REGISTRATION AT QUEEN'S

SHOWS A BIG FALLING OFF THIS SESSION.

The figure is 1,157, as compared with 2,009 last year—Special Military Medical Course Starts.

The Arts freshmen are about the happiest boys in the university just now, for on Tuesday afternoon they succeeded in defeating the sophomores for the rugby championship of the faculty by 6-0.

The game was fast throughout, and both teams showed good form. Everyone worked hard, and the Tuesday Jonah seemed to be with the Sophs. Reid showed up well for the "freshies" and Reynolds for the "sophs." There was no scoring for the first two quarters, but in the third Carmichael got hold of a fumbled ball and went over for a touch. He failed to convert. Shortly after Matthews kicked to the dead line and scored the last point.

Arts '19—Flying wing, E. Z. Sexton; halves, G. E. Marshall, A. L. Blacklock, V. K. Johnston; quarter, J. C. Reynolds; wings, R. F. S. Baird, C. W. Booth, J. H. McLeod, H. G. Rose, J. Hunter, Gemmill; scrum, A. N. Baker, R. J. Bolton, F. H. Gillai.
Arts '20—Flying wing, A. K. M. Jenkins; halves, E. H. May, V. G. Matthews, O. D. Cliffe; quarter, A. C. Baiden; wings, J. T. M. Wilson, D. R. Harrison, L. H. Carmichael, F. M. Macfarlan; scrum, J. A. Macdonnell, A. Grant, G. C. Lindsay; spares, R. N. Vincent, Percy Winston, R. W. Hamill, W. R. Dunlop.

A number of the final year medical students were informed on Wednesday morning that they had passed their examinations and would be granted their degrees.

The special military course started on Wednesday, and a number of the students who intend going overseas as medical officers have started the work. It is expected that these men will be in uniform when they are granted their degrees next Tuesday.

Lieut.-Col. Cunningham, O. C. Queen's University, Comdgnt, C. O. T. C., will be starting the lectures for the "B" captains' certificates very shortly, and any men, who are going overseas in the spring, are expected to take this course of lectures.

The registration for the years 1915 and 1916 at Queen's University have been announced. Theology is not included in the list, however, up to the present, as this faculty opens somewhat later than the others.

The registration for 1916 is: Arts, extra-mural, 38; Arts, intra-mural, 339; Science, 86; Medicine, 132; Education, extra-mural and intra-

MAJOR S. T. MEDD AT HEAD-QUARTERS ON WEDNESDAY.

He Tells of the Officers of the Regiment Which Trained at Barrieffield in 1915.

Major S. T. Medd, 8th C.M.R., was at headquarters on Wednesday. The major was in the 8th C.M.R. at Barrieffield during the summer of 1915, and served under Lieut.-Col. J. R. Munro when the regiment was being trained for service at the front. In England the various C.M.R. regiments were turned into infantry and made into the 8th C.M.R. Infantry Brigade. There is a reserve in England, and this brigade has its place at the front in the same way as other infantry brigades. Lieut.-Col. Munro and Major Blue, adjutant, are still at Shorncliffe, although both have been in France on instructional trips. These are also in England R. Sergt.-major Dennis.

Judge Lavell Gives Judgment in Case Tried at Napanee.

At the last County Court sittings at Napanee, over which Judge Lavell presided, an action brought by J. A. Marshall, of Arden, against M. F. Hamlyn, of London, Ont., relating to a contract for sawing defendant's timber was tried. There was a dispute as to the number of feet of timber sawed, and the plaintiff also charged that the defendant, by his delay in preparing timber for sawing, caused him considerable damage. On the other hand the defendant claimed damages for improper and negligent sawing.

Judgment was reserved, and on Wednesday was given in favor of the plaintiff for $614.44. Included in the amount allowed the plaintiff was $105 damages for delay, while the defendant was only allowed $12 on his counter-claim.

The original claim of the plaintiff was for $759, while the defendant admitted only $107.68 the difference being in dispute.
