WINNER OF WHIG'S PRIZE

FOR THE BEST ESSAY ON THE FRANKVILLE FAIR

Is Miss V. C. Cauley, of Lombardy—Mrs. James Irvine, of Smith's Falls. Also contributed a Good Article. The following article contributed by Miss V. C. Cauley, Lombardy, has won the Whig's prize for the best essay on the Frankville Fair. Other articles were received, one from Mrs. James Irvine, Smith's Falls, the other from Miss Bertha M. Chapman, Plum Hollow. Mrs. Irvine's essay is also published herewith.

Frankville Fair. Frankville Fair for 1916 opened on Thursday morning, 28th ult., with the placing in position of exhibits. The grounds presented a busy scene with the usual hustle and bustle getting ready for the big fair. The forenoon was fine and warm, and everybody had great anticipation for a bumper crowd on the morrow, but a heavy rain settling in late in the afternoon and continuing all night and the greater part of Friday the directors found it necessary to postpone the fair until the following day. Owing to the postponement and to the inclement weather the gate receipts were scarcely two-thirds of the preceding year, but those who fortunately were there had the pleasure of meeting old friends and making new ones. Pleasant greetings, hearty handshakes, neighborly chats, helped to dispel the cares of life, and the friends departed with happy thoughts of meeting again next year.

The directors of Frankville Fair have the honor of having the best live stock show of any township fair in Eastern Ontario, because during the past years and at the present time every effort is being put forth to run the fair in the interest of agriculture, horticulture and live stock improvement. The directors believe these to be the primary objects for which agricultural societies were first established and subsidized by the government and municipal grants. Those who were present saw the grand display of fancy horses and fancy turkeys, choice cattle of every breed, sheep of the finest varieties, swine of every pedigree breed, the grand poultry show, farm and garden products, agricultural implements and machinery, and last, but not least, the grand display of ladies' work and decorative art.

The speed contests of fast horses Saturday afternoon furnished excellent entertainment, and the events of the track furnished plenty of excitement. The free-for-all was an interesting contest, won by Gamey K. with Zeno II and Prince Deveras fighting for the lead every inch of the way.

The 2.30 class was won by Baby Kitchener, closely pressed by Bonard L. and Opera Star and Little Hector well up. While the above races were in progress special prizes were being awarded for the best single turnouts, lady drivers, carriage horses, saddle horses and carriage colts in harness. The proceedings were greatly enlivened by the abundance of excellent music provided by the Boys' Band of Smith's Falls, and the Bugle Band of the 15th Battalion, Barriefield, who came on Thursday, accompanied by Capt. Hagar. Both bands produced remarkably fine music, eliciting hearty applause and many commendatory remarks. The merry-go-round man was not there, to the great disappointment of the kiddies, but the larger children took much pleasure in the Aunt Sallies, and when the fair was quite over a crowd was still there. Walter Hanton had charge of the refreshment booth, and did a thriving business. Most noteworthy was the absence of fakirs and games of chance.

The directors and managing committee have much need to be proud of the hearty co-operation of the citizens of Frankville and the surrounding district, who take such a personal interest in the fall exhibit by boosting it at every possible opportunity, entering exhibits and helping to swell the attendance. The work of the officials has thus been made easier and the exhibition has grown and flourished under the encouraging influence of a multitude of friends. In every class the entries and exhibits were superior to any previous year, except in the grain, roots and vegetables. Among those who exhibited horses were: Enos Soper, W.

By Mrs. James Irvine, Smith's Falls. Frankville Fair was held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, Sept. 28th, 29th and 30th. From early Thursday morning a lively interest was shown in every quarter of the village and grounds and the countryside. Active officers and directors filed into place in their usual business-like manner. Helpful lady directors arranged the work in the hall, where a good exhibit of needlework and art was shown, while in the rooms below were shown a good display of vegetables, roots, flowers and home-made cooking.

The object of the officers and directors of Frankville fair hold-in view is to promote interest in agriculture, horticulture and live stock improvement and to mete justice to its exhibitors in those lines. Their object is having its effect upon the countryside, as shown by the increase in the entries from year to year in all classes. Owing to a disagreeable downfall of rain on Friday, the fair was held over till Saturday, when the weather man was good to the people at Frankville, and the sun shone in all its glory and the grounds filled up with anxious visitors, eager again to see Frankville fair the meeting of friends and neighbors, hastening to the centre ring to take up a stand so as to be able to take in all that is going on at once—judging of horses and children's races, etc., while the bigger sports go on around the track.

There was the continual rush to the exhibition hall, where the eyes could revel in needlework and art; then a run over downstairs to see the roots and vegetables and home-made cooking and flowers, and many were the exclamations over the good display of potatoes as many said: "The best I have seen this year."

Then came a visit to the cattle sheds and poultry houses, where a good display of both were shown. What attracted my attention mostly in the poultry house was an exhibit of lovely white Silbies. A subject which interested me very much came up on the grounds Saturday afternoon with a couple of my friends. "Why is there so much money spent in prizes on horses and cattle and so little on the ladies' work?" One of my friends argued that the directors gave the most money to the most useful things, and those were the horses and cattle, and further, that very few men would attend a fair if the live stock were not exhibited. While my other friend argued that men had no idea how much time and money were spent on this needlecraft and how interested some men were in the work of their wife or daughter. Many good points were brought out on both sides, but the mystery was left unsolved with the concluding words, "Well, the object of a country fair is to promote the interest in agriculture and live stock."

Tonight sure! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store now? Eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel-cleansing you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or bother you all the next day like calomel, salts and pills. They act gently but thoroughly. Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascaret any time. They are harmless and children love them.

Frankville Fair. The day passed over busily and pleasantly, and by 5 p.m. the business and amusements were brought to a close and friends dispersed with pleasant memories of another good day on the old fair grounds. Those exhibiting articles in the hall packed up their precious goods and hiked for another fair, while the industrious farmer led home his thrifty herd of Holstein or Jersey, and the small boy, cranking peanuts or Cracker Jack, drove home the calves and lambs. Old Sol settled behind the trees, and the dew fell on the empty fair grounds at Frankville.

GET RID OF HUMORS AND AVOID DISEASE Humors in the blood cause internal derangements that affect the whole system, as well as pimples, boils and other eruptions. They affect all the organs and functions, membranes and tissues, and are directly responsible for the readiness with which some people contract disease. For forty years Hood's Sarsaparilla has been more successful than any other medicine in expelling humors and removing their inward and outward effects. It is distinguished for its thoroughness in purifying the blood, which it enriches and invigorates. No other medicine acts like it, for its effect is like that of the Great Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Insist on having Hood's.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath, and tongue is coated, if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel, like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

cover contracts let by the Imperial Munitions Board, representing that attempts have been made by persons claiming to possess influence with this board to secure commissions from contractors for the supposed exercise of such influence in the contractors' behalf. The measure which it is understood the Government has under consideration is the provision of a substantial fine and term of imprisonment for any person who attempts to secure or does secure a commission on these grounds.

If the punishment is made similar to that laid down in section 158 of the Criminal Code, as seems probable the offender will be liable to a fine of $100 and $1,000 and imprisonment for one month or a year, with six months for default, in respect to the fine.
