LETTERS FROM TRENCHES

TRIBUTE TO HEROIC FORTITUDE OF WOUNDED SOLDIERS.
Dr. C. W. Gordon, Winnipeg, Tells Heart-stirring Story of a Crucifix Made of Twigs for a Dying Lad.
Winnipeg Free Press.
At the service in St. Stephen's church, Sunday there was read a letter from Dr. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), major chaplain of the Canadian forces in the field. The letter, which was written to the Soldiers' Institute, Chaplains' Service, Canadian Corps, on the Flanders front, August 16th as follows:
"We are just finishing our tour and expect to be relieved to-night. We are in excellent health and our boys are fit to go to their limit whenever they are called on. I never cease to wonder at them, whether I see them behind the parapet or in the dressing station. They show the same splendid spirit and heroic fortitude, cheerfulness and patience. Many a man I have seen carried bleeding, torn, battered, into the dressing station, and while they have not always been able to fight back the groans, never once have I heard a single word of complaint; never one single word of regret for having come to the war; no single word of impatience. It really breaks one's heart sometimes to see their gratitude for any little help—a drink of water, a roll of saffragas for a pillow, an easing of arm or leg—the grateful smile, the sign of deep contentment, the look up at you with such wistful eyes.
"The other night a young chap was brought in with bad wounds—my heart went out to the lad. He had lost blood, and was pallid to the lips, but his smile was bright and brave. The doctor fixed him up. He chatted away with quite cheerfulness. We took him into the adjoining dugout, or cellar, to await the ambulance. I got him some cocoa and made him comfortable. Oh, he was grateful.
"Crucifix of Twigs.
"In a little while I went back to him. I saw he must go soon. I spoke to him of his Father in Heaven. He listened eagerly. 'Shall I pray with you?' I asked. 'Yes, sir, but I am a Roman Catholic.' 'You are a Roman Catholic?' I asked. 'Yes, I have you got your Crucifix?' 'No, I left it in my kit.' I sent round to find a Crucifix among the boys round about, but, strange to say, could not find any. I made up my mind I would carry one with me after this. I went out, cut two little twigs, the doctor tied them together in the form of a cross. I held up the cross before his eyes, now growing dim. His eyes brightened, his face really shone in a smile. 'I see it, I see it. Let up my head.' I lifted it up for him. 'I can't pray,' he said. 'Never mind, God knows. Say after me, 'God be merciful to me a sinner. Forgive my sins for Jesus Christ's sake and receive me now.' He said the words after me, his eyes fixed on the Cross. Then, I placed the Cross on his head. He kissed the symbol of Infinite Love and Mercy. In a few minutes he closed his eyes and was gone. Poor boy, poor boy. I felt it was worth while leaving you and coming away just to help this poor lad in his extreme hour of need. I can't do much, but what little I can do I am glad to do.

STEACYS

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.
