How To Make A Good Hair Tonic At Home

If you have been using hair tonics purchased ready made at the drug stores you can probably save some money and get a great deal better results by using the following recipe which has been remarkably successful in stopping loss of hair and making new hair grow on bald and thin spots. Anyone can easily make it at home. Simply mix 2 oz. of Lavone De Compose with 8 oz. of pure Bay Rum and then add one-half dozen of crushed crystals and a little perfume if desired. The preparation should be well shaken and then allowed to stand a few hours before using. All these ingredients can be obtained from any well stocked drug store. In applying be sure to not merely wet the hair but rub the tonic right into the scalp as its ability to grow new hair depends entirely upon its nourishment being absorbed by your hair roots. This preparation has been widely used for years and is entirely harmless and will not make the hair greasy or sticky. Ladies should be careful not to apply to face where hair is not desired. G. L. B. Birmingham, N.Y.

FAREWELL DINNER OF 155TH BATTALION

Friends of the Battalion Attended an Enjoyable Function at Camp.

A very enjoyable farewell dinner, with a small number of friends of the 155th Battalion present, was held in the officers' mess on Thursday evening. The guest of honor was Brig-Gen. T. D. R. Hemming, camp commandant, and the other guests were: Lieut.-Col. H. R. Wilson, Lieut.-Col. D. Barrager, Major J. M. Wilson, Major J. Hamilton, Capt. T. A. Kidd and Capt. W. J. McManus, with the two camp press representatives.

After the toast to "The King," Lieut.-Col. M. K. Adams, officer commanding the 155th, in a few words thanked the visitors for their assistance during the camp season, and called on Gen. Hemming for a few words. Gen. Hemming, speaking as a soldier to soldiers gave some advice that shows his experience of military matters. He referred at some length to the matter of discipline and its beneficial effect when units are being handled.

After hearing from Col. Wilson, who remarked that he had always had a particular fondness for the Belleville (his home) unit, Col. Barrager was called to his feet, and showed that because of his residence in Belleville and for other reasons he had called the 155th "his" battalion. Major J. M. Wilson, Major J. Hamilton, Capt. T. A. Kidd, Capt. W. J. McManus and the press representatives were also called upon for a few words.

SAW IN STREET CAR ABOUT SON'S BRAVERY

J. Russell Stuart Was in Toronto When News Was Published.

To be riding in a street car in Toronto and see his son's photograph in a newspaper, with a story about his gallant work at the front, taking twenty German prisoners with the aid of just one other man, was the experience of J. Russell Stuart, inspector of schools here. Mr. Stuart happened to be in Toronto when the news came to his home here that his son, Lieut. Cecil Stuart, had been mentioned for gallant service. The news was sent to Toronto. While on a car Mr. Stuart sat behind a man who was reading a copy of the Toronto Star, and he happened to hear the man make a remark. "Well sir, that's good work, isn't it?" At this remark Mr. Stuart looked over the man's shoulder, and there, in front of him in the newspaper, he noticed a picture of his son and a story about his good work.

"Excuse me, but let me have that paper a minute," broke in Mr. Stuart. "That's my son referred to there." The man with the newspaper was only too glad to meet the father of the young man here, and handed over the newspaper in quick order. The item in the Star was the first intimation that the father had of his son's work, and the incident goes to show how news travels.

MYSTERIOUS INJURY.

Capt. McGlade Lies Unconscious in the Hotel Dieu.

Capt. Peter McGlade, aged seventy-five, 48 Lower Rideau street, is lying unconscious in the Hotel Dieu. He met with some kind of an accident Thursday night, but was able to walk home. Shortly afterwards he became unconscious. Dr. McCarthy was summoned and had him removed to the Hotel Dieu in Corbett's ambulance.

When he left the house Thursday evening he had $5 in his pocket, and on his return the money was gone. This suggests that he may have met with foul play. There is a wound in the back of his head and his back is scraped. It is possible, however, that he was seized with an acute attack of kidney trouble.

ONLY 100 HORSE-POWER.

So Far Being Used From Kingston Mills Plant. So far the Utilities manager has been able to use only 100 horse-power of Kingston Mills electrical energy, as the new machinery has not yet arrived for receiving more. This 100 horse-power is just enough for one circuit of the street lighting. It is hoped to get temporary machinery through the Hydro-electric Commission within two weeks so that 300 horse-power can be taken and all the street lighting handled from Rideau water power.

Canadian Casualties.

Killed in action—J. W. Wishart, Arranport; Charles Bailey, Calabogie; W. E. Hayes, Chesterville; J. T. Sandeland, Lindsay. Died of wounds—S. Smith, Peterboro.

Wounded—A. R. Ackerman, J. H. Losey, Marvin King, Peterboro; R. Carter, Lakefield; P. R. McIvor, Cataract; E. J. W. Lawrence, Tweed; John Ward, Belleville.

An Unlucky Day.

The records of Fire Chief Armstrong show that on Friday, the 13th day of October, an alarm was sent in at 10.30 a.m. for a fire at the home of George Holland, 49 Lower Rideau street. Hot stove pipes caused the trouble. The damage was slight.

At 1.05 p.m. the firemen got another call from the home of Miss Woortendyke, 165 Bagot street where a coal oil stove exploded. Luckily a blanket was thrown on the fire, and this prevented it from spreading, and the damage was not serious.

Grand Jury Report.

The Grand Jury in connection with the Assize Court this week has reported that it found the public institutions in excellent condition. It advocates larger grants for charitable institutions, and recommends that the Home for the Aged fire escapes be improved as soon as possible.

It is officially announced that the Royal Bank of Canada will purchase the Quebec Bank.
