NOT AMONG UNIDENTIFIED

CORP. M. McMAHON, BROCKVILLE, IS STILL "MISSING."

His Wife Hears He is Not Among Canadian Prisoners in Cologne, Where She Believed She Had Located Him From a Picture.

Brockville, Nov. 2.—A few months ago a picture appeared in the Montreal papers of a group of Canadian soldiers who were prisoners in a German hospital, with the intimation that they were unknown. The German authorities were unable to identify the prisoners, and the picture was sent out with the idea that perhaps some relatives of the soldiers might identify them.

One of the soldiers in the group bore a strong resemblance to Corp. Michael McMahon, of Brockville, who enlisted with the first Canadian contingent. It was thought by Mrs. McMahon and her family that at last, after over sixteen months without news of her husband, who was reported missing in April, 1915, he was located.

Mrs. McMahon forwarded pictures and descriptions of her husband to American Consul Johnson at Kingston, and to the Lazarett Kaiserin Augusta Schule in Cologne, where the group picture had been taken, asking the authorities to compare the photo with the prisoners, who bears such a strong resemblance to her husband. Yesterday Mrs. McMahon received a communication from Consul Johnson at Kingston, which stated in part: "I have the honor to inform you that the embassy is in receipt of a communication from the Society of the Red Cross to the effect that Corp. McMahon is not being treated at the Lazarett Kaiserin Augusta Schule in Cologne, nor does his name appear on any of the official lists. Should any information concerning him be received at a later date the embassy will not fail to inform the department."

Mrs. McMahon and family, and Corp. McMahon's many friends felt sure that he had been located. Although this news is disappointing, the search for him will continue.

Was Troubled With Shortness of Breath.

When the heart becomes affected, there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness, and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

The nerves become unstrung, you dread to be alone, have a horror of society, start at the least noise and are generally fatigued. On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be taken. They are just what you require at this time. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mrs. C. M. Cormier, Buctouche, N.B., writes: "Since two years ago I was troubled with a shortness of breath, and sometimes I could hardly breathe. I went to see several doctors and they said it was from my heart and nerves, but they did not seem to do me any good. One day I got one of your B.B.B. Almanacs and read of a case similar to mine. I bought a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after taking it I noticed a change that I kept on taking them until I had used four more boxes, when I was cured. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are in a box, three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

DEUTSCHLAND SKIPPER TELLS OF HIS TRIP

Saw But Few Ships—Dived Seven Times on Way Over.

New London, Conn., Nov. 2.—Capt. Paul Koenig, commander of the German undersea merchant packet, the Deutschland, says he had an uneventful trip. He saw a lot of hostile vessels, but the hostiles never saw the Deutschland, and he ran about a hundred miles under water all told on the way across.

"What did you hear of the Bremen?" asked somebody.

"It left Bremen on the 26th of August and they have had no word of it since," he replied gravely. "We left Bremerhaven the last time on October 19, in a heavy southwest gale," the captain said, "although we had made another start before that. We tried to get away on October 1, but we had a collision with a tugboat and were put back into drydock for repairs."

"When we finally did leave, we went through the North Sea and passed between Scotland and the Orkney Islands—through the fair channel and came down the shortest way to New London. We saw a few ships, but they did not see us because we were so under. We travelled not quite a hundred miles under water, but did not lay under at all. The longest period we were submerged was about seven hours."

"We saw some ships in the North Sea and dived about seven times on the way over, which is about the same as on our first trip."

It is reported that the handle of the parasol was loose and let the rod fly, hitting the boy on the temple. Several lads were following the girls, so it is said, and the blow was aimed to drive them away. An inquest will be held this evening.

Big Coal Shortage.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 2.—According to a statement issued yesterday by the anthracite bureau of information which is maintained by mining companies in the hard coal fields, the production of anthracite from April 1st to September 30th this year was 2,075,000 tons less than in the corresponding months of 1915. This decrease, the statement says, has been due almost entirely to the shortage in the labor supply.

Collided With a Team of Horses in Belleville Street.

Belleville, Nov. 2.—As the result of a Hallowe'en prank a horse was killed, an automobile wrecked, and two young men more or less seriously injured. Percy Johnson purloined a car and, accompanied by Joseph Connolly, drove furiously down Front street, colliding with a team of horses owned and driven by John Callaghan.

The impact was such that one animal was killed, the auto damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars, and the occupants thrown out and both were cut about the head and severely bruised about the body. Johnson was unconscious for some time. The joy-riders were placed under arrest, but Johnson was unable to be moved from his home.
