FAMILY WITH A RECORD

ARTHUR HOLLAND HAS FIVE BROTHERS AND SISTER IN WAR.

Would be at the Front, Too, But is Unable to Pass Medical Test—Two Brothers and Sister Served in South African War.

With five brothers and one sister taking their part in the great war with Germany, Arthur Holland, a well-known Kingstonian employed as a driver for the Canadian Express Company, and residing at 114 Johnson street, is a member of a family that has every reason to be justly proud of their record.

There is just one thing that is keeping Arthur Holland away from the firing line, and this is the fact that he has been unable to pass the medical test; otherwise he would be overseas doing his "bit" with the rest of the family.

Reference was made in the Whig on Wednesday to the fact that one brother was in a hospital, suffering from shell shock. He is Pte. Thomas Francis Holland, and the telegram from Ottawa stated that he was now in the Second Eastern General Hospital at Brighton, England, having entered that institution on Sept. 9th. Further particulars are expected later on.

In addition to the five brothers now taking part in the present great struggle, another brother, James Holland, paid the supreme sacrifice in the South African war, having been killed in action.

Pte. Thomas Holland, who has just been wounded, is married, and has a wife residing in Montreal. He is now in the 58th Battalion at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Pte. Matthew Holland is at the front with the 13th Hussars, a British Regiment. He was in India when war broke out, and has been a member of the British army for twenty-one years. He is a veteran of the South African war. Just recently he met his brother, Pte. Frank Holland, at the front, and this meeting was the first the two brothers had in many years.

Pte. Frank Holland went overseas over two years ago with the heavy artillery from Montreal. Lieut. George Holland is a member of the King's Life Guards, and served in the Boer war, and Lieut. Wilfred Holland is with the Lancashire Fusiliers.

Miss Eleanor Holland is serving as a nurse in Egypt, and also served in the South African war.

Prof. T. S. Duncan, University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., is in Westport, to spend his vacation. Prof. Duncan is a graduate of Queen's and John Hopkins Universities.

Miss Arlold Haffner gave a miscellaneous shower at her home on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Ida Baker, the bride of this week.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels, the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste, and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while before the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

WILSON-RICHARDS NUPTIALS THURSDAY

Daughter of Methodist Minister Weds Son of Presbyterian Clergyman.

At half-past ten o'clock on Thursday morning Miss Pearl Richards was united in marriage to Murray Wilson, B.Sc., of Rosthern, Sask., son of Rev. Thomas Wilson, Presbyterian minister, Walkerton, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas Richards, Earl street.

The happy marriage was performed by Rev. Samuel Shibley amidst a profusion of palms and ferns with which the home was decorated. The bride entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Annie Bond, and was given away by her uncle, Capt. Hawley, of Napanee. She looked very sweet in a gown of duchess satin with a train and daintily trimmed with pearls. A shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley lent beauty to her attire. The bride also wore the jewels worn by her mother on her wedding day.

Following the ceremony the guests, numbering about twenty-five, sat down to a dainty wedding breakfast. At noon the happy couple went on a short honeymoon trip to Montreal, the bride wearing an African brown gaberdine suit with hat to match.

Mrs. Wilson will be greatly missed in Sydenham Street Methodist Church, where she has been an active worker, and has also been a valuable acquisition to the choir. She was a daughter of the late Rev. Thomas Richards, who for a number of years was a Methodist minister.

ARE IN KINGSTON.

Australian Members of the Parliamentary Delegation.

The Australian members of the parliamentary delegation which visited Great Britain and the battlefront, arrived in Kingston this afternoon. There are in the delegation: Hon. Henry Watkins, New South Wales; Hon. Henry DeLargie, West Australia; Geo. A. Palmer, M.P., Victoria; Hon. Stephen Barker, Victoria; Hon. Joseph Thomas, New South Wales; Hon. Reginald Birchall, West Australia; and Hon. Alfred Hampson, Victoria.

They came from Brockville by government steamer, and were greatly impressed with the beauty of the Thousand Islands. W. F. Niekle, M.P., is one of the Canadian delegation looking after their welfare. They are on their way to Vancouver en route to Australia. The delegation did not stay here any time, taking steamer at once for Toronto.

Mr. Palmer, one of the delegation, expressed his belief that the war had brought about a bond of union between South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Canada that not only binds them closer to the Motherland, but to each other. "I feel," he said, "that two countries, possessing such a splendid type of manhood, should be brought into closer diplomatic, political and commercial relationship by the forming of a treaty of reciprocity."

"From what I have been able to glean from Canadian politicians—a move of this nature would be acceptable to the Canadian people, and I can emphatically state that as far as the Australian people are concerned, such a treaty would be universally approved. We think that your Canada is a wonderful country, full of resources untold and immense opportunities."

BANK AND PASS BOOKS DISAGREE

Harrison L. Humphrey Brings Action Against the Bank of Cape Vincent.

