

Be Thrifty

Don't deliberately throw away money by buying your fall suit or overcoat elsewhere.

Live wire suits and overcoats for young men.

Suits of English model, with narrow shoulder; form fitting coats, high cut vests and smaller trousers, priced moderately, $15.00, $18.00 to $22.00.

We have an overcoat to meet every man's taste and every man's special requirements. Prices $15.00 up to $22.00.

Livingston's,

Brock Street.

A little out of the way, but it will pay you to walk.

A Special Offering of Women's Suits & Coats for Saturday

36 only stylish fall and winter suits, made up in this season's most approved manner in black, navy and regimental blue, beautifully tailored from the most popular fabrics. Regular sold up to $22.50.

Saturday for $14.75.

Women's Winter Coats

Only forty of them in the new fall colors, made from heavy English tweeds, in belted and plain effects, at less than the price of material.

Saturday for $6.98.

Children's Navy Reefer Coats

Best English serges, heavy weight, well lined, with brass buttons and sleeve emblems.

Saturday for $3.98.

SEE THE CORNER WINDOW.

Waldron's

In Bivouac And Barracks

(See also Page 9.)

Capt. Dawl and the 154th recruiting trek party are in Ottawa to-day.

One platoon of the 155th Battalion is spending a few days leave at Coe Hill.

Lieut. J. H. Potts, Special Service Company, has been promoted to the rank of captain in the 45th Regiment.

Norman McKibbin, area supervisor for Ontario and Quebec Military Y. M. C. A. work, was in camp on Thursday.

A cattle from Captain the Rev. W. E. Kidd, states he passed through the recent big engagement on the Somme region unscathed.

F. Johnston, pay office staff, was in Cobourg on Thursday in connection with matters pertaining to the Cobourg Heavy Battery.

Sergt. R. W. Wood, 155th Battalion, formerly deputy reeve of Elizabethtown, is doing recruiting duty at Gananoque. He has been there since July and has secured some 27 recruits.

It shows the efficiency standard of Major-General Hodgins, A. G., when he cut the inspection of the troops short so that they might return without too much waste time to their private parade grounds.

We must now write it Lieut.-Col. W. H. Emsley, as our old friend has received additional recognition and honor. Col. Emsley—the Rev. W. H. Emsley, of the Montreal Methodist Conference—is now with the Ontario Military Hospital, Orpington, Kent, England.

It is quite probable that Brockville will be the recruiting headquarters for a new battalion to be enrolled from Leeds, Grenville, Dundas, Stormont, and Gengarry Counties, it being expected that Brockville and vicinity will contribute largely toward the new battalion.

The programme provided for the soldiers of Barriefield camp in the Y.M.C.A. tent was delightful on Thursday night. Mrs. J. E. C. Dobbs arranged the programme. Those who went over to the camp were: Miss Woodman, Miss Tweddell, Messrs. Robertson, Saunders, Macdonnell and Munro. After the entertainment Reg. Hudson, who acted as chairman, thanked those who took part in the programme. On Friday evening Rev. Mr. Imrie, Toronto, will address the men.

MADE A GREAT RECORD.

Steve Ayres Stepped Thirteen Heats at the Industrial Fair. Steve Ayres, owned by W. J. Muller, of Collingwood, stepped thirteen heats at the Kingston Industrial Fair, and came under the wire ten times first, which is a record for a 2.50 pacer in Canada. The free-for-all race, in which he was contesting, was the hottest race ever contested in Canada. It could not be finished in five heats, and in order to decide the winner of the race six heats had to be run off.

LOST HER ROLL OF $30.

Hotel Employee Reported Her Loss to the Police. Miss Thresa Graham, employed at the Prince George Hotel, reported to the police on Friday afternoon that she had been robbed of $30. She says she left the money in her coat, which was hanging in one of the rooms of the hotel. This is the third theft of money reported the past few days, and it is quite evident that a sneak thief has been working during the fair days.

Canadian Casualties.

Died of wounds—R. J. Bell, Belleville; V. Cesarino, Iroquois; J. E. Chapell, Thomasburg; J. E. Anderson, Pembroke. Wounded—Lieut. A. R. Ackerman, F. A. Anderson, Peterboro; W. H. Addeson, Smith's Falls; J. C. Brown, Pembroke; G. H. Gibson, Wellington; W. A. Letford, Elgin; F. R. Eggleston, Peterboro; A. Mann, Campbellford; W. C. Offord, Sydenham; J. H. O'Keefe, Sand Point; W. H. Peachey, Cobourg; A. Latour, Cornwall; G. C. Lighthouse, Peterboro; A. D. MacKinnon, Williamsburg; F. C. Hill, Peterboro; C. E. Wilkins, Brighton; J. Gierman, Egauville; R. L. Butcher, Napanee; A. E. Wartman, Newburgh.

William Offord Wounded.

