been established against the United States importation, similar discriminations will be offered against the importations of the Allies.

An attempt is to be made to prevent the detention of ships carrying cargoes consigned to Germany. Suppose it does not succeed, suppose the Allies pay no attention to the resolution or the notes of the president?

When the Roblin government fell there were those who insinuated that the liberal government dared not prosecute the offenders.

MIS RULE AT THE COAST. Next week the people of British Columbia will have an opportunity to say or show what they think of the men who have misgoverned them in the province.

There is, in addition, an aroused public conscience. It is possessed by men who have been voting for the government though possessed of serious misgivings with regard to its deserts.

EDITORIAL NOTES. What has become of the projectors of the photoplay factory in Kingston? They were men of great "promise."

The managers of the Kingston Fair are really deserving of encouragement. They are putting great energy into their work.

Mr. Rowell shows no disposition or desire to abandon prohibition. He is advocating it in England, and will presently return to Canada to take up the work here where he left it off.

The political friends of the ex-ministers, who were on trial in Winnipeg for six weeks, and for serious offences, congratulated them when the jury disagreed. Nine jurors were for conviction and three for acquittal.

There has been some criticism of moving pictures. Have they escaped the censor? It used to be that all films had to be approved, and that the exhibition of them was proceeded by the announcement that they had passed the censor board. Have any of these films escaped inspection?

The Hamilton Herald may be right in assuming that, for many reasons, the ex-ministers in Manitoba may not be charged a second time for their alleged offences.

Work Not Done. (Toronto Globe) The duty of Ottawa is not done when it authorizes overseas battalions, leaving to overworked officers the task of raising them.

Why the Pot Boils. (Brantford Courier) No wonder the political pot of the Balkans is boiling so much with Greece under it.

Canada's Pension Fund. (London Advertiser) If Canadian pensions do reach $15,000,000 a year it will only be about $3 a head for the population.

Has Had Enough. (Ottawa Free Press) You possibly have had enough of ceremonial parades, the Duke told the soldiers at Borden Camp.

When the Roblin government fell there were those who insinuated that the liberal government dared not prosecute the offenders.

MIS RULE AT THE COAST. Next week the people of British Columbia will have an opportunity to say or show what they think of the men who have misgoverned them in the province.

There is, in addition, an aroused public conscience. It is possessed by men who have been voting for the government though possessed of serious misgivings with regard to its deserts.

EDITORIAL NOTES. What has become of the projectors of the photoplay factory in Kingston? They were men of great "promise."

The managers of the Kingston Fair are really deserving of encouragement. They are putting great energy into their work.

Mr. Rowell shows no disposition or desire to abandon prohibition. He is advocating it in England, and will presently return to Canada to take up the work here where he left it off.

The political friends of the ex-ministers, who were on trial in Winnipeg for six weeks, and for serious offences, congratulated them when the jury disagreed. Nine jurors were for conviction and three for acquittal.

There has been some criticism of moving pictures. Have they escaped the censor? It used to be that all films had to be approved, and that the exhibition of them was proceeded by the announcement that they had passed the censor board. Have any of these films escaped inspection?

The Hamilton Herald may be right in assuming that, for many reasons, the ex-ministers in Manitoba may not be charged a second time for their alleged offences.

Work Not Done. (Toronto Globe) The duty of Ottawa is not done when it authorizes overseas battalions, leaving to overworked officers the task of raising them.

Why the Pot Boils. (Brantford Courier) No wonder the political pot of the Balkans is boiling so much with Greece under it.

Canada's Pension Fund. (London Advertiser) If Canadian pensions do reach $15,000,000 a year it will only be about $3 a head for the population.

Has Had Enough. (Ottawa Free Press) You possibly have had enough of ceremonial parades, the Duke told the soldiers at Borden Camp.

When the Roblin government fell there were those who insinuated that the liberal government dared not prosecute the offenders.

MIS RULE AT THE COAST. Next week the people of British Columbia will have an opportunity to say or show what they think of the men who have misgoverned them in the province.

There is, in addition, an aroused public conscience. It is possessed by men who have been voting for the government though possessed of serious misgivings with regard to its deserts.

EDITORIAL NOTES. What has become of the projectors of the photoplay factory in Kingston? They were men of great "promise."

The managers of the Kingston Fair are really deserving of encouragement. They are putting great energy into their work.

