KINGSTON IS TO WINTER
AT LEAST 3,000 SOLDIERS

The Old Malt House May Be Used—The Military Authorities Are Dealing With the Question of Caring For the Troops of This Division.

Kingston is to have at least 3,000 soldiers, or perhaps as many as are now at Barriefield Camp, to take care of during the winter, according to the present plans. This has not been officially announced, but the Government has issued orders for the necessary housing-preparations to be commenced.

The city can easily accommodate more than 3,000 men with little expense to the public, according to details which have been compiled by the engineering department. There is every reason to believe that the old malt house on King street west, which is now the property of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, will be taken over for infantry. This building, which is in a splendid locality for drilling purposes, could accommodate at least 1,200 men. The repairs needed to put it into excellent shape would be less than $1,000. The Department, it is understood, has looked favorably on the idea of taking this building, and the residents of that district may become prepared for a winter with many khaki-clad boys living near them.

The artillery park barracks is also to be taken over for infantrymen. There could be 700 taken care of in the quarters formerly used by the 21st Battalion, and in the stone building probably 200 more could be placed. The 14th Regiment Guard, which now occupies the stone building will shortly be moved over to Fort Henry and take possession of the new barracks recently completed, and which is now being equipped with water fixtures, etc.

The artillerymen will be in the Drydock Barracks and in Tete de Pont Barracks as before.

Owing to the fact that Lt. Cohen will need his building on Cataragui street, which was used by batteries last winter, the soldiers will not use this place. In its stead, however, the new building now under course of construction at the corner of Barrack and Ontario streets will likely be taken over. In here there will be the members of No. 5 Field Company, Canadian Engineers, who were in one of the buildings of Queen's University last year. The old Collegiate and certain buildings at Queen's will all be in use.

There is no doubt about getting the men to fill these buildings, according to the best official opinion. The recent decision of the department to concentrate troops in large centres will be one of the main reasons. Instead of having small bodies scattered all over the country, there will be men only in the larger places.

With such excellent accommodation here the Special Service unit, which will likely be the size of a battalion by the winter time, will come here. Then other soldiers, such as the Army Service Corps, Army Medical Corps, reinforcements, etc., will all go with the infantry recruits in bringing up Kingston's military population well over the 2,500 mark.

In this connection it has been suggested that Kingstonsians should organize and try to swell the number of recruits to keep up Kingston's reputation as a recruiting military centre.

APPRECIATION BY THE DUKE

IN ORDERS APPEARS H.R.H.'S MESSAGE TO THE SOLDIERS.

Remarks on Smart Appearances, Steadiness and Cheerfulness of the Men in Thursday's Inspection.

Appreciation of the splendid work done by the soldiers of the camp on the occasion of the inspection and remarks on smart appearances, steadiness and cheerfulness of the troops.

His Royal Highness wishes to thank each commanding officer and officer for the good work done in the time that they have had and is pleased to learn that the discipline of the troops is generally very good, and trusts that it will remain so if not improve as discipline is of the very greatest importance.

WEST SPRING GUN

A New Instrument in Use At The School Of Bombing.

A new gun for throwing bombs has been built at the School of Bombing and is certainly a great success. Using the recoil from nine coil springs it throws the missiles over 200 yards in any direction. The machine which is called a "West Spring Gun, S.M.M." will be made even better by using more springs. The gun will be one of the several instruments of this school which will be exhibited at the Industrial fair.

The School of Cookery has finished and another will likely commence after the trek to Belleville.

77TH BATTALION LETTER

A VERY INTERESTING PARCEL OF NEWS FROM BRAMSHOTT.

Lieut. L. R. McKenna, of the 156th Battalion, Received a Letter From a Friend in England.

Lieut. L. R. McKenna, 156th Battalion, has received a most interesting letter from a quartermaster sergeant of the 77th Battalion. The letter, which was written from Bramshott, reads as follows:

"The fifth division is now about to be formed, and is supposed to leave for the front in November. By the numbers of the battalions that have arrived lately, yours should be here before long. But believe me they are not in a class with the boys who went over with the fourth in smartness, training, discipline or intelligence."