In the latest list of casualties issued in the name of Pte. William Offord, Sydenham. Pte. Offord is known in the city, and after several years' experience in the 74th Regiment, of which he was a member, he enlisted in the 21st Battalion in October, 1914, sailing with that unit in May, 1915. His next of kin is George Offord, Sydenham.

Loss On Rob Roy.

The loss on the barge Rob Roy, which was burned on Wednesday afternoon, will be about $1,300. There was no insurance. The Hay Boy was a one-hundred ton barge built four years ago for the Frye Towing & Forwarding Company. The boat caught fire while pitch was being heated in the cabin of the barge.

Appointed Recruiting Officer.

Lieut. Ford McCarthy, No. 5 Field Company, Canadian Engineers, has been appointed recruiting officer for the engineers for this district. Lieut. McCarthy is a well-known Kingston boy who has been making rapid progress both as a student at Queen's University and as a soldier.

Palm Olive goods at Gibson's Drug Store. Canada's payment of separation allowances to wives and dependents of soldiers now totals more than $2,000,000 a month, and the Patriotic Fund, in addition, is expending about $1,000,000 a month among 75,000 families.

CENSOR NOT A FOOL.

He Is Quick to Frustrate Codes and Secret Devices.

"The censor is not the fool you take him to be." The above line was penned by a British censor upon a letter from an officer at the front to his wife, in which an ingenious code was discovered. It meant to disclose to the anxious wife just where her husband was fighting, but it was spotted by the censor, and an order was issued by the War Office prohibiting such practices.

Before the officer, who wrote the code letter, left for the front, he secured two maps showing the entire British fighting line. The maps identical. One he left with his wife and the other he took with him.

Thereafter, each time he wrote a letter, he placed the stationary on his map, stuck a pin through it directly over Paris, another directly over Brussels, and a third at the point where he was stationed. Upon receiving the letter, his wife would superimpose it on her map, adjusting the extreme pinholes over Paris and Brussels, and her husband's whereabouts would be indicated by the middle hole. This is but one of a score of codes and secret signals discovered by the censors recently. England does not censure the relatives of men at the front for wanting to know the locality in which they are fighting and perhaps drive but such disclosures become a menace. No one knows how extensive Germany's espionage system may be, and England is taking no chances.

Another code system used by a certain officer was more elaborate than the one pointed out by the censor, with his "fool" notation. It was arranged by the officer with his wife, just before he sailed for France, and consisted of two charts of the battle line, one of which he retained while the wife kept the other. Each map was laid out in blocks an inch square; each square could be identified by combinations of letters indicating each line of squares from left to right. Down the left hand side was another row of letters. In writing home, the officer would say: "Give my regards to L. A. Smith." Being a fictitious name, the wife would know it as a key to her secret code. Putting her finger on the "A" line of the squares on her chart, she would follow along under the "L" squares, in which was her husband's position at the front. It is improbable that this notation contained in these code letters has ever reached the Germans, but there is a possibility of such a mischance, and England is losing no opportunity to defeat a spy system that has made Englishmen gasp.

Praise for Brother-in-law.

"I cannot close this despatch without recording the brilliant work of my Chief of the Staff, Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Madden. Throughout a period of twenty-one months of war his services have been of inestimable value. His good judgment, his long experience in fleets, special gift for organization, and his capacity for unlimited work have all been of the greatest assistance to me, and have relieved me of much of the anxiety inseparable from the conduct of the fleet during the war. In stages leading up to the fleet action and during and after the action he was always at hand to assist, and his judgment was never at fault. I owe him more than I can say."

Sir Charles Madden, to whom Admiral Jellicoe pays this magnificent tribute in his story of the Jutland battle, is his brother-in-law.

Both admirals married daughters of Sir Charles Cayser, the shipping magnate. Admiral Madden married in 1905, and has one son and three daughters, while Admiral Jellicoe was married three years earlier and has four daughters.

Sir Charles has been Chief of Staff to Jellicoe since the outbreak of war. He has been continuously employed since he entered the navy forty-one years ago, a fact which shows how highly his abilities have been appreciated by the successive Boards of Admiralty.

When Asquith Laughed.

It is said that Mr. Asquith has only once been known to laugh outright while on a public platform. The record-breaking occasion was at a political meeting in Scotland.

The Premier was constantly being interrupted, one of the chief hecklers being a farmer wearing a large straw hat. Suddenly from someone in the hall came a very personal remark concerning Mr. Asquith.

"Who said that?" he demanded quickly. There was sudden silence. Then a man in the audience stood up and, pointing to the farmer with the straw hat, shouted:

"It was him w' the coo's breakfast on his head!" The reply was altogether too much for Mr. Asquith, and he had to join in the general roar of laughter.

Sheep Dogs in Australia.

