HOCKEY NOTES.

Tom Corbett, who figured on the Toronto's several seasons ago, and later in the Maritime League along with Andy Kyle, is in the city, having been moved here by his munition firm from Regina. He coached the Regina club last year, and this season may try out for a place on the Canadian defence. Con. is twenty pounds lighter now than he was when he played on the celebrated Billy Nicholson team.

Harry Cameron has written to Owner Livingstone, of the Toronto's, stating that he will be down here in time for the first practice.

Manager George Kennedy, of the Canadiens, will try out Tepin, of Blind River. Tepin played in the Big League last season, and is said to be ripe for professional company.

Cobourg will have an intermediate team in the O.H.A. this winter and also a town league to develop the youngsters for future O.H.A. teams. There is much good material in Cobourg and they expect to have a strong team.

Women skaters, of New York, will organize the St. Nicholas Women's Hockey League Club, of New York, and accept the challenge of the Ladies' Hockey Club, of Maisonneuve, Que., for a series of games of hockey to be played this coming season at the St. Nicholas Rink.

"Hank" Stavenau, the husky blonde of last year's Ottawa team, who failed to make good and was let go, has asked to be given another trial. Stavenau is a great practice player, but shows very little in a game.

Frank Patrick, of the Vancouver Hockey Club, is still gathering in talent. Yesterday he wired transportation to Geo. Murray, a clever defence player, who makes his home in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. Patrick has received a wire from Hugh Lehman, in which Lehman states that he is leaving for the Pacific coast. Lehman worked all summer at the Soo, but returned to his home in Kitchener, Ont., to fix up his business affairs before starting west. He will arrive Saturday.

SIX-MAN HOCKEY IN SMALLER, O.H.A. RINKS

Proposed Also to Abolish All Body-Checking — Two Radical Proposals.

With the object of ascertaining the views of all clubs and hockeyists on the subject, the O.H.A. sub-committee, through its chairman, J. Ross Robertson, has introduced an amendment to be considered at the annual convention to abolish body-checking of any kind on the ice in O.H.A. games. This is the most radical change in the playing rules suggested in some years and is sure to provoke all sorts of discussion. There will be many delegates in favor of the change, while just as many will be opposed to abolishing such long-established part of the play. Whatever happens, a most interesting discussion is bound to result, and the opinions of the hockeyists throughout the Province will be obtained.

Mr. Robertson also has amendments which provide for the playing of six-man hockey on all rinks under the minimum size of 160 feet by 60 feet; of enlarging the offside of a goalkeeper from 10 to 20 feet, and to make the home club solely responsible for the notification of the association regarding referees.

Sandy Lockington, of Port Hope, has made the following suggestion on an amendment to the residence rule:

"Where a player has been a bona fide resident of a city, town or village during the term specified by the residence rule, and has taken out a playing certificate with a team of that city, town or village, and during the playing season (through unforeseen circumstances) he is obliged to change his place of abode, the player shall remain in good standing with the O. H. A. and the club with which he holds the certificate, and be allowed to continue and finish the season with the said club."

BAN FAVORS THE IDEA.

American League President Would Welcome a Third League.

Ben Johnson, president of the American League, "would not oppose" the formation of a third major league, he said yesterday, when recent gossip concerning such an organization was brought to his attention.

"In fact," said Mr. Johnson, "I rather like the idea. It would boost the game."

As Mr. Johnson was the foremost foe of the Federal League, his attitude was regarded with unusual interest.

Cities suggested in connection with a third league are Baltimore, Buffalo, Newark, Toronto, Toledo, Indianapolis, Louisville and Milwaukee. The plan, as at present discussed, is to raise these cities to major league standing by placing them outside the draft.

"Mooney" Gibson Laboring Man.

It was hard to believe that "Mooney" Gibson would don the togs of a laboring man to put the London Thistle Club curling sheets in good order for Jack Frost, but he was there large as life, and the new sand surface is now like a billiard table of cement, so level and so nice to look at in its expanse across six rinks. The former Pittsburgh National League catcher is a bear for work, and the way he makes things fly suggests that work of that or any other sort is mere sport for him.

THIRD MAJOR LEAGUE A DREAM AND A JOKE

Barrow's Description—Montreal Team to Be Shifted to Troy or Albany.

President Edward G. Barrow, of the International League, branded the idea of a third major league as a drama and a joke. He said that the plan was so preposterous that it had never even been discussed at New Orleans. He stated that some time ago officials of the American Association suggested that their organization be raised above the Class A.A. standard, but nothing had ever been done about the suggestion.

Mr. Barrow said that the International League would operate next season as a Class A.A. league. He stated that the only probable change

In the make-up of the circuit was the shifting of the Montreal franchise to Troy or Albany, or perhaps that team would operate between the two cities. George Moriarty, former major league pitcher, and present manager of the Memphis Southern League Club, may retire from the game before next season.
