A BLEAK AND STIFF WIND

BLEW HARD ACROSS BARRIEFIELD CAMP ON FRIDAY

It Made Preparations For Move Very Difficult But Every One Was Busy With Much To Do.

The rain and bleak wind that blew across Barriefield camp on Friday was appropriate to the feelings of those who had to see the 155th and 156th Battalion members packing up and getting ready for their departure. The camp will be lacking in soldiers except that the 154th will still be across the road. The boys are both sorry and glad. They do not want to go. They are going because their patriotic spirit demands that they go. They are leaving home friends, and going to the last stage of training and they take with them the remembrance of a splendid summer. The Whig has taken a place at the camp that made it feel almost of the camp itself. The interests of the boys are the Whig's interests, and it has done its best to give the readers the story of the summer training. The boys are going away and the least that can be said is that they will be missed.

Everything about the lines of the two battalions is suggestive of the big event—the long trip and the mystery that follows. The officers present a dishevelled appearance as the hundreds of papers and documents are being packed away for safe keeping. The officers themselves are writing letters and telegrams on military and personal business that must be finished immediately. The men are packing up and attending to the thousand matters that must be arranged. There are tents to be taken down and what seems to be a million details attended to. The whole scheme of things is an abrupt break in the quiet, even conduct of the training for months back, and it will be quite a while before the military element will adjust itself to the change.

WAITING FOR THE KILTS.

The 154th Will be in Camp For Only a Few Days.

There will be Scotch caps and doublets arriving in the camp in a very few days for the 154th Battalion, but officers of the battalion do not expect the complete outfit, including kilts, before the unit leaves for England. The temporary stay-over of the battalion, however, is to allow it to have part at least of the fighting Scotch garb.

T. PEARSON IS IN CHARGE

WILL TAKE OVER CITY Y.M.C.A. WORK FOR SOLDIERS

He is Making Arrangements For the Winter's Social and Moral Welfare Work.

The announcement that Thomas Pearson of the Military Y.M.C.A. was to be in charge of the work for the soldiers stationed here during the winter is received with pleasure in military circles. "Tom" as he is known by everyone at Barriefield, is a Tipperary boy, who after being social secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in York, England, came to Canada and cast his lot, after a term of training, with that of the Canadian soldier.

At Barriefield he proved his worth as a Y.M.C.A. worker and was always in the centre of a group of boys who were eagerly discussing with him every subject under the sun. His genial personality made him a favorite, and he is all the time making new friends, who are thus able to benefit from his Y.M.C.A. training.

Mr. Pearson trained as a Y.M.C.A. worker at the University of Springfield, Mass., and the university paper, "The Springfield Student," pays him a deep compliment that he has proven by his work at Barriefield to be thoroughly deserved.

No arrangements for the winter's work have been made yet but it will probably be carried on as in the two previous winters in such a way that some arrangement will always be given the soldiers.

THE 93RD BATTALION

Has Ceased To Exist As a Separate Unit.

That the 93rd Peterborough Battalion has ceased to exist as a separate unit of the Canadian Expeditionary Force is evidenced by a cablegram received from Capt. J. H. Burnham, paymaster of the 93rd. Capt. Burnham's message was to the effect that the staff of the battalion are being transferred to the 39th Reserve Battalion. It is generally known that many of the officers and the vast majority of the men of the Peterborough Battalion are now in France to take up the work for which they enlisted and now with the transferring of the staff to the 39th Reserve Battalion has passed into history. A short time ago it was announced that the 93rd were to be converted into a training battalion which would have meant that the Peterborough unit would have retained its identity and been used to prepare fresh drafts and an athletic programme were conducted, which proved to be very interesting both to the pupils and parents.