In no place in the world are sheep and cattle dogs more in use than in Australia. The grazing estates are so enormous that it would be impossible to handle the great flocks without dogs. The Australian pastoralist could not possibly exist without his dogs, and that is the reason that sheep dog trials are looked upon as something amounting to national competition. Every town has its agricultural show and at all of these sheep dog trials are one of the most deserved attractions and the training that the Australian sheep dog gets is nothing short of miraculous.

Australians are among the chief buyers of English dogs with the result that excellent specimens can be found there. They boast that there has never been a case of rabies amongst the dogs—Our Dumb Animals.

A Difference.

Social usages seem to make a distinction between marrying well and marrying happily.

Mrs. Hugh M. Abercrombie while fishing along the Fraser River, near Mission, B.C., touched a power wire with her rod and was killed. Sore throats cure at Gibson's Drug Store.

THEATRICAL NEWS

To-night "The Bohemian Girl"

The Aborn Opera Company with its spectacular version of "The Bohemian Girl" is the attraction at the Grand Opera House to-night and Saturday matinee and night. This famous opera has a permanent hold upon the public affection with its picturesque romantic and interestingly told story as well as its beautiful music which has endeared itself to all lovers of melody. In the opera there follows a series of adventures and complications through which a pretty love romance is woven.

At the Strand.

Capacity business greeted the screening of the photo plays and vaudeville presented at the Strand Theatre last evening. The vaudeville is a musical novelty act, featuring Budd Holloway, who rendered some pleasing numbers on as many different instruments. The photoplay feature was a five-act Triangle play, "Stranded," starring sweet Bessie Love, who is capably supported by De Wolf Hopper. The comedy is one of those famous Keystones in two acts, entitled "A Social Cut." Same bill to-night and to-morrow.

Secret of the Submarine.

Astounds with its terrific surprises, stampedes the enthusiasm of those who sit enthralled by its fast succeeding climaxes. Great adventure, a double mystery, a globe girdling chase, a closely knit web of international intrigue, and clear cut characters. This serial is composed of fifteen episodes, chapter one will be shown in the King Edward Theatre Monday and Tuesday. The management would like as many as possible to attend in the afternoon and avoid the crowding at night. Usual admission.

JUDICIAL COMMISSIONS IN MANITOBA

Winnipeg Free Press. The Roblin Government, when it included Mr. Rogers, appointed Justice Flhippen as chairman of a commission to investigate taxation conditions in Winnipeg; Chief Justice Mathers, chairman of the commission, to report on the advisability of establishing civic hospitals in Winnipeg; Justice Cameron on a commission appointed to inquire into university matters; Judge Locke, chairman of a commission to inquire into the telephone system; Judge Ryan, commissioner to investigate the working of the provincial franchise law; Judges Locke, Prudhomme and Myers to investigate the legality of the transfer from the province the Roblin Government appointed Chief Justice Mathers to inquire into the circumstances attendant upon the escape from custody of John Krachenko, and, as its last official act in April, 1915, the appointment of Chief Justice Mathers and Justice Macdonald as commissioners to examine into the charges relative to the construction of the parliament buildings. As a member of the Dominion Government, Mr. Rogers was a party to the appointment of the Meredith-Duff commission, which investigated the charges made in Parliament by George W. Kytte.

CONSERVATIVE PAPER SPEAKS PLAIN THINGS

Montreal Mail. The upshot of it all is, according to the logic of newspapers like the Toronto Telegram and the Ottawa Journal, that Ministers of the Crown should be encouraged to invite contractors to increase their tenders for public works. When matter comes before a Royal Commission the occasion lends inspiration to the minister, and sleeping wrongs are exposed on the spot. The minister need have no fear of the disclosures. All he has to do is to "soak the judge" who happens to be doing duty at the time, and if he has enough newspapers in his retinue, the chances are he'll get away with it.

One of the recent British seizures of teeth consisted of one hundred dozen sets, some having rubber plates and others composed of materials supposedly needed badly in Germany.

Vancouver has 12,000 men between eighteen and forty-five years of age and medically fit.

Special for Saturday Morning

9.30 to 11.30

We have just secured three particularly good things, and these we will offer tomorrow morning from 9.30 to 11.30.

We cannot accept telephone orders for these three specials.

347 Pairs Ladies' Black Undressed Kid Gloves

A genuine French glove in sizes 6, 6 1/2, 6 3/4, 7. These are perfect fitting and worth regularly now $1.50 pair. Yours tomorrow morning, $1.00 pair.

1000 Yards Crash Towelling

A union linen that gives excellent wear, and is now almost impossible to get. The wholesale price of this make today is 13 1/2c yard. Your tomorrow morning 11c yard.

100 Full Sized Cotton Sheets

With deep hem. A good English sheeting and worth $2.00 a pair. Yours tomorrow morning 80c each.

New Veilings for fall.
New Neckwear for fall.
New Fall Hosiery.
New Kid Gloves for fall.
New Underwear for fall.

John Laidlaw & Son

Men's Walk-Over Shoes Now Ready

The Lockett Shoe Store