THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

To-morrow and Wednesday will see one of the most elaborate programmes of vaudeville and photoplays ever presented to patrons of the Grand Opera House. William Farnum, the celebrated actor, will be seen in a most masterful production, "The Man of Sorrow." In this picture Mr. Farnum is supported by a galaxy of stars well known on both the screen and the stage. A two-reel Universal photoplay, a comedy picture and the famous Pathe News will also be shown. The vaudeville is also something out of the ordinary, and will include Toscia and Toscia novelty bicycle act, and Joseph Cunningham in a comedy singing act.

Molly McIntyre in "Silent Sue"
The regular theatrical season at the Grand Opera House is upon us. It will be inaugurated to-night by a new star and a new play and an all-British company. Under the circumstances, truly an auspicious and pleasing announcement from a patriotic point of view, and equally as pleasing when it is known that the new star is to be Miss Molly McIntyre. Yes, sweet dainty little Molly McIntyre, the bewitching little lass who first charmed us with her delightful characterization of "Bunty" in "Bunty Pulls the Strings." But this time it is not as a Scotch lassie that the fair Molly is to charm us, for her new play entitled "Silent Sue" is entirely English, as regards its plots and environment.

"A Pair of Silk Stockings."
A clever and engaging comedy, will be presented here at the Grand on Thursday, September 14th. In presenting this delightful play the Shuberts are sending a splendid assurance so that there is a positive assurance that the comedy will be up to the usual high standard set by this firm of producers. "A Pair of Silk Stockings" is from the pen of Cyril Harcourt. It had a record-breaking run in London and was revived again as an antidote for the war gloom. In the company will be such capable artists as Langdon Bruce, A. E. Wington-Barns, Charles Esdale, S. W. Sproston, F. Forrest, Miss Ida Stratham, Miss Stella St. Andries, Miss Maud Buchannon, Miss Phyllis Stuckey and Miss Barbara Allen.

At the Strand.
The bill for to-night at this popular theatre consists of a Metro wonder play in five acts, "The Cowboy and the Lady," featuring S. Miller Kent, famous as Mr. Raffles. A three-part Essanay drama, "The Jeeter," a Kalem comedy, "Their Taking Ways," and the Selig Tribune showing latest current events.

At Griffin's.
Commencing to-day with an entire change of bill every Monday and Thursday this theatre is introducing its new policy of vaudeville in addition to its usual programme of high-class pictures. Nothing but the very best in both forms of entertainment will be shown. The opening vaudeville act, Marion and Thompson, a high-class musical number, comes highly recommended from the metropolitan centres of amusement, and is bound to please. The fiction picture, "The Badge of Courage," is a very powerful and absorbing drama of that always interesting land of mystery, the mountains of the far west. There will also be shown a Daniels comedy, sure to please all, and one of those interesting and instructive pictures, a Pathe Gazette, the whole making a most complete evening's entertainment, one that will surely please all patrons.

THE PAROLE SYSTEM

W. P. Archibald States That It Is Working Well in Canada.

In the report of the inspector of penitentiaries for the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1916, appears an interesting report from W. P. Archibald, Dominion Parole Officer. Mr. Archibald stated that the entire number released on parole since the inception of the act, sixteen years ago, was 7,776. The total delinquency for the sixteen years was 489, or 6.3 per cent. A total of 6,412 men had completed their probation on parole and occupied positions in good citizenship to-day, and 875 prisoners were now reporting and had in prospect the completion of their probation on parole. One hundred and thirty-six were paroled from the Portsmouth Penitentiary during the past year.

Queen's Hospital to Move.
It is likely that Queen's Stationary Hospital, which is now on Northern France, will be moved farther south before the winter sets in. It is too cold where the hospital now is, to remain under canvas during the winter.

Commissioner Howard, of London, Eng., second in command of the Salvation Army is expected to visit Kingston in October. The city garbage waggons have been given a coat of paint and are now looking spic and span.

OBITUARY

The Late Richard McMillan.
Richard McMillan passed away at his home on First street on Sunday afternoon in his seventy-third year. The deceased was taken ill only about two days before, and passed away at three o'clock in the afternoon.

The late Mr. McMillan was a well-known resident of the city, and throughout the country was recognized as an authority on pianos. He was born in Ireland, but the greater part of his life was spent in this city.

He is one of the oldest piano manufacturers in the city. In 1862 he was connected with the F. C. Fox Manufacturing Company, the pioneer piano manufacturing company in the city. He worked with all the principal piano manufacturers up to the present date, and was a partner in the firm of the W. H. Wormwith Piano Company for some time.

Besides his wife, six daughters and four sons are left to mourn his loss: Mrs. S. E. Chown, Mecon, Ont.; Mrs. James T. Stroud and Miss Ha. St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. C. O. Laidlaw, Walkerville; Miss Florence and Miss Caroline, at home; Frederick, Walkerville; Robert, Toronto; Earl, of Kingston, and Neil, of the Mechanical Transport Department, of the C. A. S. C., at Barrieffield Camp.
