ELECTION AT QUEEN'S.

Arts Society Preparing—Special Medical Military Course. A special meeting of the Arts Society was held on Wednesday afternoon to appoint an election committee to choose the Arts candidates who will represent the faculty at the A. M. S. elections. It was decided that the presidents and secretaries of the various year societies would form the committee. J. H. Fisher will act as chairman, and the following will constitute the committee: D. R. G. Cowan, H. P. Folger, George Kelly, W. G. Coles, A. L. Blacklock, E. H. Reynolds, O. D. Cliffe and E. H. May.

Lieut. J. O'Neill, formerly battalion sergeant-major of the Queen's University contingent, C. O. T. C., is in the city renewing acquaintances. Lieut. O'Neill is a graduate of Queen's, and is now with the 235th Battalion in Bowmanville.

The special military course for the final year medical students who wish to be attached as officers to various medical units commences in a week's time. The course will come in the midst of the examinations, but no doubt will be well attended, as the majority of the final year students are intending to join some unit. Lieut.-Col. Gardiner is making arrangements for the course, which will extend for some time. It is not known definitely, but it is thought that some of the students will be kept in Canada and will do medical work in the military hospitals and convalescent homes instead of being sent overseas.

WERE WEDDED IN WEST.

Dr. E. J. De Beupre was married at McRorie, Sask. Dr. E. J. de Beupre and bride arrived in the city Tuesday. They were married at McRorie, Sask., the home of the bride, who was Miss Beatrice Carey, formerly of Winnipeg, the ceremony being performed, at Rev. Father Erry. On their way east they stopped off at Winnipeg and Toronto. The groom, who is a son of Mrs. de Beupre, Johnson street, is a graduate of Queen's and has seen service overseas, having been on the staff of Queen's Hospital. He is now connected with Queen Ambulance Corps.

MYSTERY HAS BEEN SOLVED

Runaway Pig Was Property of R. Joyce, Division Street. The mystery surrounding the pig which ran into Police Constable James Cotter's yard has been solved. Mr. Joyce learned through the Whig on Wednesday night that Constable Cotter had a "porker" and afterwards identified it as his. He says that the pig got out on the roadway, was chased by a number of boys, but that the pig gave the boys the slip, and had evidently gone into Constable Cotter's yard for protection.

British airmen dropped a wreath and two letters in Germany in memory of the late Capt. Boelke, Germany's greatest aviator.

MILITARY CIRCLES

One of the most enthusiastic recruiting agents and organizers in this military district is Lieut.-Col. E. J. Watt, commanding the 240th Battalion, with Lanark and Renfrew as recruiting area. His men are trained to accept no excuse for an eligible man not being in khaki. Prospective men have the chance to enlist in the 240th but if they hedge on the subject and offer the excuse that they want the artillery, engineers or some other branch of the service they are "not allowed to get away with it." It has been suggested that Col. Watt bring in 100 of his best men for Kingston. They could start the recruiting ball rolling for the 253rd Queen's Battalion and incidentally bring in many recruits for themselves.

Major G. I. Campbell, chief recruiting officer, will go to Belleville to assist in the organization of the big recruiting opening for the 254th Belleville Battalion, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Allen. He will return to Kingston for the big opening here on Monday.

From this date (Nov. 16th) any person who has enlisted for overseas service is exempt from the payment of the amusement tax.

Capt. Sharp and Capt. Walter McK. Macneil, who have been in charge of the bombing school in Ottawa, have been ordered to proceed to Belleville to conduct a bombing school.

The School of Bomb Throwing, which was so successfully started and carried on at Barrfield camp by Capt. Sharpe and Macneil and Lieut. Migney, has concluded two courses in Ottawa, and will start one from the 235th Battalion in Belleville next week. The last course at Ottawa was the most successful yet held and the Ottawa authorities are loud in their praise of the work done.

The Army Service Corps recruiting campaign is bringing results in this district, inasmuch as nineteen men have already been secured here yesterday, when an additional five came from Cobourg. After mobilizing here they will be sent to Toronto for final training and organization.

The following officers from this district are attending a course in musketry in Toronto: Lieut. M. J. O'Brien, 207th; Lieut. R. Patterson, 207th; Capt. B. J. Dickson, 235th; Lieut. G. S. Manning, 240th; Lieut. J. C. R. Manning, 240th; Lieut. A. G. Stewart, 252nd; Lieut. E. W. Skinner, 253rd Queen's Battalion.

