Electrical-Mechanical-Constructional !!!

Ask your boy what he wants and he will say

Meccano, Why!

Because it cultivates his mind; educates him to build and do things himself. These are a few of the models he can make easily.

You can buy imitations of Meccano at other stores, but they are made by people who are fighting our country or are too proud to fight. Get the best—made in England, as a great many Meccano parts are patented and you only get imitations with other kinds.

MANY CUBAN BALL PLAYERS

MAY BE EXPECTED IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES.

If the Present Rate of Baseball Development in the Island Republic Is Continued.

Cuban ball players by droves may be expected on American baseball teams within the next few years if the present rate of development in the island republic is continued. There are many of the brown-skinned exponents of the American national game who will be given tryouts this year. Several Cubans already have won fame as big leaguers.

There is Armando Marsons, who is now performing for the St. Louis Browns, and Miguel Galeas, who is back-stopping for the Cardinals. These two men have made their marks as big leaguers. Another Cuban, Acosta, outfielder, appears to be ready to hold down a regular berth with Washington, and Angel Aragon and Jose Rodriguez, the former with the Yankees, and the latter with the Giants, appear to be real big league stock.

Manuel Cueta already has been signed to a big league contract, but there has been so much fuss over it that it isn't at all certain where he will draw his pay check next season.

Jacinto Calvo, an outfielder, has been grabbed by Detroit, from the Northwestern league and will be given his first trial in fast company.

Adolfo Loque and Emilio Palmero, both pitchers, are former big leaguers who are now doing duty in the American Association, and another will join them when Pedro Dibut, a right-hand flinger, joins the Milwaukee club next spring.

Rafael Almeida probably will get a chance next season with the International league. He played third base for the Scranton New York State league club, and did it so well that Montreal exercised its option.

Oscar Tuero, a right hand pitcher, is with the Eastern league, and Frank Munoz is in the North Carolina league.

These Cubans probably will be joined by others of their country after John McGraw and several other prominent baseball men get through looking them over this winter. Several journeys to Cuba are under contemplation by baseball managers.

MUTUEL PROFITS ARE LARGE

Interesting Figures Concerning Baltimore's Recent Racing.

Profits accruing from the mutual betting machines at the Maryland tracks have not been exaggerated. During the recent session of twenty-six days at Laurel it is estimated that the association's rake-off amounted to $300,000. This was equivalent to five per cent of the total amount wagered by the public at the track. The breakage, which was about 1 1/2 per cent, was paid for the running expenses of the machines, while the gate receipts provided enough money to cover the value of the stakes and purses. The profits of the Havre de Grace meeting, which preceded Laurel, reached $150,000 net. It is said, while Pimlico, which closed yesterday, enjoyed even greater prosperity. As Havre de Grace and Pimlico both held spring meetings this year, their profits probably will equal those of Laurel, which confined its operations to the month of October.

ENGLISH RINKS TAKEN

By The British War Office For Army Purposes.

John F. Davidson, professional ice skater, has made a discovery which illustrates the popularity of ice skating in America. In planning a tour of the rinks of this country Mr. Davidson has found that there is hardly a city of more than 10,000 inhabitants that hasn't a skating rink. The craze, which developed so astonishingly in New York last winter, now has spread all over the United States, and the present skating season promises to be the biggest in this country's history.

The craze has also struck London, according to Mr. Davidson, who returned from England last week, but is being held in check by the fact that the Government has taken over nearly every ice skating rink in the British Isles for army uses.

Stilt-Skating.

There are only three people in the United States who have attained proficiency in the art of skating on stilts. There are nine parts to the stilt-skating apparatus. According to those who have used stilt-skates they are just as safe as ordinary ice-skates. The skates are twenty-four inches high and carry a steel plate at the top and bottom.—Popular Science Monthly.

Foolish Stuff.

Talk of baseball war because Barney Dretus bled at Ban Johnson and Ban whispered back, is foolish even for the Winter Training Association of Baseball Bats. The two years of war with the Feds, which in some particulars still unsettled, proved to be plenty for O. B. Big league baseball is now strictly pacifist.

A Big Surplus.

That incroase was very popular in Montreal in the past season is amply shown by the statement handed out by the Shamrock Club that won the championship. The Ancient City scotte will be about the same as a year ago, and will as usual be a hard team to defeat.