At four o'clock the hall was thrown open, and everyone was given an opportunity to see the exhibits and prizes awarded. Later the names of the prize winners were announced and the prize money awarded. The prize winners were:

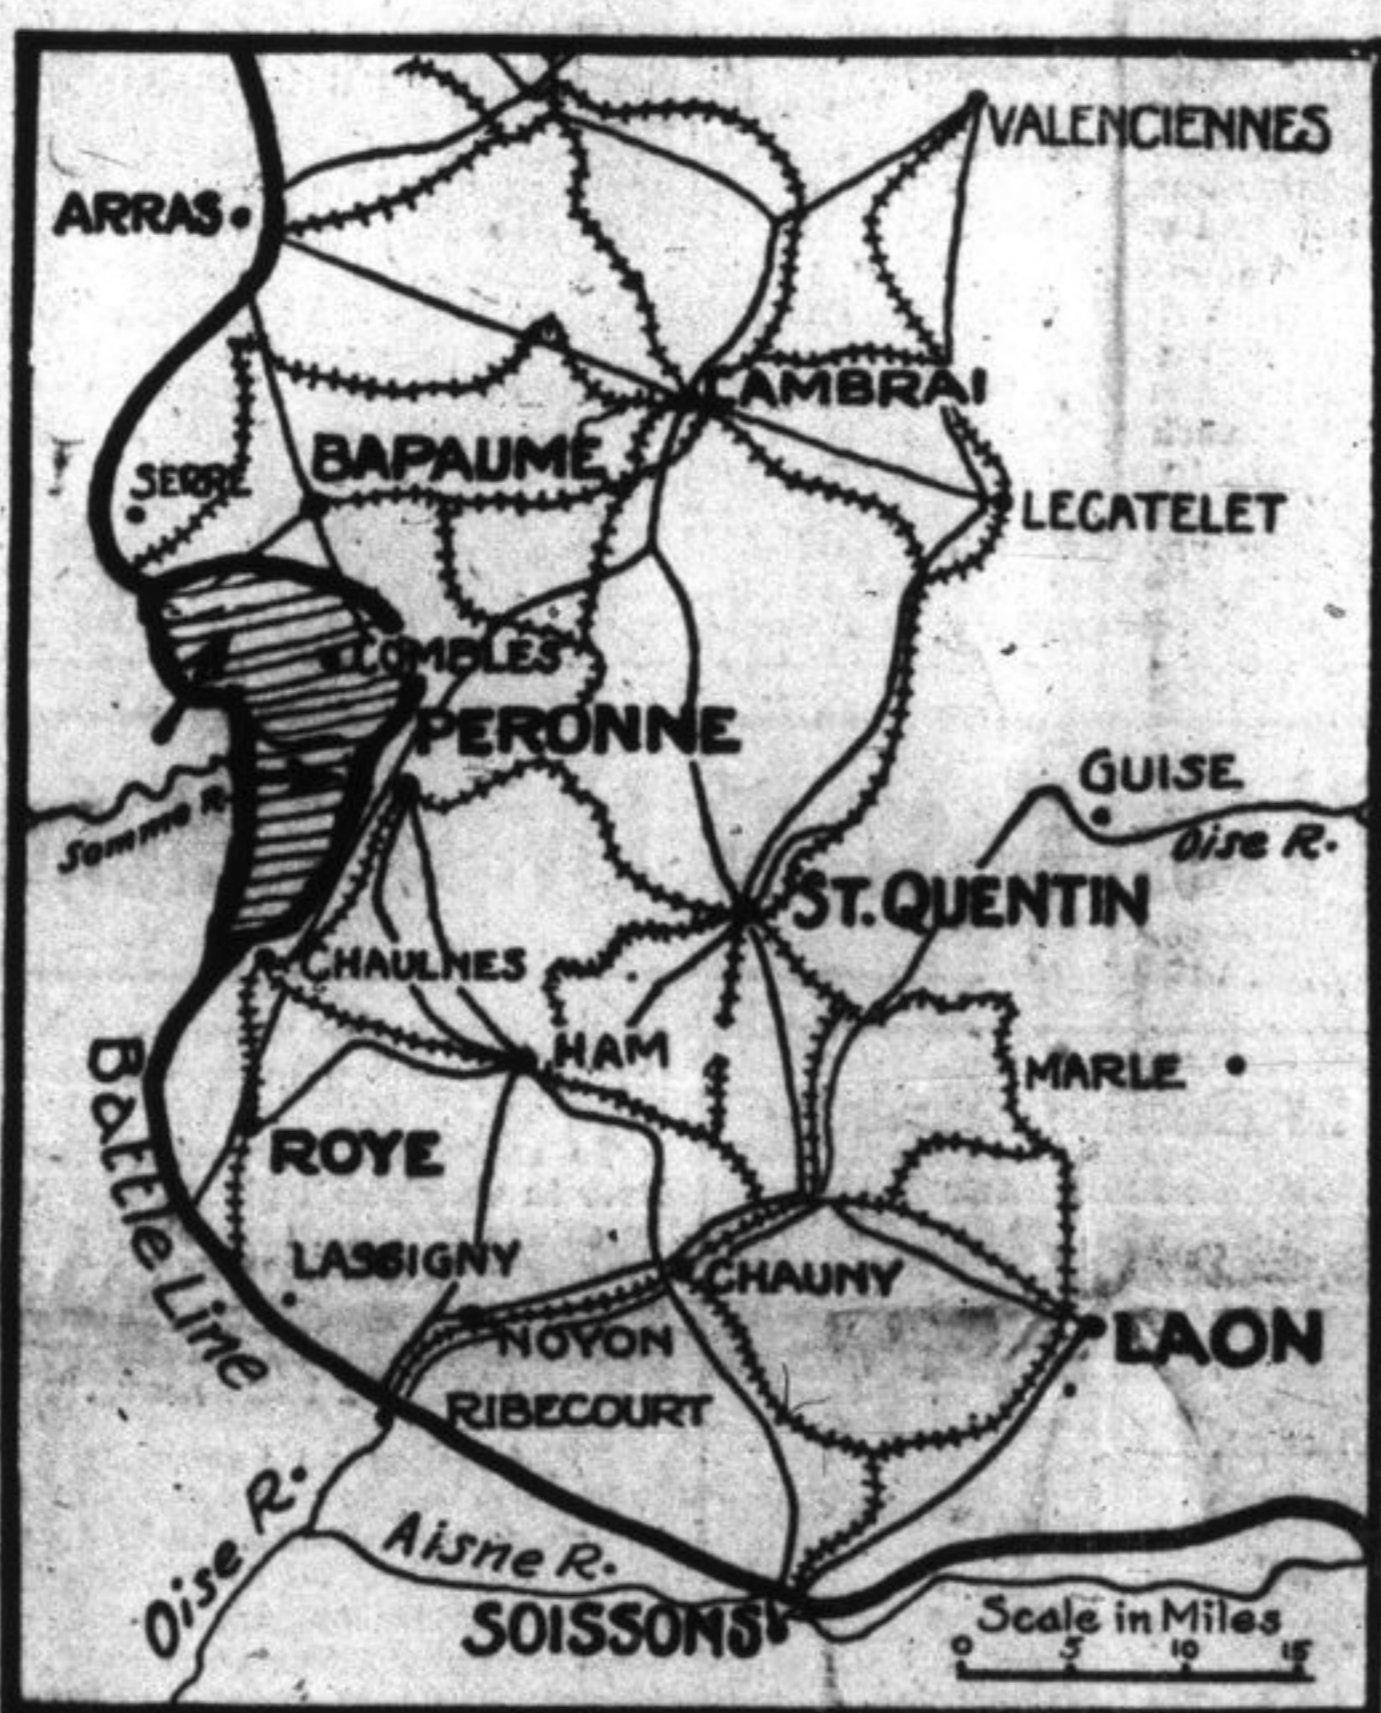

Potatoes, best twelve Irish Cobblers, Cecil Carleton, Frank Reed, Floyd Snider, Eva Walcott, Ha Westbrook, C'nat Sigsworth.

Potatoes, best peck Irish Cobblers, Leslie Whitty, Harold Stover. Potatoes, Davies Warriger, James Milligan, Pearl Stover, Justine O'Reilly, Annie Carr, James Shangraw.

BIG FRENCH ADVANCE ON SOMME.

