A MISSIONARY CAMPAIGN

TO BE HELD THROUGHOUT KINGSTON METHODIST DISTRICT.

Meeting of the District Financial Board—Business Transacted at the Session on Friday Morning.

The financial district meeting of the Methodist church opened in Queen street church on Friday morning with about twenty-five members present.

The need for observance of the Sabbath and an appeal for the work of the Lord's Day Alliance was made by Rev. D. W. Snider.

Rev. George S. Clendinning, on behalf of the Sunday School Board, showed the need for the observance of Rally Day in the churches and the support of the general Sunday school fund.

Rev. Wesley Fox, Toronto; Dr. Fox, Chicago; and T. F. Harrison, Cobourg, were appointed corresponding members of the meeting.

Rev. C. E. Manning, assistant secretary of the home department of the Missionary Society, brought before the meeting the conditions of the missionary work at the present time and the necessity of financial support, in view of the great demands of the war.

Dr. Manning had its effect on the meeting, and it was decided to hold a simultaneous missionary campaign covering three Sundays in October.

A committee of ministers and laymen were appointed to work out the details.

There was some discussion on the matter of missionary appropriation. A resolution was passed that "inasmuch as $299 is the amount proposed to be raised by the quarterly board of Portsmouth, we request that the missionary board grant $400."

The meeting was presided over by the Rev. J. D. Ellis, B.A. The morning session was adjourned at 12.30 o'clock, when some of the ladies of the church served dinner in the Sunday school hall.

KAISER WEPT OVER LOSSES
"This is Regiment, Sir," Replied Leader of Thirty.

German travellers are relating the following story, says the London Telegraph, which is going the rounds of the German Empire. Emperor William recently expressed the desire to inspect a regiment which had particularly distinguished itself at Verdun, and ordered it to be drawn up outside his headquarters in the neighborhood of the French fortress on the following morning. The same day the regiment participated in another furious encounter which wrought terrible havoc in its ranks, and when next morning the kaiser stepped forward to inspect the regiment he only found a small band of thirty haggard soldiers saluting him.

"But where is the regiment?" demanded the emperor, in surprise without for a moment realizing the position.

"This is the regiment, sir," the commanding officer replied.

At this the emperor broke down and wept like a child, and the inspection of the regiment was postponed.

After the War.
The New York Independent, in discussing conditions that will exist after the war, says that in the next ten years all important affairs, industrial, political and scientific, will be in the hands of the relatively old men, rejected for military service, helped out by an army of cripples and invalids capable at the best of doing half work, and by the untrained survivors of the horrors of trench warfare, who will find the task of getting back into industrial and professional life by no means easy.

The years that immediately followed the Napoleonic wars in Europe and the years that followed the Civil War in America were, it says, "in many ways like the years that reasonably may be expected after the termination of the war now at its height. There were years of exhaustion and poverty, and the men and women that lived through them, taking up their tasks and bearing their burdens as best they could, were sorrowing men and women for whom life and plenty of work and duty but no great joys."

TO CONCENTRATE TROOPS
In the Larger Canadian Centres During the Winter.

(Special to The Whig)
Ottawa, Sept. 15.—There will be no billeting of troops in small Canadian cities and towns this winter. The experience of the Militia Department last winter with regard to billeting in small detachments throughout the country was not such as to encourage a continuance of the practice. Concentration of large bodies at important points will be adopted this year.

THEATRICAL NEWS.

At the Grand.

The programme of vaudeville and photoplays presented at the Grand Opera House yesterday afternoon is without doubt, the best seen for some time. The five-reel photoplay drama featuring that well-known actress, Theda Bara in "The Eternal Sapho," is a most excellent subject. A three-reel Universal photoplay, "Lord John's Journal," a comedy picture, "Flirting With Marriage," the Pathe News and a Pathe comedy, "Them Was the Happy Days," concluded the picture end of the bill, and was immensely pleasing. The vaudeville consisted of McCormick and Shannon in a high-class singing and musical act. Both have excellent voices.

The play proves its title, and every rusty old business house in the country that has "something the matter with it" should send its representative to see this play and find out the reason for there are thousands of rich old conservatives like Cyrus and the head of the Soap Trust in the play, who need a few practical illustrations of the fact that "It Pays to Advertise." The play is the funniest combination of circumstances ever staged. "It Pays to Advertise" comes to the Grand Opera House on Monday evening, Sept. 18th.

"It Pays to Advertise."

One of the best plays produced in recent seasons bears the title "It Pays to Advertise," and Cohan and Harris count it as one of their successes. The play proves its title, and every rusty old business house in the country that has "something the matter with it" should send its representative to see this play and find out the reason for there are thousands of rich old conservatives like Cyrus and the head of the Soap Trust in the play, who need a few practical illustrations of the fact that "It Pays to Advertise." The play is the funniest combination of circumstances ever staged. "It Pays to Advertise" comes to the Grand Opera House on Monday evening, Sept. 18th.

At the Strand.

A good-sized house considering the very disagreeable night greeted Mabel Tallafiero in "The Snowbird," her latest success on the Metro programme. The Snowbird is a stirring story of the Hudson Bay district, and gives Miss Tallafiero wonderful scope to display her versatility. "The Man in Him," a 2-part Essanay drama; "Some Boxer," a one-reel Lubin, and "Whimsical Violins" and good vim comedy complete the bill.

A New Policy.

The Strand, beginning Monday, will put on vaudeville in addition to first run photoplays. Two separate operatic and musical stars will appear. Read about them on Saturday. The photoplay end of the programme is to be very fine.
