APPEALS FOR MORE RED CROSS CONTRIBUTIONS

Warden Halliday Has Addressed Letters to Reeves of the Townships.

James Halliday, warden of Frontenac, has addressed a letter to the Reeves of the municipalities of the county, drawing their attention to the fact that the Ontario Government is making another appeal on behalf of the British Red Cross Society for a contribution on the 19th inst., and urging them to put the matter before their people. The warden suggests that, if possible, it would be well to form ladies' committees in different sections of each township, or interest organizations already in existence to make a personal canvass. Each township council could supplement by a grant any amount procured in this way.

"It is unnecessary," continues the letter, "to call your attention to the importance of this fund as the British drive has resulted in heavy casualties, making enormous demands on the Red Cross funds, and we should all have a privilege to contribute something to relieve the suffering of our brave soldiers and sailors who are so manfully battling for the cause of liberty."

The warden concludes his appeal by expressing the hope that the matter will have prompt attention and that Frontenac will make a generous response.

THEATRICAL NEWS

"Twin Beds" at Grand To-night.

With a laugh in every line and a laugh quite worth-while, such as will echo in your memory as you go home, with this requisite for a comedy that is destined to wear for a long time, "Twin Beds" comes to the Grand to-night, under the direction of A. S. Stern and Company. "Twin Beds" ran for one solid year in New York, six months in Australia and has already reached its second year in London. Productions are also shortly to be made in Paris, Berlin, Petrograd, Rome, Madrid, South America and South Africa; thus will "Twin Beds" literally put a circle of laughter around the earth. "Twin Beds" is said to raise a veritable cyclone of laughter during the course of its three rapid-fire acts. Not in many, many moons have the walls of the Grand re-echoed to more spontaneous laughter as they will tonight, for from the rise of the curtain to its final fall, the fun will not be allowed to flag for one moment, and we assure the young lady of seventeen that she can take her mama to see "Twin Beds" without the slightest misgiving.

At Grand on Thursday.

An excellent bill has been secured for the Grand Opera House for tomorrow and Friday afternoon and evening, the program includes a five-reel feature photoplay, starring Harry Hilliard, and June Caprice, in "Caprice of the Mountains," a refreshing story of the out-of-doors. A Universal two-reel photoplay, a comedy and the Pathé News. On the vaudeville end of the bill appears Miss Francis Wright, a very clever violinist and singer, and Jofollo and Arnoldi, Italian seranaders. A high class musical act. This splendid program is for Friday and Saturday only, as Guy Brothers' minstrels occupy the Grand for Saturday matinee and night.

Thanksgiving Day at the Grand.

"A Pair of Queens," the biggest comedy success that New York and Chicago have had in many years, is announced for an engagement at the Grand on Thanksgiving Day, matinee and night. When "A Pair of Queens" appears here local playgoers will see a production which taught Chicago how to laugh during a wonderful run of over twenty weeks at the Cort Theatre.

At the Strand.

Another capacity house was the order of things at the Strand last night. "Dorothy Gish," in "The Little School Ma'am" pleased all by her clever interpretation. Lawler and Levitt made a big hit in their clever act. To-night is the last chance to see this bill. For the last three days of the week the headline attraction is Bessie Barriscale, in a five-act drama, "The Payment." Eddie Foy, world-famed comedian, and the seven little Foy's will also be seen in a two-act Keystone, "A Favorite Fool" a two-reel Biograph. "Merry Mary," and other good reels will also be shown. Two good acts of vaudeville will also be on the program.