"Our boys, who went with the fourth, have all been in action and have had some casualties. We do not see the names in the casualty list as soon as you do."

"We were sent over to Bordon for about a month, but are now back in Bramshott. Bordon was a dandy place, and we would like to have stayed there for the winter if we have to remain in England. We were in solid comfort and all kinds of barracks stores—spring beds, fireplaces, etc. Bordon is a nice little town, top Col. Street, Col. Taylor, Majors Bowle, Crawford, Woosley, Patridge and Sutcliffe have all been in France for training courses. Col. Taylor is the only one back yet. Here in Bramshott we have five "busted" battalions—53rd, 55th, 74th, 77th, 80th and 84th. All the war-time officers are quartered together in one hut (small rooms), and we have a lively old time. So far we are absolutely in the dark as to what is to become of us."

"Major Cameron has been very unwell since arriving in England and will likely be going home shortly. He has been down in the Isle of Wight for about three weeks, but it has not done him much good."

"Stewart Cross came over with the 109th and was up to me. We went over to Bramshott together from Bordon in a taxi one night, and came nearly getting killed in a smash. He is now in France, having gone into the fourth division with a small draft from the 109th."

"The Canadian officers and non-coms. open the eyes of the boys around here by going around together. I have often been out in a car with the colonel or majors and you would laugh to see the English soldiers stare."

