BASEBALL BRIEFS.

Richmond have sold Pitcher Enright to the New York Americans.

The race is getting tighter in each of the major leagues, but the one best bet is Detroit for the American League championship.

The Cleveland Club have sent Pitcher Stan. Covaleski home for the season. This pitcher through the result of overwork in June and sickness in July has been of little use to the Indians for the last three weeks, and the club thought better to give him a good long rest.

New York baseball men have changed their opinion of George McCarty, the catcher McGraw secured from Brooklyn in exchange for Merkle. They are now convinced that New York got the better of it as McCarty is catching cleverly and hammering the pill at a great old clip.

Jim Thorpe, of Milwaukee, is the leading base stealer of the American Association. Thorpe is to be given another chance by the New York Giants.

The Syracuse club won the championship of the New York State League, Scranton finishing second and Binghamton third. The circuit had the leanest season in its history, it being necessary to make several changes to carry it through. Most of the clubs were heavy losers.

Detroit look more and more like winning the American League pennant. They are at home for the remainder of the season, with the exception of three games at St. Louis. The latter have tailed off badly since their recent great upward dash.

The International League has had a great race. The pennant was not won until a day or two ago. Toronto has outdriven every other city in the circuit. The season, generally speaking, has not been a success. Practically all of the teams lost money, which was no more than was expected when the curtain was hoisted in April.

"Patsy" Donovan deserved to win the pennant at Buffalo, although he has been lucky in having to contend with very few injuries to his players. It is an old saying that a pennant-winning team must be lucky. Donovan had no stars on his team, but he had a collection of sluggers. Base hits got runs and runs get games. Intelligent management had a lot to do with the victory, too.

TIM KEEFE'S RECORD.

Twenty-eight Years Ago the New York Pitcher Won Nineteen Straight.

It was 28 years ago that Tim Keefe, twirler extraordinary for the New York Giants, won his nineteenth consecutive game, and thus set up a record for the major leagues which has endured ever since, and is likely to stand for years to come. Rube Marquard equaled the Keefe record in 1912, and Walter Johnson and Joe Wood got 16 straight the same year. Keefe's winning streak began on June 23 and ended on August 10, 1888, covering a period of 48 days, while Marquard, in equalling the record, worked much less frequently, taking 93 days to win his 19 straight. The great Tim pitched as many as four games in a week during this period, and pitched two games in as many days. In most of the games the Giants won overwhelmingly, and in only four of the 19 contests did the New Yorks lead by one-run margin.

France Honors Carpenter. Georges Carpenter, the heavy-weight champion of Europe, who has been on active service with the French army since the beginning of the war, and has been in the thick of the fighting in the trenches as a dispatch rider and in the aviation corps, has received further recognition from the French War Office for his daring and successful exploits by being twice mentioned in the orders of the day and recommended for the Military Medal.

Thinks Well of Fuller. Frankie Fuller is now the only utility infielder on Detroit's payroll. Marty Kavanagh was sent to Cleveland, but Hughie Jennings refused to part with the former Ottawa second baseman. He regards Fuller as one of the most promising infielders in the American League.

NOBODY TO FIGHT; BOXERS ENLISTING

L. Darcy, Mehegan, Squires and Other Australians—Carpentier Honored.

Les Darcy, the famous Australian middleweight champion boxer, who defeated Jimmy Clabby of Hammond, Ind., on points in a twenty-round contest at Sydney, N.S.W., last Saturday, has, with his trainer, Mick Hawkins, backed the colors and will shortly go into active service.

This information has been obtained from the London office of the High Commissioner for Australia. In spite of the many thousands of Australians now in England and at the front, boxing is still flourishing in the Antipodes.

Darcy can find few opponents among his fellow-countrymen because of the whole-hearted enthusiasm with which they have responded to the call to the colors, but "Snips" Barnes has filled the breach with importations from the United States.

It is understood that Darcy's enlistment will not interfere with his projected contest with the American middleweight, George Chip.

Bill Squires, the former Australian heavyweight champion, who was knocked out by Tommy Burns, of Canada, in the United States, has given up farming and also joined the forces for active service. Hugh Mehegan, another famous Australian boxer, has arrived in England with the latest contingent of colonial troops.

THE LACROSSE GAME WILL NEVER DIE.

Montreal Star.
Over ten thousand people saw the Shamrocks win the lacrosse championship on Saturday on the Mile End grounds, where they played their first match after they abandoned the baseball game since 1914. The grounds on the corner of Avenue and St. Catherine street, about a quarter of a century ago.

