WORK BEING CARRIED ON MORE PUMPING CAPACITY

AND SANITARY CASES ARE ENLARGED IN POLICE COURT.

Case in Which Driver of Car Was Charged With Violation of Motor Vehicles Act Enlarged to Get Evidence of Boy Run Down on Bicycle.

Several cases in which citizens were charged with a violation of the regulations of the Board of Health, sanitary improvements, were again called in the Police Court on Tuesday morning; but when Inspector Timmerman reported that the work was progressing, the Magistrate further adjourned the cases, in order to give time for the completion of the work. The putting in of sanitary improvements has given the plumbers a great deal of work.

John Barrett, of Barriefield, was summoned for a violation of the Motor Vehicles' Act, in having driven his car on the wrong side of the street. He pleaded "not guilty," and T. J. Rigney appeared on his behalf. The car driven by the accused ran into a boy riding a bicycle near the corner of Brock and King streets last Friday evening about 6.30 o'clock. The boy was not injured, but his wheel was damaged.

Constable Arnel and two other witnesses, who were sworn on behalf of the prosecution, stated that Mr. Barrett drove off King street on to Brock on his wrong side, while Mr. Barrett, when called, stated that he had been forced to do so, owing to the fact that the boy, after starting out on his bicycle from the Bank of Toronto had suddenly turned around and prevented him from keeping his car on the right side of the road. The accident was unavoidable. He stopped his car as soon as possible, and afterwards had the boy's wheel repaired for him. He did not know the lad's name, but stated that he did not suffer injury.

One of the witnesses for the prosecution declared that as Mr. Barrett came along King street he was running on the wrong side of the street, but the accused denied this, and the witness he called also denied this statement. The Magistrate stated that he would like to secure the evidence of the boy in the case, and for this reason an adjournment was made until Thursday.

H. A. Stewart was also charged with a violation of the Motor Vehicles Act. He did not appear, but sent a plea of "guilty," and a fine of $5 and costs, or fifteen days in jail, was imposed.

KINDERGARTEN IS ESSENTIAL.

Dean Coleman Gave Address Before London Teachers' Association.

Prof. Coleman, Dean of the Faculty of Education of Queen's University, was one of the speakers before the meeting of the London Teachers' Association. Referring to his address, the London Advertiser says: "I am old-fashioned enough to believe in the kindergarten," said Prof. Coleman in the course of his address on "The Meaning of Play."

"I believe in the kindergarten system," he continued, "and I believe it still has an essential place in education and a great future. I agree largely with Froebel that play is an embryo of all that develops later in the life of an individual. Play has within it the germs of all art. The only art worth while is the art based on spontaneous art in the activity of the child."

"Play has in it all the germs of later invention. The man who invented something worth while was never governed by the principle of an eight, ten or fifteen-hour day. The success was made by keeping at it the long because it was impossible to let go."

"Froebel goes so far as to take the stand that play has in it the germs of later morality. The justification of the public school over the private school is that in the public school boys and girls are required to live and work together and give and take and understand."

"To learn to live comfortably, acceptably and effectively with fellow-creatures is one of the most important things in life. In play children learn to get along with others. The difference between work and play is that work is an end in itself, while play is joy and activity."

The speaker emphasized the importance of getting the "play attitude" towards work, the attitude described by Kipling in his epilogue, "To work for an age at a sitting and never grow tired at all and each for the joy of working."

Proposal to Appoint an Administrator of General Hospital. The Toronto General Hospital Board, it is reported, will effect a reorganization under which it is hoped to retain the services of Dr. C. K. Clarke, who recently put in his resignation, as superintendent. Dr. Clarke has, in addition to the medical duties, had to discharge many others pertaining to the business management, and it is now proposed to relieve him of the latter duties so that all his time may be devoted to the medical superintendency of the hospital. An administrator to look after the business affairs may be appointed.

ENGINEER KRIBS TELLS HOW TO SECURE IT.

