

GET THE WOMEN THEN THE MEN

How Brig.-Gen. Hemming Views the Question of Recruiting.

MEETING AT THE ARMOURIES

OF COMMANDING OFFICERS HELD ON WEDNESDAY.

Lieut. Mouch Has Recruited 400 Men—Appointed Adjutant of the 253rd Battalion.

"In every case get the women first and the men will follow," said Brig.-Gen. T. D. R. Hemming, G.O.C., on Wednesday, adding, "we should not depend on registration of national service or anything else, but every person should put his shoulder to the wheel and give his best personal support in securing recruits."

This was at the recruiting conference held at the armouries on Wednesday. There were more than twenty officers in attendance and each was given the opportunity of voicing his opinions and convictions as received through experience in the recruiting field of this military district. The tone of the meeting was most enthusiastic, and as the recruiting return published shows there is already a substantial increase in the flow of new men to the colors.

There is no man more enthusiastic and willing to work in the interests of recruiting than Gen. Hemming, and he radiated the spirit of energy that should certainly prove more than beneficial in urging the recruiting agents in the district to greater endeavors. His address was listened to with interest. He discussed the various agencies which should be used in search for new men. The general advised the employment of men who are not eligible for military service being over age, and said that they could be used to wonderful advantage in the work. There were also the churches, schools and school teachers, and many avenues of approach to men who should do the work. He added that the spirit of revenge for the death of comrades should be used in showing men their duty.

Major G. I. Campbell, chief recruiting officer, also gave a practical talk on his experience. He divided his work into three parts. Organization, educational and personal canvasses.

The meeting was a very representative one, and as one officer remarked, it should bring about a closer relationship between the various units recruiting. Those present were: Lieut.-Col. de Salabery, 230th Forestry Battalion located at Brockville; Lieut.-Col. Seobell, 235th Battalion of Belleville and Cobourg; Lieut.-Col. Watt, 240th Battalion of Renfrew; Lieut.-Col. Akerman, 247th of Peterboro; Lieut.-Col. Campbell, 253rd, Queen's University Battalion of Kingston; Lieut.-Col. Allen, 254th Battalion of Belleville; Lieut.-Col. G. Roy, commanding Royal Canadian Artillery; Lieut.-Col. O'Dell, commanding Depot Artillery Brigade; Major Thompson, representing Lieut.-Col. Glass, 252nd Lindsay Battalion, A.D.M.S.; Major G. I. Campbell, chief recruiting officer; Major E. C. Barrett, Depot Artillery Brigade; Major Stewart, 207th; Major McLean, 230th; Capt. Finlayson, Queen's Field Ambulance Corps; Capt. Henderson, Engineers, Capt. O'Leary, Artillery; Lieut. Estlinger, Engineers and others.

Has Recruited 400 Men.

Major G. I. Campbell, chief recruiting officer for the district, has moved into his new office, formerly that of the Midland Shoe store on Princess street. He is at present regretting the departure from his staff of two of his best officers, in the person of Lieut. Sandford and Lieut. Mouch. Lieut. Mouch was formerly with the 146th Battalion and enlisted many men from the Verona district for his own platoon. He trained that platoon last winter, but a change in regulations cancelled his appointment to the battalion. Deeply regretting his misfortune in not being able to go overseas he turned his attention to recruiting here. In spite of adverse conditions Lieut. Mouch recruited some 400 overseas volunteers and it is good that his merits have been recognized to the extent of his being appointed to the next battalion. He leaves to-morrow (Friday) for Alexandria in the interests of the 253rd.

Lieut. A. G. Sandford's Appointment.

Of local interest is Lieut. A. G. Sandford's appointment as adjutant of the 253rd Belleville Battalion under Lieut.-Col. P. C. Allen. Capt. Sandford, as his title will now be, was overseas as a private in the 8th battalion under Lieut.-Col. (now Gen.) Lipsitt. In this famous battalion, known as the Little Black Devils, Capt. Sandford received his promotion to the rank of corporal and held his stripes under a machine gun was opened on him and he had

WHARF FOR WOLFE ISLAND

MAY BE BUILT BY CITY AND RENTAL CHARGED.

City Engineer Refuses Permit For Changes in Building on Princess Street as it Encroaches on the Street.

The Board of Works yesterday afternoon discussed with Dr. William Spankle, reeve of Wolfe Island, the building of a wharf at the foot of Clarence street for the foot of the island and decided to have plans and estimates made. The present wharf on the south side of the street end used by the islanders is in a very bad condition. Besides that it is too small, and it is to the city's interest to help the people of the prospective island across the harbor to secure a better landing place. Dr. Spankle said the island was willing to pay such a rental for a new wharf as would cover the interest on capital outlay, maintenance, etc. The City Engineer suggested building a wharf on the north side of the foot of Clarence street, just opposite the present island ferry wharf. He thought a wharf 100 by 40 feet would suffice. The cost of this would be about $8,000. It is understood that the city in 1902 was given permission by the Dominion Government to build a wharf at this place, but it was never done.

WRITES INTERESTING LETTER ABOUT SIGNALLING IN ENGLAND

Half of the 146th Battalion Is Now in France—Many Efficient Signallers Are Wanted.

Lieut. J. C. K. Munsie, adjutant of Signalling, has received an interesting letter from Sergt. J. R. Strachan who went overseas with the 146th Battalion and is now with the 23rd Battalion Signalling Base at Lower Digate, Shorncliffe. The letter reads in part as follows: "Have had quite a busy time since I came here. I took a course in military, gas helmets and physical training and expect to finish up tomorrow (October 29th) as I have been at the ranges for the last three days. About half of the 146th Battalion is in France now. I have been transferred to the 23rd Battalion. Certain N.C.O.'s have lost their ribbons but fortunately I still retain mine.