When the books in the bank and the pass book in the hands of the depositor disagree what is the court going to do? That is the question that will confront Justice Edgar C. Emerson when he passes on the action of Harrison L. Humphrey, of Cape Vincent, against the Bank of Cape Vincent, says the Watertown, N. Y., Standard. The case is quite an interesting one, and throws light on the method of doing business in the Cape Vincent bank.

The pass book which Humphrey had and which was put in evidence on the trial before Justice Emerson shows that June 14, 1909, there was a balance to his credit of $500 and that each year thereafter up to the death of Block there was credited to the book in what is claimed to be the handwriting of the late S. S. Block, interest to the amount of $20. The books in the bank show that Humphrey's account was balanced June 14, 1909, and that on entries made after that time, the claim of Humphrey was presented to the receiver of the bank after its failure and was rejected. The action was then brought to recover the amount as shown on the pass book which Humphrey holds.

The matter was held open to allow the banking department to present further evidence if it so desired.

GREAT BOTTLED-UP FLOOD

IMMENSE QUANTITIES OF LIQUOR BEING PURCHASED.

No Place in Cellars for Coal—Supply of Intoxicating Beverages is Promised After Prohibition Comes Into Effect.

It is estimated that within the past few days enough liquor has been sold in Kingston to cause a veritable flood should it be released at once. Coal carters say it is almost impossible to find a place in the cellars for the black diamonds. Those who are in a position to know state that if the god of thirst were instructed to destroy every house in which liquor could not be found in the cellar, the destruction would not be sufficient to cause a stir in the building circles. Of course, the great majority of citizens are saying in a supply of liquor purely for medicinal purposes; at least, that's how they explain it; but if that's the case, they are certainly anticipating a lot of sickness. Scores who signed the petition for prohibition are among the most active buyers. They profess now to be sorry they signed the petition, and they declare that they would never sign another one. They signed it, they say, because they had been signing prohibition petitions all their life and nothing had ever come of it, and they did not think that the one they signed last winter would amount to anything. But that's where they missed their guess.

Supply Still Holds Out.

While the demand for intoxicating beverages is unprecedented, and while some lines have become pretty well exhausted, nevertheless the bars and liquor shops hope to be able to supply some kind of liquor to all comers until Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, when prohibition comes into effect.

The dispensers say that those who have not had an opportunity of laying in a supply need not worry, because there will be plenty of liquor of all kinds, including ale, beer and porter, available after September 16th, and that the prices will be practically the same as they are now. The trade is getting right after customers, and it is reported that the brewers and distillers in Ontario will ship direct to their patrons in the province, provided the orders are first sent out of the province. It is rumored that arrangements are now being made to have men in Kingston look after the distribution.

The liquor shops in Kingston, with the exception of Rigney & Hickney, will continue to do business after Saturday, selling two per cent. beer and porter and other soft drinks. Rigney & Hickney, it is understood, will retire from this line of business, after having been engaged in it for about sixty years.

Many of the hotels are undecided what they will do, but the big majority are expected to keep open their bars for the sale of tobacco and soft drinks.

"INTERNED GERMANS WELL CARED FOR"

Chief E. J. Singleton's Statement After Inspecting Fort Henry.

"I can't see how the manner of treating the men in the detention camp at Fort Henry, Kingston, could be improved," said Chief of Police Edward J. Singleton to a Watertown, N. Y., Standard representative upon his return from a visit to the camp. "The men with but few exceptions are cheerful and are given every opportunity to enjoy themselves. When I was there some of the prisoners were engaged on the courts in games of tennis."

"They get the same food as the Canadian soldiers. The quarters where the men sleep are clean, sanitary and comfortable. Really, I can't see how conditions could be improved. I was surprised to find the conditions so satisfactory."

MAJ.-GEN. LESSARD PLEASED WITH 155th

Told Whig That Units at Barriefield Camp More Than Satisfactory.

At the conclusion of the 155th Battalion inspection on Wednesday afternoon, Major-General F. L. Lessard was interviewed by a Whig representative, and he said the 155th was "a very fine battalion."

"General, is there anything to that rumor which came out not long ago about you being appointed as commandant of Camp Borden?" asked the Whig representative. "Quick as a flash the general replied: 'No! No! That's only some more of your newspaper talk.' 'About the battalions here—what do you think of their work?' continued the Whig representative, and the answer came: 'More than satisfactory. That's (pointing to the 155th) a very fine battalion.'"

Pure blood is required by every organ of the body for the proper performance of its functions. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood, and this is why it is so successful in the treatment of so many diseases and ailments. Its acts directly on the blood, ridding it of serofulous and other humors. It is a peculiar combination of blood-purifying, nerve-toning, strength-giving substances. Get it today.

QUEBEC BRIDGE DISASTER. The huge centre span of the immense Quebec Bridge is here being floated by the tide and tugs up the river from Biliary Cove, where it was built, to be placed in position. It plunged into the river while being raised into place.