Presents Report to Utilities Commission — Shows How Plant Can Be Improved By Expenditure of $8,030.

Engineer Kribs, of the Hydro-Electric Commission, has presented to the Utilities Commission a number of estimates for improving the pumping capacity of the water works plant by the installation of electric pumps. He made a number of recommendations.

Provided that it was desirable to spend the least money at the present time, under war conditions, when materials and labor were almost doubling, he would recommend the elimination of the Kiele pump and the substitution of an electric pump at an estimated cost of $8,030. The pump, which would have a capacity of 2,400 imperial gallons per minute, would cost, with motor and control apparatus, $4,500. The installation of the wires and the supplying of the metering equipment and the recording apparatus would entail an expenditure of $1,800. Then the removal of the removal of the Kiele pump and the installation of foundation, floor, etc. would require an additional outlay of $1,730.

This electric pump would deliver ten per cent. more water than the Inglis pump as it operates today. In event, however, of installation, it would be necessary, in complying with the Canadian Fire Underwriters' requirements, to maintain banked fires under the boilers which were connected to the Inglis pump, and by this procedure the total pumping capacity of the station would not be increased much more than five per cent.

If the Commission was prepared to spend $10,000, Engineer Kribs stated how the electric pump capacity could be increased twenty-five per cent. He would retain the present pumps, and would install in the old pump house an electric pump capable of pumping 33,000 gallons a minute.

The report is in the hands of the Commission and will be considered at a later date.

MR. BRITLING SEES IT THROUGH, by H. G. Wells - $1.50

The most talked-of book of the year. Wells' latest and best. A war novel in the big, broad sense. Not a mere account of fighting. Over 50,000 have already been sold. Not since the beginning of the war has a book appeared, with the sole exception, perhaps, of "The First Hundred Thousand," which has so instantly appealed to readers on this continent and in England. It bristles with timeliness, whimsical humor and keen analysis of character.

PRICE OF PAPERS TO GO UP

DISTRICT PRESS ASSOCIATION HAS DECIDED TO ADVANCE.

The Change Will Occur on December 15th—The New Officers of the Association Chosen at Brockville.

The St. Lawrence River Counties Press Association met in Brockville on Monday with W. Gibbons, Cornwall, in the chair. The time was spent in discussing news print, standardization of sizes of papers, narrower columns and the need of advancing subscription rates. Recommendations as to the first three items were made to the Canadian Press Association, and it was agreed to advance the price of weekly papers to $1.50 a year, beginning with Dec. 15th. It is quite likely almost all the papers in the district will make the advance. Brockville daily papers will go up to $3 a year. The association expressed a wish that the Canadian Press Association holds its next annual meeting in Halifax. These officers were chosen for the district organization: President, B. O. Britton, Gananoque Reporter. Vice-president, A. H. Barker, Brockville Times. Secretary-treasurer, W. J. Moore, Brockville Recorder.

Executive committee, W. Gibbons, Cornwall Standard; E. V. Barber, Morrickville Post; J. G. Elliott, Kingston Whig.

It was agreed to hold the next meeting at Gananoque in May. A. R. Alloway, assistant manager of the Canadian Press Association, was present and aided in the discussions. He was welcomed by the association and thanked for his helpfulness. After dinner at the Revere House the newspaper men were guests of the New Theatre management, Leo Halligan being the genial host. A fine set of moving pictures were shown. Nugent & Martin have good prospects in their venture.

For Fall and Winter. Prevost, Brock street, has a great assortment of ready-made clothing in suits and overcoats, and a splendid assortment of men's furnishings. His order clothing department was never better assorted with new goods at extremely low prices. It will pay you to examine his stock before buying.

The Professor Writes. Prof. William Nichol, at Long Beach, Cal., in writing the Whig asks for the paper to be sent him from Nov. 2nd, "as I do not want to miss the Kingston news." The weather is delightful and whopping big strawberries are selling two boxes for fifteen cents.