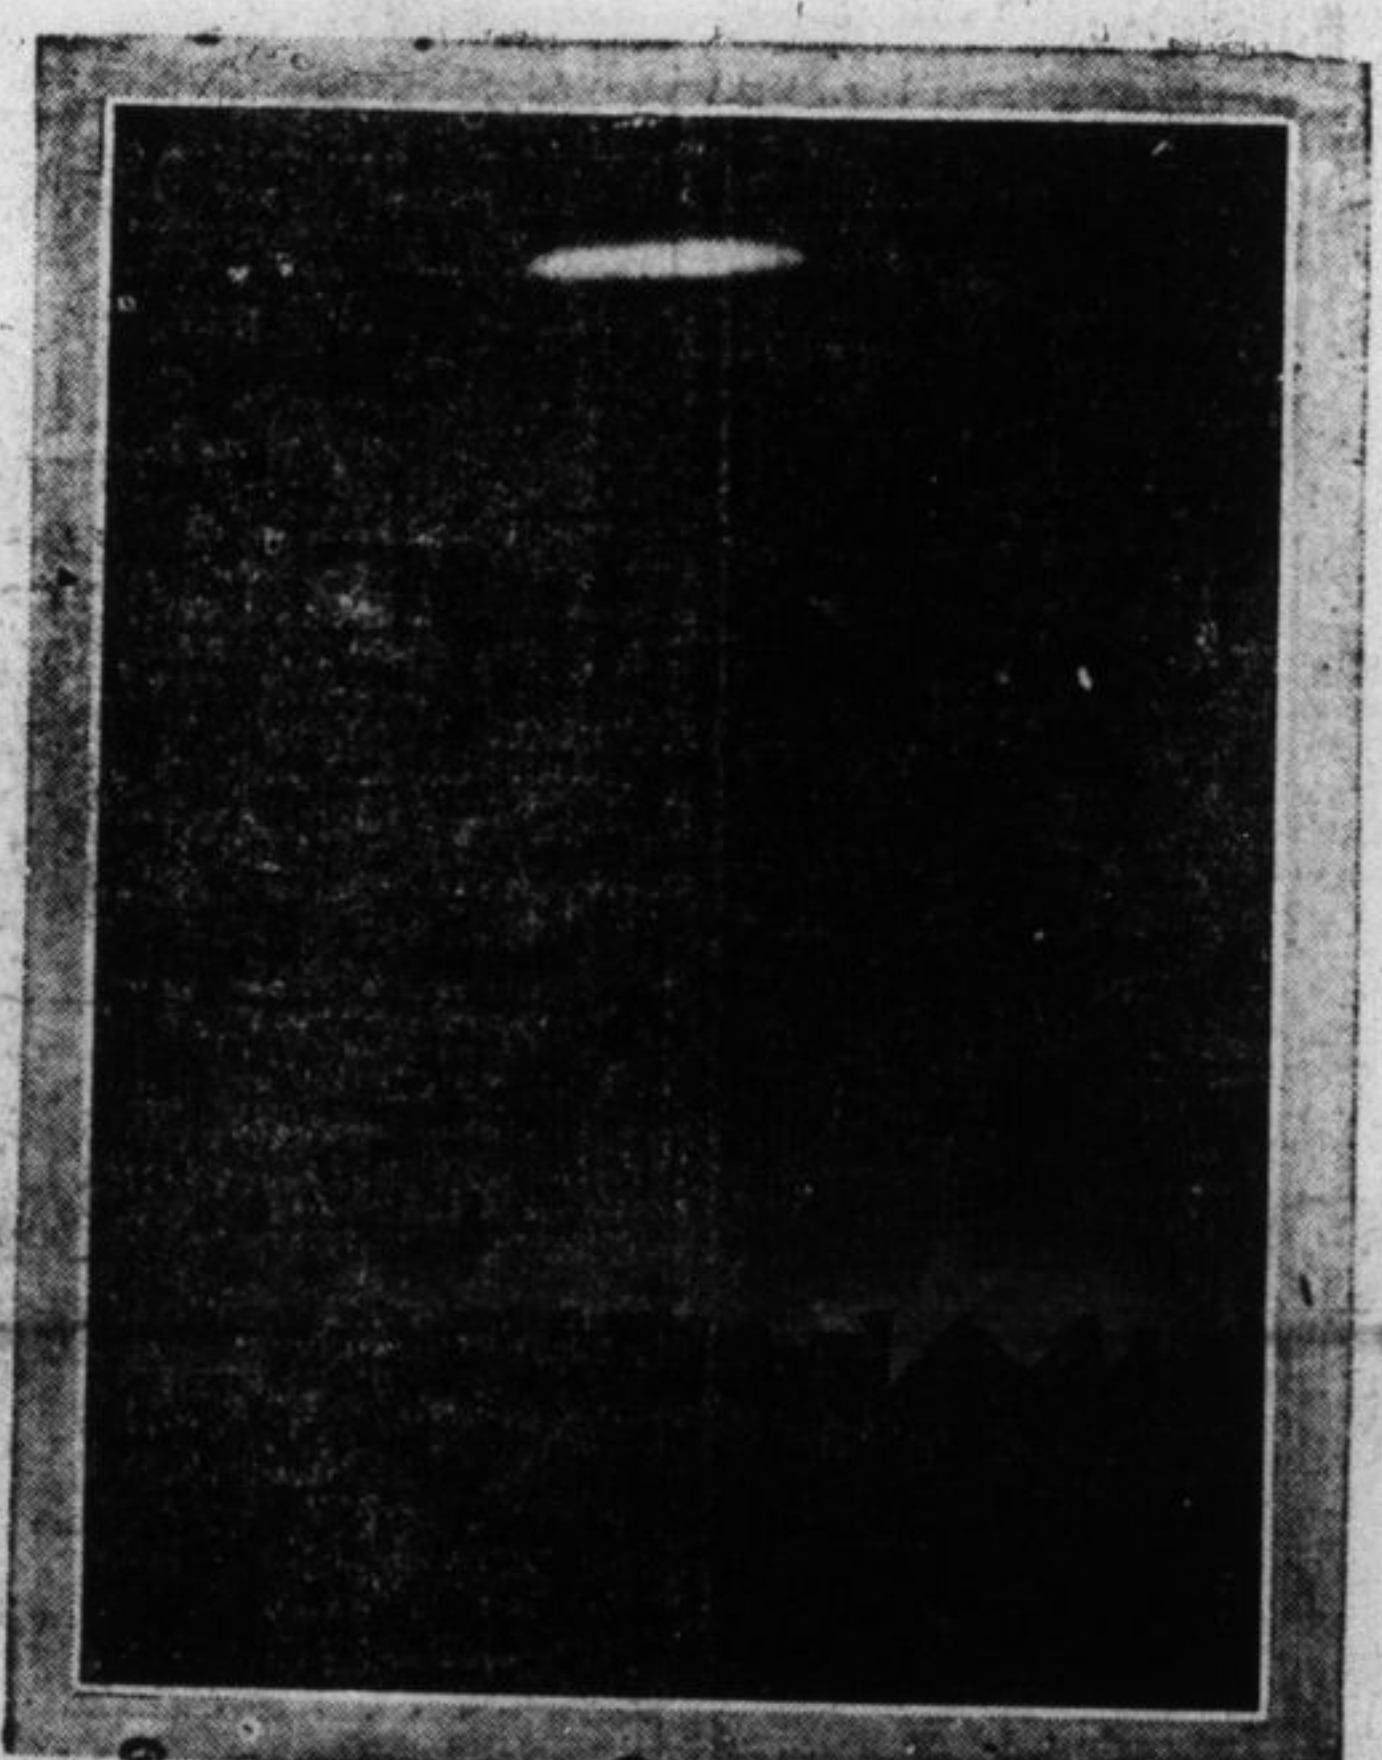

"Although we have a fine time here, I cannot help but wish that I was with the rest of the boys in France. When you get this far you realize the war much more than you do over there. If the slackers and cold feet artists who have not yet thought of enlisting in Canada could come over here and see the hospitals filled with wounded and see the results of Zeppelin raids they would be ashamed of themselves. You are not a soldier at all unless you have the little bit of gold braid on your arm that you get for each time wounded. The first question you are asked in conversation here is: 'Have you been out yet?' and if not, 'When are you going out?' 'Out' means France. I feel like a piker to be sticking around here doing nothing."

"About the officers, I might say that all dismounting officers carry equipment and packs like the men."

The draft of officers left Barriefield on Friday.

BANDSMEN OF THE 156TH

EXPLAINS ABOUT THE DISBANDING OF THE BRASS BAND.

Grievance of Sergeant and Corporal in Being Required to Give Back Money Paid to Them.

Kingston, Sept. 22.—(To the Editor): During the past week or ten days items have appeared in the Kingston press with reference to the disbanding of the 156th Battalion brass band at Barriefield. Will you allow me space in your valuable paper to state some of the grievances of the men of this band?

The thing which probably came home to the bandsmen was when two of the N.C.O.'s were called upon to disband a certain amount of money which the battalion head claimed they were not entitled to. For two or three months there were three N.C.O.'s in the band, two sergeants and one corporal. The bandsmen were informed that Barriefield headquarters had decided to allow only one N.C.O. to each band, and for that reason one sergeant and the corporal were called upon to remove