And while the baggy gut of the sticks used at present and long throws has made a great difference in the game since then, it was such an exciting and impressive affair that it ought to convince those who love Canada's national summer game that lacrosse will never die.

For any game that has been mismanaged as lacrosse has been at times and beset besides with such tremendous competitors as double-header baseball games or race meetings that appeal to the inborn gambling instinct of the masses or both, yet still can attract 10,000 people.

LONGEST BALL GAME

In Major League History Went Twenty-four Innings.

The longest ball game in major league history was played in Boston ten years ago, the Red Sox and Athletics being the contesting clubs. A double header was scheduled, and the first game started at two o'clock. Coombs was in the box for the Mackmen, while the youngster named Harris got a man across in the third inning, and Boston evened up in the sixth. After that there was no more scoring until the twenty-fourth, when the Athletics got three runs and won the game, 4 to 1. Not a single Athletic player who took part in that memorable contest of a decade ago is now left on the Athletic payroll. Corrigan, now pilot of the Red Sox, was behind the bat for Boston during a part of the game. The Boston twirler long ago vanished from the big show, but Coombs, who twirled the Athletics victory, is still drawing major league pay, although now with Brooklyn in the National.

MILITARY RUGBY LEAGUE

Is Proving a Popular Idea in the Big Cities.

The new military rugby league is proving a very popular idea in the various cities to be represented, and rugby up to the standard served by the Interprovincial is promised. The men behind the "big four" have taken kindly to the idea and will do everything in their power to help the soldier boys along. Nearly all of the men who played in the Interprovincial last season are in uniform now, so that there will be all kinds of material. Frank Shaughnessy, who has just finished a rather stormy season in the Interstate baseball league, is back in Ottawa, and has offered to act as coach of the team that will represent the capital.

COBB'S DIFFICULT TASK.

Official Averages Show Speaker to be Leading by 28 Points.

"Ty" Cobb faces an almost hopeless task in trying to beat out T.F.'s Speaker for the batting leadership, according to figures issued by the American League. The up-to-date records of both batters follow:

	A.B.	Hits.	Ave.
Speaker	486	189	.389
Cobb	485	175	.361

The official figures above show that Speaker leads Cobb by 14 hits in practically the same number of times at bat. For Cobb to wipe out he would have to make 15 more hits than Speaker in the same number of times at bat during the rest of the season. The Tigers have 16 more games to play; the Indians about the same number.

The Giants have rolled up eight straight. New Yorkers wish they had a look-in for the pennant.

SPORTING NOTES.

Before talking over any trip to the coast, the Shamrocks will undoubtedly put the matter up to the Minto lacrosse cup trustees to hand the cup over to them, since the game is now thriving in the east and is dead at the coast.

Shamrocks have arranged a home and home series against Charlie Querrie and his Toronto lacrosse team. The first game takes place at Toronto Saturday with the return match at Montreal on Saturday, September 30.

William Moffatt, Picton, who is acting as starter at the Central Canada Exhibition Association races, will officiate in the Ogdensburg fair next week. He has been very much in demand all around the circuit this summer.

"Buzz" Baillie, former quarter back of the M.A.A.A., is in khaki and may line up with the Montreal soldiers. Since McEwen will be invited to coach the Montrealers.

Capt. Press, of Ottawa, owner of the Ottawa Stables, which includes Wankeag, Gentlewoman and several others, has been requested to act on the directorate of the New Devonshire Jockey Club at Windsor. It will open up two weeks hence.

In previous seasons the "Big Four" and Intercollegiate rugby clubs were organized and ready for the kick off. What an awful crimp the war has put in Canadian athletics!

CANADIANS WON.

Sir Adam Beek's Horses Captured Many Ribbons at Rochester, N.Y.

Richard Donnelly's aged bay gelding, Confidence, formerly owned by Sir Clifford Sifton, of Ottawa, won the blue ribbon for jumping at the Rochester horse show. Confidence cleared 7 feet 6 inches, leaving a wide space between his heels and the top of the bar. Harry Smith's Semper Victor was second.

Sir Adam Beek swept the field in his line, taking the bars with great ease for championship and sweepstakes jumpers with Melrose, and both first and second for champion hunters with Sir Edward and Melrose.

Naps Have a Find. Cleveland has a new infielder named Louis Busta, who hails from the Pacific coast. He is a crack first baseman, who was a sensation at Portland. He is holding down the initial sack for Cleveland this week.
