A BAD FOG RESPONSIBLE

FOR THE GROUNDING OF STEAMER SIMLA ON TUESDAY.

Members of the Crew Were Taken Off by the Tug Bronson—Steamer Nipigon May Have to Be Abandoned.

A heavy fog, which came up very suddenly, was responsible for the steamer Simla, of the Montreal Transportation Company, going aground in the Narrows, near Brockville, on Tuesday morning. Marine men state that the fog was the worst which has been experienced this season. The members of the crew of the Simla were taken off by Capt. Luke Mullen and crew of the tug Bronson, of the Montreal Transportation Company. The Bronson discovered that the Simla was in trouble, and went to the scene as speedily as possible. The aft part of the boat was under water, with the bow pushed up against a rock. While the vessel was taking water, the members of the crew were in no great danger. Capt. John Donnelly, of the Donnelly Wrecking Company, was at the scene of the wreck on Tuesday, and made an inspection, but on Wednesday morning it had not been decided whether an effort would be made to raise the vessel. The steamer Nipigon, which went aground near Morrisburg on Tuesday morning, may have to be abandoned, according to the latest report. The vessel is in very bad shape.

M. T. Co.'s Bulletin: The tug Bronson cleared for Montreal with two grain barges; the tug Bartlett cleared with the barge Winnipeg to load grain at Port Colborne, and will return with the barges Hamilton and Sellack from Port Dalhousie; the tug Emerson is due to arrive during the day with the barges Muskoka and Lapwing, loaded with coal from Sodus.

The steamer Bickerdike passed down at 7 o'clock Tuesday night.

The steamers Hamiltonian and Oakland are expected to pass down today.

The steamer Phelps arrived from Charlotte with coal for the C. P. R. wharf.

The schooner Horace Taber cleared for Oswego.

The schooner Julia B. Merrill arrived at the Waterworks wharf with coal from Sodus.

The steamer Jex expected to clear during Wednesday for Charlotte.

A very heavy fog prevailed during Tuesday night. The fog horn was kept busy all night.

On Tuesday night the Whig published a comment from the London Advertiser regarding a sixteen-year-old lad being given a year and a half in the Central Prison on a charge of desertion by a Justice of the Peace at Kingston. This was an error, as the lad in question was remanded to jail for eight days. The Justice mentioned something about giving him a year and a half in order to scare him.
