DEATH OF JEREMY TAYLOR

PASSED AWAY FRIDAY MORNING AFTER TWO MONTHS' ILLNESS.

Had Been Manager of Bank of British North America for Past Fifteen or Sixteen Years—Was a Progressive Citizen.

Jeremy Taylor, manager of the Kingston branch of the Bank of British North America for the last fifteen or sixteen years, passed away Friday morning at his residence on King street after an illness of about two months. Before coming to Kingston he was manager of banks at Quebec, Fredericton and London.

Mr. Taylor was born in Kingston, and was a son of the late Lieut.-Col. J. Barton Taylor, of the Imperial service. He married the eldest daughter of the late Hon. William Elder, M.A., LL.D., of St. John, N. B., who, with two sons, survives him. The sons are Jeremy, who is with the 72nd Queen's Battery, now at Petawawa, and Kenneth, a lieutenant in the 21st Battalion, who was wounded in battle and who is now in the officers' hospital at Anstie Grange, Surrey, Eng. Two brothers and two sisters also survive. The brothers are Hedley V. of Taylor, McLeish & Co., Detroit, and Charles M., of the firm of Osler, Hammond & Nanton, Winnipeg. The sisters are Mrs. Heepeler, Waterloo, and Mrs. Macdonell, Montreal.

During his residence in Kingston Mr. Taylor proved himself to be a most valuable citizen, and his services will not soon be forgotten. He was an active member of the Board of Trade, and was greatly interested in all that made for the progress of the city. He was a popular member of the Yacht Club, and a valued member of the congregation of St. George's Cathedral. His passing will be keenly regretted by citizens generally and will be deeply lamented by those who enjoyed his friendship.

Ex-Ald. Edward Bennett Dead.

On Thursday evening a telegram was received in the city announcing the death at Fort William of ex-Ald. Edward Bennett, who was for many years a prominent resident of this city. For several years he was elevator foreman in this city for the Montreal Transportation Company, and moved to Fort William with his family about four years ago to take a similar position in one of the elevators there. He was a man of sterling qualities, with a wide circle of friends, and the news of his death was learned with sincere regret. Mr. Bennett served in the City Council as a representative of Cataract ward, and prior to his entering the City Council served on the Board of Education for many years, giving able service on both bodies. The late Mr. Bennett was a prominent Orangeman and a member of the Calvary Congregational church. He is survived by his wife and family. One son, Thomas, a clerk in the Kingston Post Office, left for Fort William on Thursday night.

Died at Cape Vincent, N. Y.

J. A. Scobell died at Cape Vincent, N. Y., on Thursday after a prolonged illness. Deceased was a native of Kingston, where he spent his early boyhood. About 1858 he left Kingston for Cape Vincent, where he established a very successful business. This business has been recently conducted by his son Albert, who, with his sisters, Mrs. Sackett and Mrs. Gilchrist, of Cape Vincent; Mrs. White, of Troy; and Mrs. J. D. Craig, of Ottawa, constitute the family who are bereaved.

In Bivouac And Barracks

(See also Page 8.)

Lieuts. G. D. Dardis and N. G. Reynolds have returned from the School of Musketry to duty with the 154th Battalion.

Pte. Harvey Tripp, Special Service Company, has been detailed for recruiting duty in the district.

Capt. Billings, Camp paymaster's staff, has returned to duty from Ottawa.

A soldier asks the Whig this question: "What is the use of putting the 154th Battalion in kilts and delaying its departure to England till the new clothing comes, when all Canadian units that go overseas are now broken up and divided among battalions at the front?" Who can answer?

Capt. W. F. FitzGerald, headquarters staff chaplain, presided at a record meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening, at which Bishop Bidwell gave an address of farewell to the soldiers of the camp. There were over 300 soldiers present in the big tent, and the words of His Lordship were eagerly listened to and loudly applauded. During the entertainment Miss Rosevear and R. Hudson gave a duet, and Miss Walker also rendered musical selections.

T. Pearson is to be in charge of the Military Y. M. C. A. work in Kingston during the winter.

A late announcement on Friday was to the effect that Captains McGirl, Renton, Baird, Stewart and Manser of the Dental Corps would be leaving for overseas as a trial shortly.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

The programme at the Grand Opera House is most elaborate, and last night thoroughly pleased the great audience. William Farnum, in a stirring drama of love and adventure, "The Man From Bitter Roots," was the main feature. The picture is an intricate story, which weaves into one the lives of three persons, and also deals with mining conditions in the great west. A one-act comedy, "Come On"; the Universal Animated Weekly; a comedy picture, Betty's Hobo; and the Pathe News were also shown, and proved entertaining. The vaudeville is good. Loistro, in a whistling act, is a wonder. Figaro and Murray, in a black-face comedy singing and dancing specialty, were rich. Same bill to-night and Saturday.

At the Strand.

A big house attended the Strand last evening to see Mae Marsh in "The Marriage of Molly-O." It is one of the most refreshing photographs seen here in many months. The other pictures were good. The vaudeville consists of Henry Miller, monologist, who puts over some clever rapid fire stuff. Ford & Richards are also exceptionally good in an up-to-the-minute singing and talking act.

STOPS TORONTO PAPER TO TAKE DAILY WHIG

After Six Months' Experience Reader Finds the Whig the Best.

That the Daily Whig is appreciated pretty thoroughly throughout Eastern Ontario is proven by letters received at the office from time to time. In to-day's mail we received the following letter from a Phillips-ville resident:

"As my subscription to the Toronto Daily Globe has expired, I thought I would come back to the old, reliable Whig. It seems as though some person has been away from home for the last six months. Enclosed you will find postal note for $1.25, for which you will please send me the Daily Whig for six months."

The Whig is putting out such a splendid paper these days, both in quantity and quality, that a great many people are stopping their subscriptions to the Toronto and Montreal papers and taking the Daily British Whig instead. They find they secure just as much reading matter—though perhaps not as many pages of department store advertisements, etc.—and they get the news fresher and sooner. The Whig also features local and Eastern Ontario news, something to which the outside papers pay very little attention.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Tippler Who Drank Montreal Liquor Was Fined in Court.

One lone and lonely drunk, occupied the prisoner's dock at the police court on Friday morning, and he shared the same fate as all the others coming under the Temperance Act. The offender was William McGrath, a young man, who was gathered in by Constable Thomas Mullinger, at 11 o'clock on Thursday night. The fine was $10 and costs, and it was paid.

When questioned by the magistrate, McGrath said that he had secured his liquor from Montreal. Judging by the statements made to the police, recently, the Montreal liquor dealers must be going a rushing business from Kingston.

PASSED A GRATUITY.

Board of Education Honored Memory of the Late W. R. Sills.

The Board of Education, as a mark of esteem for the splendid services rendered by the late W. R. Sills, M.A., mathematical master at the Collegiate Institute, and regarded as one of the most efficient masters in the province, passed a gratuity of three months' salary to be sent to his widow, with an expression of the board's sincere sorrow at the loss she has sustained. The board honored his memory, his efficiency, and his stalwart worth.

New Optical Parlors.

J. J. Stewart, late optometrist and optician with R. J. Rodger, Princess street, has resigned his position with that establishment and started practice for himself at the corner of Wellington and Clarence streets, opposite the Post office. Here he has one of the best equipped of optical stores. Mr. Stewart is a post graduate of two colleges, as well as having tuition from two of the most prominent optometrists in Canada, which together with his many years of practice in the best establishments in Canada, gives him credit, as many will know in Kingston, he has been very successful in his practice here in the last eighteen months.
