MILITARY CIRCLES

The officers and soldiers who had charge of the 146th colors, which Friday afternoon were presented and consecrated in the Armouries, and deposited in St. Andrew's church, had all been members of the 146th Battalion. The regimental colors were carried by Lieut. Munzie and the King's colors by Lieut. Graham. The N.C.O.'s in charge of the escort were Sergt. J. V. Purcell and Sergt. A. Murray. There were seven men in the escort. The escort, being armed, were unable to follow the colors into the church, but the colors were nevertheless given a military escort within the sacred edifice, as they passed between two rows of soldiers.

Lieut.-Col. Gillespie on Wednesday transferred the command of the 4th Hussars from Lieut.-Col. A. Binnington, of Prescott, whose term has expired, to Major R. M. VanLoven, of Kingston, who will take charge at once.

Lieut.-Col. Gillespie has returned from a visit to the St. Lawrence Canal patrols. He was a member of the Board of Survey, which inspected the clothing and equipment of the patrols.

Lieut.-Col. H. R. Wilson has returned from Ottawa.

Many of the St. Lawrence Canal patrols rather than be forced to enlist for overseas are buying their discharges with patriotic despatch.

A board of officers, of which Major R. D. Ponton is president, will assemble at the headquarters of No. 5 Company, C.A.S.C., at a date to be arranged for the purpose of inspecting and reporting upon the clothing and equipment of that unit.

Lieut.-R. D. Weller, No. 3 Special Service Company has been granted leave of absence until Nov. 10th.

Authority has been granted the 236th Battalion to recruit throughout Canada.

The "marching in" strength of the battalions from Petawawa to Kingston was as follows: 72nd Battery, 63; 73rd Battery, 11; 7th Battery, 40; 75th Battery, 25.

Recently ten men have been secured in Toronto for "C" Battery, R.C.H.A.

The following members of the 8th Brigade, Ottawa, are taking the R.S.A. course: prov. lieuts, W. A. R. Campbell, 2nd Battery; G. C. Gardner, 23rd Battery; E. K. Erakine, 23rd Battery; E. H. Paisley, 2nd Battery; N. B. Forbes, 2nd Battery; J. H. McKenna, 8th Brigade; W. S. Caldwell, 8th Brigade; D. A. McMure, 23rd Battery; W. G. Dewar, 2nd Battery; M. J. Kilt, 2nd Battery; S. J. Downham, 2nd Battery; H. Ryan, 23rd Battery.

Still another well-known Ottawa athlete has decided to don the khaki. Martin Kilt has been gazed a lieutenant and will take a course in the school of artillery at Kingston. He was one of the best all round footballers Ottawa ever turned out, playing with equal success at quarter, outside or middle wing.

The 230th Battalion, about 500 strong, arrived in Brockville on Friday from Ottawa, and went into winter quarters. The soldiers were given a most enthusiastic welcome. The advance party reached Brockville Wednesday night.

Capt. Walter K. Macnee is at present doing duty at the Rockcliffe ranges, Ottawa.

Now, what about that $1,500 or so that the council, business men and Girls' Patriotic Society contributed to the funds of the 235th Battalion on the understanding that Bowmanville was the headquarters? asks the Bowmanville Statesman. The politicians who used their influence to keep "our" battalion at Belleville may well chuckle over their success, but recruiting will not be helped by such political intrigues.

KINGSTON IS "DRY" BUT SUPPLY COMES IN

William McGrath, Arrested for Drunkenness, Had a Case of Liquor.

Although Kingston is in the "dry" area there does not appear to be much trouble in getting the "wet" stuff, so long as you have the price. It looks as if the liquor agencies in Hull, Quebec, were doing a rushing business.

On Friday morning shortly after 8 o'clock the police received a telephone call from a boarding house on Johnson street, asking that a man named William McGrath be removed as he was under the influence of liquor and creating a disturbance. Constables Naylor and Patterson responded to the call and the trouble was soon in the police "lockup." The accused was too much under the influence to appear before Magistrate Farrell at the Friday morning session of the Police Court. His turn will come Saturday.

Constables Naylor and Arniel went to McGrath's room and there they came across a case of liquor, which McGrath had shipped into him from Hull. The liquor was confiscated.

Made a Presentation. A presentation took place on Thursday afternoon at the Canadian Locomotive Office, when the staff of the department's machine shop No. 2 and shell department No. 12 presented D. R. Somerville with a handsome club bag on his departure for Toronto, where he has accepted a position with the Dominion Express Company.

Canadian Casualties. Missing—W. H. Roleau, Kingston. Wounded—A. V. Harte, Kingston; H. P. Humphries, Arrprior; J. J. McLaughlin, G. H. Walker, Napanee.

GREAT NEED FOR CARE OF FEEBLE-MINDED

Dr. E. C. D. MacCallum Makes Appeal at Meeting of Orphans' Home.

The crying need in our city today is for some supervision for the care of our feeble-minded children, said Dr. E. C. D. MacCallum, speaking at the annual meeting of the Orphan's Home, held on Thursday afternoon.

Dr. MacCallum stated that the subject was one which would have to be taken up sooner or later, and that considerable trouble would arise if the necessary steps were not taken to provide for the care of all feeble-minded children. He added that in his opinion it was not for lack of methods to meet the situation, that the question had not been dealt with, but that it was simply a matter of neglect. He hoped that in the near future the matter would receive the consideration it deserved.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR SOLDIERS ABROAD.