A new course in bayonet fighting and physical training starts here on January 3rd.

Sergt. W. Troup, who is recruiting for the 240th Battalion of Renfrew has enlisted Frederick L. Davis, of Joyceville for his unit.

Capt. W. Peters is carrying on the duties as officer in command of the Military Hospitals Commission Company here until the appointment of a successor to Capt. Tett, now on duty with the 253rd Queen's University Battalion.

The approval of the appointment of Major Date as commandant of Fort Henry has not yet been received.

Owing to the fact that practically all the officers and N.C.O.'s of the 14th Regiment Guard have enlisted for overseas with the 253rd Battalion, Lieut.-Col. P. G. C. Campbell is considering a new list for this week.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

For to-night and the remaining half of the week an excellent programme has been arranged. Theda Bara will be seen in the feature picture, "Romeo and Juliet," a magnificent pietization of the world's greatest love tragedy. A two-reel Universal feature, a one-reel laugh-producer, and the Pathe News will also be shown. In the vaudeville will be seen May Hixon, act also the Parie-Duo, in a high class-accordion and clarinet act. This bill will be seen-for to-night, Friday and Saturday.

At the Strand.

For the last three days of this week an exceptionally strong programme has been arranged for this popular theatre. Miss Dorothy Gish will be seen in the latest five-part Triangle photo-play, "Gretchen the Greenhorn." Miss Gish plays the part of a Dutch lassie from Holland. Arriving in America, she falls in love with a young Italian musician. Later, through no fault of her own, she becomes associated with a band of counterfeiters, but is saved by her lover. Assisting Miss Gish are six Triangle kiddies, who have played important parts in a number of Triangle photo-plays shown at this theatre. A Keystone comedy, "The Danger Girl," and other good reels will also be shown. Two high-class vaudeville acts, Gertrude Dudley & Co. in anything from ragtime to grand opera, and Richard Hamlin, the "melody man in brown," come highly recommended.

At Griffin's.

The leading feature at Griffin's for to-day, Friday and Saturday is a Famous Player production entitled, "Rolling Stones," a pietization of Edgar Selwyn's great stage success, with Owen Moore and Marguerite Courtot in the leading roles. It is one of the best comedy dramas produced in pictures. Both stars are well and favorably known to all lovers of high-class screen dramas. The vaudeville, Howies and Gliman, are a team of clever singers and dancers. The management also shows another of those popular Athletic Weeklies and a Musty Suffer comedy, which is one long laugh, the whole making a very entertaining bill.

The Phantom Crook.

All Paris had been upset by a series of mysterious robberies, and murders. Since the perpetrators of these crimes could not be found, they were attributed to an elusive criminal called Fantomas. No two of his victims described him alike; but because of his ingenious methods and calculated daring, it was felt that one man committed all crimes. There will be a series of five pictures of these reels each complete in itself. They are considered the most thrilling detective stories that Paris has ever produced. The first will be shown at the King Edward Theatre to-night.

OBITUARY

Late John F. Ward.

John F. Ward, one of the county's best known residents, passed away on Wednesday evening. He was born sixty-eight years ago in the township of Kingston, and had been living at Cataract, where his son, Percival, has a general store. The deceased was a Methodist in religion.

WAS FURTHER REMANDED.

William Phillips Will Come Before the Magistrate on Monday.

The case of William Phillips, arrested three weeks ago, charged with assisting in the escape of a German prisoner named Henry Muller, was booked for the Police Court on Thursday morning. The accused was brought down from the jail in a taxi, but Magistrate Farrell further adjourned the case until Monday, and Phillips was taken back to the jail.

Walter Runciman, President of the British Board of Trade, announced the Government intended to bring about the pooling of engineering resources in order to expedite ship-building.

The rush of parcels continues at the post office. Since the beginning of the week no less than 1,600 packages have left the local post office for overseas.

King George received J. P. Morgan in audience at Buckingham palace.

Your Eyes and Your Fingers

DO NOT HAVE TO BE YOUR GUIDE WHEN BUYING HERE.

We are simple enough to believe that we fare best when we guard your interests of quality and price.

IT conduces immensely to the content and pleasure of shopping to know that there is a place in Kingston where one who is not a judge of goods, or one not much accustomed to shopping is sure not to be taken advantage of in price, or cajoled by super-salesmanship into buying what they do not need.

We would rather not make a sale than make one for the buyer to regret.