Wallop for Welsh.

Here's the latest slam at Freddy Welsh, as pulled by Jimmy Johnston, manager of a string of fighters: "Vernon Castle, a dancer, has gone to the front to fight for his country, while Freddy Welsh, a fighter, won't do anything except dance in this country."

MORE SPORTSMEN FALL

Names of Many British Athletes in Recent Casualty Lists.

The lull in the advance on the western front has caused an appreciable falling off in the number of casualties, but as the result of sniping and night raids by bombing parties, the names of several well-known athletes are added to the already long list of British sportsmen who have been killed and wounded in action.

A. E. Sutherland, killed, was one of the best-known Scottish athletes. He was runner-up to W. R. Sutherland, the Scottish athlete and Rugby international, in the 1911-12 Scottish Border one hundred yards championship; occupied a like position in the two hundred and twenty yards championship in the latter year, when he was only overtaken at the post, and in 1913 he was chosen as Edinburgh University's second string in the two hundred and twenty yards for the Scottish Inter-University sports.

A well-known county cricketer has also made the big sacrifice in E. B. Myers of the Surrey County Club.

C. T. Cobbold, the famous Cambridge oarsmen, killed in action, rowed in the Caius College boat in the Thames Cup at Henley in 1913 in the memorable dead heat against Marlow. Caius were just beaten in the row off half an hour later.

A. C. Clark, who died of wounds, made his name famous in athletic circles in and around Bristol, and was also a member of the Bristol Rugby Club.

Lieut.-Col. H. S. Feynitz, a well-known Somerset county cricketer, has been badly wounded.

Capt. A. R. Gibb, killed, is the twelfth international athlete of Scotland who has died in the war. He was a noted cross country runner, and taking to the track, he won the four-mile championship of Scotland and the four-mile race against Ireland in 1900.

Two famous English soccer players have also fallen, P. McGuire the brilliant Manchester City full back; and J. M. Foster, of the Sunderland Club.

James Ferguson, the Scottish League footballer of the Third Lanark Club, and a splendid sportsman, has also laid down his life.

Old-time Player Dead.

John A. Farrell, a former National League baseball player, died at his home in Hartford, Conn., on Wednesday, aged sixty years. He was a member of the Hartford Atlantic League team, and later played second base on the Providence team when it was in the National League. He was also at one time connected with Detroit.

Woodstock College intend to again enter a team in the junior O.H.A. series.

HOCKEY NOTES.

Sporting writers in Toronto hope it out that the Ottawa Club to date lags away behind all the rest of the N.H.A. outfit in preparation for the season. Not a man has been signed. There are at least two hold-outs, Boucher and Benedict. No gym work has been undertaken.

Hamilton Times:—Nothing has been done as yet in regard to a civilian hockey team for the O.H.A., and it is hardly likely that anything will be done, for those who are available have refused point blank to come out this season.

Requests from Maryland, California, and British Columbia for copies of the O.H.A. rule book indicate that the premier hockey organization of Canada has a well-established reputation. The request from Maryland was addressed to the "Ontario Hockey Association," Ontario, Canada, and found its way all right to O.H.A. headquarters.

Blenheim, Glencoe, Dutton, and Thamesville hockey clubs are considering a proposition to come in and form an intermediate group of the O.H.A. They want to be grouped together and play their district games on the existing rinks, though several of them are below standard size. When the winner comes out of the district they will play on a regular rink.

If rumors now in circulation in Portland and Spokane hockey circles are correct, big "Moose" Johnson, defencive star of Portland Rosebuds, may wear a Spokane uniform in the coming Coast Hockey League race. A four-mile championship of Scotland and the four-mile race against Ireland in 1900.

Two famous English soccer players have also fallen, P. McGuire the brilliant Manchester City full back; and J. M. Foster, of the Sunderland Club. James Ferguson, the Scottish League footballer of the Third Lanark Club, and a splendid sportsman, has also laid down his life.

There will be a number of military teams entered in the O.H.A. this season, and the authorities are giving them every encouragement to enter the big association as well as to have representative teams in the regular district military league. The latter games will be mostly played on open-air rinks, while the O.H.A. fixtures, of course, have to be played on covered ice.