The near approach of the latest date for sending Christmas presents to soldiers in England or at the front will give a decided impetus to retail shopping during the next week or two. Inquiry has elicited the fact that the retail merchants have anticipated the needs and demands in this matter, and purchasers in any line will find them well stocked up with attractive lines of goods to satisfy every requirement. The best choice and greater satisfaction, however, will greet the early shoppers.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Elizabeth Elder.

Elizabeth Macpherson, widow of the late Charles E. M. Elder, passed peacefully away Friday morning of heart disease, after having been ill since last June. Madame Elder, as she was affectionately known, conducted a dressmaking establishment at 253 Princess street and had been a resident of Kingston since 1903, coming here from New York. She was born in Scotland and when she was an infant her father, the late Daniel Macpherson, brought his family to Canada, settling in Pittsburg. Mrs. Elder was a kindly, thoughtful person who did much good in an unostentatious way.

CONNER-BERRY NUPTIALS

Celebrated in the Olivet Methodist Church on Nov. 1st. Olivet Methodist church was the scene of an interesting event on Wednesday, Nov. 1st, when Miss Gertrude R., only daughter of George M. Berry, of Seely's Bay, was united in marriage to Eldon A. Conner, of Gananoque. The church was tastefully decorated by friends of the bride, Rev. B. Pierce, of Kingston, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. J. A. Waddell, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The bride, wearing a dress of white tulle with pearly trimmings and silk fringe, and wore a veil draped at the sides and held in place with lilies of the valley and maiden-hair ferns, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She wore the groom's hat, a sunburst of pearls. The bridesmaid, Miss Hazel Conner, sister of the groom, was dressed in pink ninon over cream satin, and carried pink carnations. The groom was supported by Lieut. Clifford M. Bracken, cousin of the bride. At the bride's party entered the church Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Mrs. George N. Bracken, and as the register was being signed Miss Hazel Bracken sang very sweetly "Oh, Promise Me." After the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where the happy couple received the congratulations of their many friends. An enjoyable dinner was served, to which all did ample justice. The bridal party left amidst a shower of rice and confetti for Syracuse and other towns, where they are to spend their honeymoon. Mr. Conner is a prosperous farmer residing near Gananoque. The bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents.

CITY FILES AFFIDAVIT.

Sets Forth Defence in Case of Children's Aid Society. The city, through City Solicitor Givens, has filed an affidavit setting forth its defence in the case of the Children's Aid Society against the corporation. The society sued to recover over $500 for the care of a number of the city's wards and also requested an order compelling the city to provide a shelter. The defence of the corporation is that there was an understanding with the Orphan's Home that in consideration of the city grant, it would care for the children of the city in lieu of $2 a week, which the statutes allow for this work. In regard to the shelter, the corporation contends that it has already provided two shelters, the Orphan's Home and St. Mary's-on-the-lake orphanage, and that these have answered the purpose in the past and should continue to do so in the future.

THEATRICAL NEWS

To-night at the Grand.

Virginia Pearson, in "A Tortured Heart," is the feature picture presented at the Grand yesterday afternoon. It tells a powerful tale of the evils of village gossip, and a charming story of American southern life. The star is a noted beauty of the southland, and this is without doubt the most beautiful picture ever seen in this city. Other good pictures shown are "Little Lindy Sang," "Priscella the Prisoner," and the Pathe News. In the vaudeville Miss Phemie Lockhard, an operatic soprano, sang "Louisville," "I Love You," and "Carita." This young lady has the best voice yet heard here in vaudeville. Waldo brothers, aerialists, completed an excellent programme. The same bill will be repeated to-night and Saturday matinee and night.

At the Strand.

The bill given at the Strand last evening is easily one of the strongest ever presented in this city. The feature photo-play, "The Eye of the Night," the new Triangle release presenting William H. Thompson, the venerable star, as a Nighthouse Keeper who sets fire to his cottage after his lighthouse has been blown up by aeroplane bombs, to guide the transports entering the harbor. It is exceptionally good and pleased all. A two-act Keystone comedy, "Madeup Ambrose," is a scream from start to end. "The Final Payment," a two-part drama, and other good reels are also on the bill. Clair Raymond is exceedingly clever on the violin and several other instruments, as well as possessing a fine voice. Plunkett and Romaine are also great in a smooth running, singing, talking and dancing act. Same bill again to-morrow.

SERG.-MAJOR WILLSON ON CASUALTY LIST

Was for Some Years in "A" Battery, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery.

Sergt.-Major Norman K. Willson, who for some years was in "A" Battery, R.C.H.A., has been wounded in the right thigh, and is in the Canadian hospital at Etaples. He went overseas with the Hamilton Battery, commanded by the late Major Gordon Southam. On leaving the permanent force he became sergeant-major of the 23rd Field Battery, and his experience in the regulars and his great liking for military work made him a very valuable man in that unit. When the battery was leaving for camp just before the war, Sergt.-Major Willson had the misfortune to have his horse fall in Ottawa, and he was badly injured. He was laid up for several months, and could not get away with the first artillery brigade, as he was still very lame.

When the 25th Battery was formed in Ottawa, in the winter following, he became its sergeant-major. He remained with that battery during its training at Barrieffield and Valcartier, but as his services as an instructor were needed for the new batteries in Canada, he was transferred to the one in Hamilton.
