BY JAMES K. HACKETT FOR HIS PRODUCTIONS

The Actor Is A Composer Of No Mean Ability-He does His Composing At Night.

Watertown, N.Y., Oct. 18 .- Local musicians, who assisted James K Hackett at the summer home of the actor near Alexandria Bay last summer, expect to go to New York soon to play before music publishers, some of the music composed by Mr. Hackett. The members of the orchestra say that Mr. Hackett, though not knowing one note from another, is a omposer of rare ability, and some of his compositions are of much merit.

Mr. Hackett sprained his ankle a few days ago and he was obliged to return to New York. The injury was worse than was first thought, and it s not expected that he will return to

Mr. Hackett, the members of the orchestra say, seemed to work best at at 2.30 p.m., All are cordially invited night. He would call his orchestra together at 8 in the evening," and with them we .ld work until 6 in the morning. W' in an inspiration would AutumnConvocation run through Mr. Hackett's head, he would sit down at the piano and run through it in the simplest style, playing entirely by ear. The members of the orchestra would listen carefully and would work at the music until they had memorized it, and they Wednesday, October the would play it over and over again until it suited Mr. Hackett's fancy, sometimes playing a single number over 50 times during the course of the night. Once memorized they would transcribe the music for whatever instrument they played.

Some of the music is of the most weird character, and will be used in Mr. Hackett's Shakespearean productions. He has written some ghostly music fitted for the witches' scene in Macbeth, while other music is suitsplendid patronage that this garage able for Othello, which Mr. Hackett has been rehearsing all summer, and which he will appear in New York

> QUITE AN INDUCEMENT FOR HOG RAISING

Good Profits Made From Industry-Two Examples of Satisfactory Returns.

Belleville, Oct. 17 .- An item appeared in a local paper recently which reads as follows: "D. H. Fraser, of Northport, re cently sold a bunch of 13 hogs that weighed 2,190 pounds at exactly five months. The price paid was 12c per pound live weight, making a net return of $262.80. The grain for these hogs was all purchased at ruling market prices, and cost a total of $86.99. This leaves a balance of $175.90 for the skim milk and other rough feed, including the cost of pigs and labor involved." George W. Thompson, of Tweed states he can easily beat the above record. He sold seven hogs, which were five and a half months old and their weight was 1,820 pounds. The price received per cwt. was $10.75, making $195.70. The grain fed, at market price, cost $35.40, leaving a balance of $160.30.