their stripes. The men did not object to the removal of their stripes, but when they were called upon to pay all the extra money which they had received since being given the stripes, the bandsmen objected. When the matter was brought to the attention of the commanding officer, he gave the men to understand that as far as he was concerned the band was no use to him and might as well be disbanded. The men upon being informed of the decision of the colonel, decided to turn in their instruments and join the base company, which they did.

Since coming to Barriefield camp the men of the band have been called upon to play on numerous occasions at lawn socials and other public gatherings, for which, up until the present, they have received no extra pay. Some of the men who joined the base company have since been granted their discharge as being medically unfit for service. Thanking you for your space, and hoping this matter is now clear to the public.—A SOLDIER.

Lieut.-Col. M. K. Adams is spending the week-end in Picton.

THREE DENTISTS OVERSEAS.

Capt. F. J. Lehman, Barriefield Camp, Chosen for the Draft.

Great changes are being made in the reorganization of the Canadian Army Dental Corps, and these should certainly result in some improvements in the dental care and in this district. With the issuing of the new establishment the rank of the assistant director of dental services becomes a major, and for this reason Capt. J. M. Wilson, A.D.D.S., will as soon as it is authorized be wearing a crown in place of the three stars. The remainder of the establishment shows that there is to be one quartermaster sergeant, one clerk and one batman.

In enlarging the work of the corps there will be one dental surgeon with an N.C.O., and one batman attached to each artillery brigade, field ambulance corps, stationary hospital and general hospital.

