WALDRON'S

PTE. ERNEST PARTRIDGE

OF THE 59TH, DIED OF WOUNDS ON OCT. 16TH.

Word Received by His Father, F. W. Partridge, Collingwood Street—Pte. Charles Davy, of 21st Wounded.

Pte. Ernest Partridge, aged thirty, and unmarried, who went overseas with a draft of the 59th Battalion, died on October 16th of wounds received in battle. This sad information was contained in a telegram which the bereaved father, F. W. Partridge, sen., Collingwood street, head of Partridge & Sons, received from Ottawa Tuesday evening. Previous to enlisting, Pte. Partridge was employed in Toronto. He was a young man of sterling qualities and an attractive personality, and news of his noble death will be received with deep regret.

Mr. Partridge has the proud and patriotic distinction of having given four sons to the service. The other sons are Major F. W. Partridge, Jr., who went overseas with the 77th Battalion, and who shortly after his arrival in England was sent to France to take command of a body of troops; Lieut. Herbert, of the 154th Battalion; and Sgt. Alfred, who enlisted recently at Prince Albert, Sask., with the 20th Battalion. There are two other sons and four daughters, and this is the first break in what has been a singularly happy and united family.

Pte. Davy Wounded.

Charles Davy, O'Kell street, received word Wednesday morning that his son, Irwin, had been injured by a shell, and was suffering from concussion of the brain. Pte. Irwin went overseas with the motor section of the 21st Battalion, being subsequently transferred to the trenches. He is twenty-one years of age, and has many friends, who will hope that he may speedily recover.

Major Gordon Southam Killed.

Word has been received in the city that Major Gordon H. Southam, commander of the Hamilton Sportsmen's Battery, had been killed in action. He was one of Canada's famous football stars. In the spring of 1915 he came to Kingston to qualify as an artillery officer. He got his commission and shortly afterwards went overseas with the 40th Battery. He was thirty years old, and is survived by his wife, father and five brothers.

Driver Johnston in Hospital.

Word has been received in the city that Driver W. D. Johnston was in an hospital in Manchester, England, suffering from strain and enlargement of the heart. He went overseas with the 33rd Battery and has been at the front since July.

Pte. Carr Met Death.

Word has reached Kingston that Pte. Carr, of Brockville, a member of the 21st Battalion, had died of wounds received about September 15th, while in company with Major H. E. Pense, of Kingston, who was wounded. He was lieutenant for Major Pense. This is the second batman the Kingston officer has lost. Pte. George Rainey, of Kingston, died of wounds some months ago. Pte. Carr died of shrapnel wounds in the shoulder.

The 154th Battalion will take away two chaplains with it. Lieut. W. T. Keough is a Methodist from Vankeleek Hill, and Lieut. J. MacDonaid is a Roman Catholic priest from Alexandria.

Up to noon on Wednesday headquarters here had not learned of the authorizing of a Queen's University Battalion, with Major P. C. Campbell as commanding officer. Major Campbell has received no information on the subject.

Capt. W. F. Fitzgerald, staff chaplain, distributed testaments to the Protestant members of the 154th Battalion on Wednesday morning.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Wheat Again Advances Owing to World Crop Shortage. (Special to the Whig.) Chicago, Oct. 18.—Wheat continued its sensational advance to-day. Shortly after opening, December wheat was up two cents over last night's close, while May was up one and three quarters. A world-wide crop shortage was the explanation advanced.

There would be a decided improvement if some people were half as zealous in working as they are in talking. Many times our necessities have a direct bearing on our speech.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

An elaborate programme of vaudeville and photoplays will be presented at the Grand Opera House the last three days of this week. Theda Bara, one of the foremost actresses in film-dom, will be seen in a rousing story of Algerian army life, "Under Two Flags." The swift, sharp action and fire of a military camp run through this picture. A two-reel Universal photoplay, a comedy picture and the Famous Pathe News, showing the latest war pictures and different styles, will also be presented. The vaudeville will include Lillian Devere in a comedy singing act, and Brown and Brown in a comedy singing, talking and musical act.

At the Strand.

Capacity business and every body pleased was the order of things at the Strand again last evening. "The Devil's Needle" is one of the finest pictures ever shown here. The three vaudeville acts were also well received. This splendid bill will be shown for the last time to-night. The programme for the last half of the week includes a five-act Triangle drama, entitled "Lieut. Danny," U.S.A. It is a story of the Mexican war, featuring Emil Markey and William Desmond. A two-reel Keystone comedy "A La Cabaret," a two-reel Vitagraph drama, and other good photo plays will also be shown. In addition, two first-class acts of vaudeville will be presented.

CHILDREN FLOCKED

TO ABERNETHY'S STORE WEDNESDAY MORNING

Did you ever notice the honey bees around a hive, or young men around a pretty girl at a church bazaar? Well, that was the way the school children of Kingston flocked to the Abernethy Shoe Store between eight and nine o'clock this morning.

What was the attraction? Just that an advertisement in the British Whig—and in the Whig exclusively—of last evening announced that to each boy and girl who would write their name and address and age on an envelope and bring it to the store this morning between eight and nine o'clock would be given free a good thick scribbling book. Three cash prizes of a dollar each were also offered to the best writers under certain ages.

Perhaps those books didn't fly. There were about a thousand of them, and they disappeared in great rapidity. As Mr. Abernethy announced "We are doing this to see how many boys and girls read the Whig." He knows now that practically all the boys and girls of Kingston read the Whig. Some of the first lads to bring in their names came from such distant points as Portsmouth, Bath Road and the Outer Depot. There are, of course, hundreds of children into whose families the Whig is a daily visitor, but who were not able to get down so early in the morning, or before school opened at nine o'clock. Had the hours been extended to comprise those from 4 to 6 p. m. doubtless many thousands more would have been on hand.

The moral to all boys and girls of the story is this: that it pays to get up early in the morning and that it pays to read the Whig every day.

ANOTHER FIREMAN GOES.

Force Is Now Reduced to Thirteen, Including the Chief.

Another fireman has resigned, leaving thirteen on the force, including the chief. He was kind enough, however, not to resign on a Friday, so, perhaps, the fact that only thirteen remain does not mean that any very hard luck will follow his resignation. The retiring fireman is Francis Clark, who joined the force last August. He has gone to Wexford.

When the war broke out the fire force numbered eighteen. Two firemen went overseas, and it was decided to get along with sixteen until they returned. But the death of Deputy Chief Elmer and resignations of other members have reduced the force to thirteen men.

LAINING-BOOTH WEDDING.

Pastor of First Baptist Church Wedded to Miss Dora Booth. Rev. Douglas Laine, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was quietly married at high noon Wednesday at the home of the bride, 172 Alfred street, to Miss Dora H. Booth, daughter of the late Capt. Edward A. Booth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William France, pastor of the Union street Baptist church. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Laine left on the afternoon train for Toronto and Hamilton, where they will spend a few days. They have many friends in the city who will unite in extending heartfelt best wishes.

The bone of contention may not be of sufficient value to even cause a ripple of danger, let alone fighting over.