Shifting their attacks to the south of the Somme river, the French have captured 3½ miles of German trenches, taking Rovent and 1,200 prisoners. Shaded portion shows the advance.

from Canada for the firing line. This plan has apparently been done away with. The 39th Reserve Battalion has ever since its arrival in England been the training unit for Eastern Ontario troops and is evidently to remain so. The officers of the 93rd who are transferred to the 39th will be used in the work of putting the final touches on the new soldiers from Canada. It is likely that the fine staff of non-commissioned officers of the 93rd will find that their services will be required in England for instructional purposes and for a time at least not many of the sergeants will see the firing line. Letters received by the Examiner yesterday show that the 93rd Bugle Band has ceased to exist. The majority of the buglers and drummers have gone to France with the different drafts selected from the battalion, and those left in England are too young to go to the firing line. The brass band was still intact according to the last word received.

Bill Knew. An officer lately returned from Alexandria carried home a story of the British soldier's humor. A curious collecting captain had prevailed upon two privates to move his effects. They managed everything except a weighty packing-case. As they passed to wipe the sweat from their brows one asked: "What the deuce is in it, Bill?" "Pyramids," answered Bill promptly.

Two or three recruits a day are coming in to the 154th Battalion.

1,100 OFFICERS AND MEN

FROM PETAWAWA ARTILLERY CAMP HAVE GONE TO ENGLAND

The Depot Brigade of Kingston is Practically Stripped of Officers and Men By the Draft.

Lieut. H. L. Sheppard, "C" Battery, R.C.H.A. is going overseas in the next fifteen days with a draft of 128 men from the battery. There is a movement of 1,100 men from Petawawa camp and of the Kingston Depot Artillery Brigade every officer and man, with the exception of the battery commanders, are going overseas. Among the officers to go are Lieuts. Hanlon, Livingston, Macpherson, Elmer, Garrett and Wilkinson. It is expected that about October 27th the Depot Brigade which will be only a skeleton and the R.C.H.A. will be returning to the city for the winter. The Artillery brigade will take over the Drydock Barracks and the R.C.H.A. will of course go back into Tete de Pont Barracks. Because of the fact that it is expected that some 300 men will be in "C" Battery most of the time, the engineers are making extensive repairs to "D" Block which was one time used as a military hospital. This will make unnecessary the transferring of each draft to quarters in the Artillery Park as was done last year.

Found On Battlefield and Published in the Whig.

Ernest Walker, Napanee, has sent the Whig a communication dealing with the four pictures which were sent back unidentified from the battlefield. Mr. Walker says: "They must have been left on the battlefield by my son Earl Walker, 24th Battalion, Signalling Section, who was wounded about that time and twice since. He is at present in a Red Cross Hospital at Northundon, Cheshire, England. The left centre is himself and Miss Trotter. In the right centre is his brother, Sergt. Albert and wife. Sergt. Albert Walker is with the 39th Battalion, Sandling, England."

THE R. C. H. A. BAND.

Interesting Facts Given in Letters to the Press.

An "Ex-Captain," as he signs himself, wrote a letter to a late issue of the Military Gazette suggesting that the bands of the R. C. H. A., Royal Canadian Regiment and Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery should be sent to the front. One signing himself "Bandman" gives on the subject some interesting information about the local R. C. H. A. band.

The letter reads: "Does Ex-Army Captain know from actual facts the number he quotes as being the strength of the bands, because he is away out? The establishment of the R. C. H. A. band being 25, the R. C. G. A. 23, and the R. C. R. 25; this amounts to 83. Also does he not know that the band of the Royal Canadian Regiment of Halifax are with their battalion 'Somewhere in France,' not as bandman but as duty men, also that the remaining bands, viz., the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery and the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery, who when war was declared volunteered as a whole for active service, but were ruled by Militia Headquarters, Ottawa, to stay in Canada to help stimulate recruitment, and are performing at Red Cross and other patriotic concerts, they have done so willingly, but at the same time would rather be at the firing lines, not as bandmen but as duty men."

The R. C. H. A. band of Kingston alone has among its members 11 Imperial Army men, 7 of whom are pensioners, and the remainder men who have done 12 years or over, several having seen much active service in previous wars, and who would only be too willing to do their bit if called upon.

There are at present nine men wearing twenty-three medals in this band.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if you sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head aches and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul; tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is useless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal lunch without rebelling, if your food is a damage in lieu of a help, remember the quickest, safest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case of drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.