"In buzzer reading here the best is fifteen words per minute before you can get through the school and flag twelve words, lamp eight words. That will give some idea of what is most essential for the training of signallers. There is also the disc. All electric lamps are used. All the subalterns of the battalion have gone over except Lieut. Ferrier and Lieut. Newlands. I do not know where the colonel and adjutant are as I never see them. I do not know what they are going to do with Battalion Sergt-Major Edwards.

About signallers I would advise that all signallers keep up a little semaphore as it is used on the boats coming over and the signallers have to keep in communication all the way both night and day, with semaphore and lamp. We got a good name on our ship for good reading and good service from our escort. I have all my bunch here except O'Grady, Rogers, Andre, Dorey and Sleep. The O.C. feels that I should get as many signallers in the battalion as possible and wanted me to get twelve or fifteen more, as thirty or thirty-five is none too much. They are sending them out all the time. The whole section asked me to be sure and remember the things you. "We are still in tents but expect to go into huts next week."

POLICE ARE SEARCHING

FOR MAN ALLEGED TO HAVE MADE OFF WITH STOLEN GOODS

Claimed That He Left City With Stolen Horse and Goods Belonging to His Tenant—Owner of Horse Out of City.

The police receive all sorts of complaints. Wednesday afternoon it was reported that a man who has been before the magistrate on more than one occasion, had made off with a horse that did not belong to him, and also some goods that had been loaned to him by his tenant. The matter is being investigated.

The man has been living in Johnson street. As he was in hard luck, it is stated that his tenant, in an endeavor to do him a good turn, loaned him some household goods. The charge is that he took a horse which had been left in pasture near his home, hitched it up to a wagon loaded up with his own goods and chattels, together with what he had been loaned by his tenant, and with his wife and four children, made off to parts unknown.

It appears that the man was negotiating for the purchase of the horse, but as the owner of the animal is out of the city, the police could not ascertain whether the deal had been put through.

The police made inquiries regarding the route taken by the man and his family, but were unable to get trace of him, and the case is being further investigated.

WHARF FOR WOLFE ISLAND

City Engineer Refuses Permit For Changes in Building on Princess Street as it Encroaches on the Street.

The Board of Works yesterday afternoon discussed with Dr. William Spankle, reeve of Wolfe Island, the building of a wharf at the foot of Clarence street for the foot of the island and decided to have plans and estimates made. The present wharf on the south side of the street end used by the islanders is in a very bad condition. Besides that it is too small, and it is to the city's interest to help the people of the prospective island across the harbor to secure a better landing place. Dr. Spankle said the island was willing to pay such a rental for a new wharf as would cover the interest on capital outlay, maintenance, etc. The City Engineer suggested building a wharf on the north side of the foot of Clarence street, just opposite the present island ferry wharf. It is understood that the city in 1902 was given permission by the Dominion Government to build a wharf at this place, but it was never done.

The City Engineer informed the Board that he had refused to issue a permit to Mrs. Conroy, owner of the building on Prince street above McGalloway street, near the foot of the reconstruction of the front. He explained that this building, besides a couple of others at that point, encroached on the street line, and this was the only chance of getting them set back. He had written the owner to file a provincial land surveyor's plan showing the line of the street in front of her property. This was the city's right, according to statute. The building owned by G. A. McGowan and occupied as a barber shop, alongside the building of Mrs. Conroy had also encroached on the street line, and when the owner had constructed a new front some years ago he was requested to move back fourteen inches or so. The Engineer said he would not issue a permit in the present case, and the members of the Board supported him in his contention.

The Engineer informed the Board that the Canadian Locomotive Company was allowing engines to remain on the new siding on Ontario street without lights at night, and also pillars on part of Ontario street. He will write the company, pointing out that it is dangerous to leave engines on the track without lights and also ask it to remove the lumber. The Engineer also pointed out that S. Anglin & Co. were using part of Bay street for storing lumber. Mrs. James Eldredge, in a written permission to extend balconies on her new apartment house on Barrie street two feet and six inches over the street line.

A conference will be arranged with Manager Folger, of the Utilities, with regard to the electric light poles inside the walks on University avenue now since the trees up there have been so "well" trimmed.

The Engineer stated that all tree trimming was hereafter to be done under the supervision of his department. The Utilities had cut down the trees along certain streets be trimmed at once for electric wires, and he had put his tree trimmer in charge of the Utilities cutters.

In attendance were Aids, Peters (chairman), Couper, Hughes, White and Wormwith.

LEARNING LANGUAGES IN GERMAN WAR CAMP

Lieut. Hugh Macdonnell is Teaching English and is Being Taught Italian.

Letters received from Lieut. Hugh Macdonnell, who is a prisoner of war at Friedrichsfelde, Germany, state that he is well and that he and his fellow-prisoners are receiving considerable treatment. The consideration shown Allied prisoners may be explained by the fact that this camp is in a district which has been more or less friendly to Britain. The camp itself is only eighty miles from the City of Hanover, which has always been friendly disposed towards England. The camp is situated in the Harz Mountains, and the war prisoners are allowed to take long trips out into the country.

Nearly all the Allies are represented among the prisoners. There are British, Canadians, French, Russians and Italians. Some of the prisoners are taking advantage of this fact to increase their linguistic knowledge. For instance, Lieut. Macdonnell is teaching a scholarly Italian the English language, and the Italian in return is teaching him the language of Italy.