Mr. Rowell shows no disposition or desire to abandon prohibition. He is advocating it in England, and will presently return to Canada to take up the work here where he left it off.

The political friends of the ex-ministers, who were on trial in Winnipeg for six weeks, and for serious offences, congratulated them when the jury disagreed. Nine jurors were for conviction and three for acquittal.

legislature was elected, gives the people a chance to end the profligacy which has not had a counterpart in Canada, and they are expected to make a clean job of it.

The Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance has instructed its legal lights to give to the present situation—to any attempt which may be made to defeat the Prohibition Act—their attention. They will act accordingly.

RETAILATORY LEGISLATION. An election is pending in the United States, and congress, in order to make votes, or to mollify voters, has passed with the concurrence to some extent of the state department, several resolutions that are most unfriendly to the Allies.

There were about 10,000 accidents in Ontario last year. Twelve per cent of them involved permanent disablement. Two per cent of them were followed by death.

Work Not Done. (Toronto Globe) The duty of Ottawa is not done when it authorizes overseas battalions, leaving to overworked officers the task of raising them.

The circulation of THE BRITISH WHIG is authenticated by the ABC Audit Bureau of Circulations.

When the Roblin government fell there were those who insinuated that the liberal government dared not prosecute the offenders.

MIS RULE AT THE COAST. Next week the people of British Columbia will have an opportunity to say or show what they think of the men who have misgoverned them in the province.

There is, in addition, an aroused public conscience. It is possessed by men who have been voting for the government though possessed of serious misgivings with regard to its deserts.

EDITORIAL NOTES. What has become of the projectors of the photoplay factory in Kingston? They were men of great "promise."

The managers of the Kingston Fair are really deserving of encouragement. They are putting great energy into their work.

Mr. Rowell shows no disposition or desire to abandon prohibition. He is advocating it in England, and will presently return to Canada to take up the work here where he left it off.

The political friends of the ex-ministers, who were on trial in Winnipeg for six weeks, and for serious offences, congratulated them when the jury disagreed. Nine jurors were for conviction and three for acquittal.

There has been some criticism of moving pictures. Have they escaped the censor? It used to be that all films had to be approved, and that the exhibition of them was proceeded by the announcement that they had passed the censor board. Have any of these films escaped inspection?

The Hamilton Herald may be right in assuming that, for many reasons, the ex-ministers in Manitoba may not be charged a second time for their alleged offences.

Work Not Done. (Toronto Globe) The duty of Ottawa is not done when it authorizes overseas battalions, leaving to overworked officers the task of raising them.

Why the Pot Boils. (Brantford Courier) No wonder the political pot of the Balkans is boiling so much with Greece under it.

Canada's Pension Fund. (London Advertiser) If Canadian pensions do reach $15,000,000 a year it will only be about $3 a head for the population.

Has Had Enough. (Ottawa Free Press) You possibly have had enough of ceremonial parades, the Duke told the soldiers at Borden Camp.

When the Roblin government fell there were those who insinuated that the liberal government dared not prosecute the offenders.

MIS RULE AT THE COAST. Next week the people of British Columbia will have an opportunity to say or show what they think of the men who have misgoverned them in the province.

There is, in addition, an aroused public conscience. It is possessed by men who have been voting for the government though possessed of serious misgivings with regard to its deserts.

EDITORIAL NOTES. What has become of the projectors of the photoplay factory in Kingston? They were men of great "promise."

The managers of the Kingston Fair are really deserving of encouragement. They are putting great energy into their work.

Mr. Rowell shows no disposition or desire to abandon prohibition. He is advocating it in England, and will presently return to Canada to take up the work here where he left it off.

The political friends of the ex-ministers, who were on trial in Winnipeg for six weeks, and for serious offences, congratulated them when the jury disagreed. Nine jurors were for conviction and three for acquittal.

There has been some criticism of moving pictures. Have they escaped the censor? It used to be that all films had to be approved, and that the exhibition of them was proceeded by the announcement that they had passed the censor board. Have any of these films escaped inspection?

The Hamilton Herald may be right in assuming that, for many reasons, the ex-ministers in Manitoba may not be charged a second time for their alleged offences.

Work Not Done. (Toronto Globe) The duty of Ottawa is not done when it authorizes overseas battalions, leaving to overworked officers the task of raising them.

Why the Pot Boils. (Brantford Courier) No wonder the political pot of the Balkans is boiling so much with Greece under it.

Canada's Pension Fund. (London Advertiser) If Canadian pensions do reach $15,000,000 a year it will only be about $3 a head for the population.

Has Had Enough. (Ottawa Free Press) You possibly have had enough of ceremonial parades, the Duke told the soldiers at Borden Camp.

When the Roblin government fell there were those who insinuated that the liberal government dared not prosecute the offenders.

MIS RULE AT THE COAST. Next week the people of British Columbia will have an opportunity to say or show what they think of the men who have misgoverned them in the province.

There is, in addition, an aroused public conscience. It is possessed by men who have been voting for the government though possessed of serious misgivings with regard to its deserts.

THREE EX-MINISTERS ARE AT LARGE

Hamilton Herald (Ind.). The three politicians (ex-ministers of Manitoba) will continue to enjoy their freedom, their bail having been extended. But it is doubtful if they will again be brought to trial.

Anyhow, three politicians have suffered punishment for any misdeeds they may have committed in office. They are fallen and discredited public servants. Even if they are not personally guilty, they are responsible for the robbery of the Manitoba treasury while they were ministers of the crown.

HIGH FOOD PRICES IN ENGLAND

London Mail. We hold command of the sea. We have the entire neutral world to draw upon. Yet beef is up 61 per cent. above its pre-war price, bacon 41 per cent., flour 44 per cent., potatoes 91 per cent., sugar 163 per cent., milk 38 per cent., butter 34 per cent., and tea 81 per cent.

Canada's Pension Fund

London Advertiser. If Canadian pensions do reach $15,000,000 a year it will only be about $3 a head for the population.

Has Had Enough

Ottawa Free Press. You possibly have had enough of ceremonial parades, the Duke told the soldiers at Borden Camp in giving the reason why none was held for him.

Dangerous Headache Powder

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—J. W. St. Marie, City Solicitor of Hull, Que., is lying in a critical condition at his home as the result of taking four patent headache powders to cure a violent headache.

Sir Hibbert Tupper on Party Patronage.

"I see no reason why we should not insist on politics being played honestly. All through Canada we have seen the fatal connection between politics and patronage. The most glaring illustration is the Manitoba scandal in respect of the parliament buildings. But this is only the apex of the pyramid of patronage."

Rippling Rhymes

NEIGHBORHOOD WOES My neighbor keeps a lot of bees, which much annoyance bring me, for when I sit beneath the trees, they come along and sting me.

Public Opinion

Why the Pot Boils. (Brantford Courier) No wonder the political pot of the Balkans is boiling so much with Greece under it.

Work Not Done

(Toronto Globe) The duty of Ottawa is not done when it authorizes overseas battalions, leaving to overworked officers the task of raising them.

Canada's Pension Fund

(London Advertiser) If Canadian pensions do reach $15,000,000 a year it will only be about $3 a head for the population.

Has Had Enough

Bibbys NEW FALL OVERCOATS SEE BIBBYS YOUNG MEN'S SUITS SEE BIBBYS GLOSTER OVERCOATS SEE BIBBYS YOUNG MEN'S SUITS Bibbys :: Limited 78-80-82 Princess Street. :: Kingston, Ont.

Random Reels Bread Pudding. "Of Shoes and Ships, and Sealing Wax, of Cabbages and Kings." For at least one hundred years in rapid succession woman has been making bread pudding and man has been eating it.

McLeod's Drug Store NEW CLOVER HONEY In the Comb: Sections each 20c Strained: Glasses, each 20c Pint Sealers, each 30c Quart Sealers, each 50c 5 lb. Tins, each 75c 10 lb. Tins, each $1.50

Dominion Fish Co. Bulk Oysters Phone 520.

SPECIALS AT PICKERINGS FOR 10 DAYS. Large Pkg. of Soda Biscuits 25c 2 lbs. of Sweet Biscuits 25c 3 tins of Custard Powder 25c 3 pkgs. of Jelly Powder 25c

SAY Have you had your photo taken at Weese's new studio? FRAMES. Gilt, mission, mahogany, walnut, etc., frames regilded. PIANO One at a Bargain. WEESE CO. 168 PRINCESS STREET

TRUTHS ABOUT COAL It's the same with coal as with any other of Nature's products. There is Superior Coal. There is Inferior Coal. Here You Get BEST COAL CRAWFORD Foot of Queen Street Phone 9.