IN THE HALLS OF QUEEN'S A WAR HERO WAS FINED

DR. GRIFFITH JONES PREACHED TO A LARGE CONGREGATION.

Queen's Orchestra Entertained the A. M. S. on Saturday Evening—Date of Medical Dance Is Changed—Annual Meeting of Hockey Club Held.

One of the largest congregations this session attended in Convocation Hall on Sunday morning to hear Dr. Griffith Jones, of Toronto, preach. The various Queen's units were in attendance also.

In a clear, pure Christian sermon Dr. Griffith Jones presented the claims of Christianity over every one. His text was taken from Matthew X:11, "And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter inquire who is worthy; and there abide until you go hence." This was part of the message given by Jesus Christ on the departure of his disciples on their journey throughout the country teaching His gospel.

It is to these twelve men that our religion owes most of its popularity. They were unobtrusive, retiring, yet intensely zealous in their duties of spreading Christian gospel throughout the land. They were the men who did the real spreading and brought Christianity before the people.

The speaker compared the few referred to in the text at whose homes the disciples were to stay during their wanderings to the few who are ever ready to carry on the work of the church at the present time. In every congregation there are some who can be relied on by the minister to aid him in his work. Then there are the others who have to be urged to take up any duties, who do not seem to realize their responsibilities.

It is the former who count in bettering conditions. It is a remarkable fact, declared Dr. Jones, that religion should appeal so strongly to only a few. Nevertheless these are the ones who are carrying on the work of the church. Dr. Jones appealed strongly to the congregation to do their share in the upbuilding of Christian principles and ideals among their fellowmen and receive their great reward in their eternal home.

Queen's orchestra seemed to be the main attraction at the Alma Mater Society's meeting on Saturday evening, for the attendance was larger than usual. The ladies, however, were conspicuous by their absence. The orchestra gave several selections, and each was executed with a charm and brilliancy that was remarkable for an amateur organization such as the orchestra. The members have been extremely interesting in the work, and this in a large measure accounts for the success. There is a possibility that the college orchestra may be engaged for some of the dances and social functions to be held this season.

With regard to dances, the executive committee reported that the date of the first medical dance would have to be changed from Monday, Nov. 27th, to Friday, Nov. 24th, owing to a regulation embodied in the A. M. S. constitution.

A request was also formally received from the 72nd (Queen's) Battery for the use of Grant Hall for a dance to be given by the battery. It was decided that as regulations have been passed by the society with regard to social functions nothing can be done in this matter before Christmas, but the society recommended that Jan. 5th would be a suitable date for such an affair to be held. The secretary will write to the battery to this effect.

The following vacancies on the Athletic Committee were filled: Arts, H. H. Sheldon, A. L. Blacklock, H. A. McLeod; medicine, Bert Hunt; ladies, Miss Lottie Whittton, Miss Bessie Abernethy.

The annual meeting of the hockey club was held and, in the absence of J. H. Dawson, V. C. McCusick read the report of the secretary. An account of activities of the club during the past season was made, and special thanks were given to Prof. M. B. Baker, who acted as honorary coach.

An invitation to play in the Duquesne Gardens, Pittsburgh, Pa., will not be acted upon until the O. H. A. determines the standing of the players down there, whether they be amateur or professional.

The elections of officers resulted: Hon. president, Dr. A. P. Lothrop; president, J. Fahy; vice-president, Swift J. Hanley; secretary-treasurer, J. Haislett; hon. coach, Prof. M. B. Baker; assistant coach, Bert Hunt; captain of first team, L. C. Purvis.

The C. O. T. C. were instructed in the duties of an outpost on Saturday afternoon by Capt. G. W. Mitchell.

Queen's Hospital at Etaples.

According to a letter received by George Smith, jeweller, from Lieut. Col. F. Etherington, Queen's General Hospital is moving to Etaples and leaving its tent hospital as it has become too cold to treat wounded in the open. Col. Etherington takes over a hospital of 1,040 beds at Etaples from a British hospital staff. This hospital can be increased to 2,000 beds.

ARTHUR STRINGER WAS WOUNDED IN BAYONET CHARGE.

Ontario Temperance Act is No Respector of Persons, So He Had to Pay the Usual Fine of $10 and Costs For Being Intoxicated.

The Ontario Temperance Act is no respecter of persons. On Monday morning Arthur Stringer, who did his "bit" at the front, was fined $10 and costs for being under the influence of that old-time troublemaker, John Barleycorn.

It was pretty tough for a man who has been fighting for King and country, and who was wounded in a terrific bayonet charge to fall into the hands of the police for taking a few drinks, but the Temperance Act is made for one and all, and it looks as if the tipplers will have to be on their guard at all times.

Stringer's home is in Renfrew and he was invalided home from the front some time ago. He has quite a wound in his side which he received while in a bayonet attack.

The police had a call for Stringer about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning. He was taken in charge by Constables John Naylor, and Marshall Armstrong.

When arraigned the accused stated that he had secured his liquor in Hull, and the magistrate imposed the usual fine.

William McGrath came up again after a week's remand. He was arrested for drunkenness, and the magistrate sent him to jail as he did not believe that he was telling him the truth about where he secured his liquor. William was one of the week-end excursionists to Cape Vincent a week ago. He came off the boat when it arrived back in Kingston pretty sober but a few hours later he was taken in charge well "pickled." He declares that he did not get any liquor after he arrived in Kingston. He was arrested by Constable Daniel McCarey.

When arraigned McGrath had nothing further to say in regard to the matter, whereupon the magistrate said that he would further remand him for a month. McGrath looked somewhat surprised, but did not have anything to say.

MR. BRITLING SEES IT THROUGH, by H. G. Wells - $1.50

The most talked-of book of the year. Wells' latest and best. A war novel in the big, broad sense. Not a mere account of fighting. Over 50,000 have already been sold. Not since the beginning of the war has a book appeared, with the sole exception, perhaps, of "The First Hundred Thousand," which has so instantly appealed to readers on this continent and in England. It bristles with timeliness, whimsical humor and keen analysis of character.

"September Morn" Drew Crowds.
Large audiences greeted the production of "September Morn" at the Grand on Saturday afternoon and evening. A very capable company presents this musical comedy of attractive name, and although the "September Morn" pose is not exactly according to the painting in regard to garb—or lack of it—it is very attractive.
Includes some clever comedians and some sprightly "sophisticated" girls. The tango dances are cleverly done. The whole production was greatly enjoyed.