The demand for dentists overseas is increasing steadily, and three more officers are leaving shortly. Capt. P. H. Wilson, Perth; Capt. Charles E. Wright, Trenton; Capt. J. E. Lehman, Brockville (now at Barriefield camp) are the three officers. The following sergeants and men will also be going with this draft: Sergt. A. T. Goodwin, city; Sergt. R. H. Slanners, Toronto; Sergt. F. L. Thompson, Perth; and Ptes. C. Lankin, McMaffian and R. H. Armstrong, city.

Col. Ponton, Belleville, telephoned Lieut.-Col. M. K. Adams, commanding the 156th Battalion, on Friday, asking that Sergt. Vandevort, of that battalion, be granted leave. Word as received in Belleville that his brother, a private in the 2nd Battalion, had been killed in action.

Capt. R. I. Irwin and Lieut. H. S. Partridge, 154th Battalion, have returned from the School of Musketry, Ottawa, and Lieut. G. D. Darliss and Lieut. H. G. Reynolds have left for that school to take a course.

Major Newman is acting adjutant of the 156th Battalion in place of Capt. E. J. Kyle, who is attending a field officers' course at the Infantry School.

Major W. Noonan, 154th Battalion, has returned from a visit at his home in Kemptonville. The big tent of the 156th Battalion blew down in the big wind on Thursday night.

THE SCHOOL OF ARTILLERY A COOKING EXPEDITION

TETE DE PONT BARRACKS TO HAVE ANOTHER SCHOOL

Recruits in "C" Battery, R. C. H. A., Are To Have Opportunity Of Qualifying For Higher Ranks.

An announcement has been made at Barriefield that the Royal School of Artillery will open at Tete de Pont Barracks as soon as the R.C.H.A., returns to the city. This is an opportunity of intelligent recruits to enlist now and later qualify themselves as N.C.O.'s or officers.

"C" Battery, R.C.H.A. is an excellent medium for any men in Kingston who are now contemplating the joining of an overseas unit to do their duty. The call is coming stronger and there is always the possibility of the Government making men enlist as in England and likely in Australia. For this reason the chance offered Kingstonians of enlisting in "C" Battery, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, should be taken up. This with the fact that the school is coming here should certainly make a large number of recruits from the city a certainty.

The men of the city who should enlist do not appreciate the advantages that the honored old unit at Tete de Pont Barracks offers. There is a constant call for artillerymen. To give the instruction necessary to make these men qualified there are the most proficient instructors in the country and to assist them in their work there are the best of guns, horses and equipment. The artillery is the place for the higher type of citizens.

Lieut. Wilson and Lieut. Cummings, 156th Battalion, have left for Ottawa to attend a course at the School of Musketry. Capt. Vermilyea and Lieut. Scott, of this battalion, have returned from the school. A few men of the 156th Battalion have been rejected on the medical examination.

THE A.D. OF S. AND T. ARRANGING SPLENDID DEMONSTRATION

The Kingston Industrial Fair Patrons To See Splendid Exhibit Of Cooking For Soldiers.

An extensive programme of military demonstrations at the Industrial Exhibition is being arranged at the camp. The work that will be done by the Army Service Corps promises to be one of the best. It will show how the soldiers' food is prepared, and cooked in the field and on the march. The exhibition will be under the A.D. of S. and T. and will be as follows:

First day. Cooking for 140 men in the field by a single clay trench. The trench will be made and operated by Sergt.-Major Rolfe and Staff-Sergt. Brown. The single clay trench is thirteen feet long, nine inches wide and 18 inches deep at the mouth. It holds eleven kettles and cooks for 140 men. It may be constructed in two hours.

On the second day there will be shown a system of cooking for 160 men on the march in a kettle trench operated by five men. The sixteen kettles are placed on the ground as to form a trench. Each kettle holds food sufficient for fifteen men and the trench may be constructed in ten minutes.

On the third day the system of individual cooking will be shown in which the individual mess tins will be used for each man.

Lieut.-Col. G. H. Gillespie, headquarters staff, will be in Ottawa on Tuesday of next week for the purpose of presiding at a Board of Officers on clothing of the men of the Signalling Training Depot and 207th Battalion.

Forty-eight men of the 156th Battalion will be in attendance at the Industrial Fair to give a demonstration in bayonet fighting and physical training.
