THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand. The first half of next week will see one of the most elaborate programmes of vaudeville and photoplays ever presented to patrons of the Grand Opera House. William Farnum, the celebrated actor, will be seen in a most masterful production, "The Man of Sorrow." In this picture Mr. Farnum is supported by a galaxy of stars well known on both the screen and the stage. A two-reel Universal photoplay, a comedy picture and the famous Pathe News will also be shown. The vaudeville is also something out of the ordinary, and will include Griffin and Capman in a comedy singing and dancing specialty, and another good single act has been also added to the bill.

Molly McIntyre in "Silent Sue". The regular theatrical season at the Grand Opera House is upon us. It will be inaugurated Monday night by a new star and a new play and an all-British company. Under the circumstances, truly an auspicious and pleasing announcement from a patriotic point of view, and equally as pleasing when it is known that the new star, is to be Miss Molly McIntyre. Yes, sweet dainty little Molly McIntyre, the bewitching little lass who first charmed us with her delightful characterization of "Bunty" in "Bunty Pulls the Strings." But this time it is not as a Scotch lassie that the fair Molly is to charm us, for her new play entitled "Silent Sue" is entirely English, as regards its local and environment.

A Pair of Silk Stockings. If the degree of hilarity with which a comedy is received by the audience is any criterion of popular success, then "A Pair of Silk Stockings" Cyril Harcourt's piquant comedy is a two-fold winner. The Shuberts, the producers, have left nothing to be wished for in the splendid production given it or the notable cast employed to interpret it. The comedy will have its first local presentation at the Grand on Thursday evening, Sept. 14th.

At the Strand. The bill announced for the Strand for the first three days of next week will please all lovers of things dramatic. The feature is a five-act Metro Wonderplay with S. Miller Kent in the virile masterpiece, "The Cowboy and the Lady," which made a big hit in New York a few seasons ago. Vitagraph drama, one-reel comedy, and the "Selig Tribune" will also be shown.

Modern Cold Storage.

Anderson Bros., the well-known grocers and victuallers, at the corner of Division and Princess streets, have taken another step forward by introducing a new system of cold storage in the city. The new refrigerator is the latest thing in that line. Ammonia gases taking the place of ice, the temperature being regulated by an automatic device.

The advantage from a sanitary standpoint over the old ice box system are obvious. The new plant was installed by Mr. Preston, of the Wolfe Sayer and Hillier Company of Montreal. The public are cordially invited to visit the new plant and see the latest thing in cold storage systems.
