THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.
A bill of merit has been secured for to-night and the first three days of this week. The five-reel picture, "The Pretenders," featuring the dainty and gifted little star, Emmy Wehlen, is an elaborate picture of a woman's struggling choice of love, money or social position. Unusual stage settings are used, while the out-of-doors scenery is photographed at beautiful and picturesque locations in and around New York City and the Adirondack Mountains. A two-reel Universal photoplay, a rapid-fire comedy, and the people's choice, the Pathe News. Two refined acts of feature vaudeville will also be on the bill.

At the Strand.
Dorothy Dalton and Howard Hickman are the stars in "The Jungle Child," the latest five part Triangle Photoplay, which will be seen at the Strand Theatre for the first three days of this week.

The Jungle Child is a weird drama of the Brazilian forests and New York city telling the gripping story of a Spanish beauty and a worthless American adventurer. The scenes open in Brazil and is later transferred to New York city when amid luxurious surroundings it is brought to an intensely dramatic close. Charles Murray in a two part Keystone Comedy "Maid Mad" other good photoplays and high class vaudeville, will round out an excellent programme.

At Griffin's.
When Mae Murray was tangoing on Broadway in "The Follies" not so very long ago she would have laughed at the idea of ever playing a really dramatic role on the screen. But times have changed, and in "The Big Sister," which plays at Griffin's the first half of this week we see the talented little actress in an impersonation of Betty, a girl of the submerged stratum, who is perfectly honest and upright in her dealings. The actual parts of New York City where the story is laid, and Miss Murray travelled from Los Angeles to New York in order to take her part on the right ground. As an extra added attraction there will also be shown on the same programme episode No. 1 of the wonderful serial, "The Crimson Stain," which is beyond a doubt the greatest subject ever produced in serial form. Our vaudeville—Les Valadons—a wire cyclist act, is one of the best acts to-day. We also show one of those popular Frank Daniels comedies. This is without a doubt one of the strongest bills we have ever placed before our patrons.

WOMAN BROUGHT TO PENITENTIARY
Sentenced at Regina to Four and Half Years for Burglary and Receiving.

Staff-Sergt. W. W. Watson, of the Mounted Police, arrived from Regina Monday morning with an Australian woman who is to serve four and a half years in the penitentiary, two for burglary and two and a half for receiving stolen goods. The reason for bringing her here is that there is no provision in the penitentiary in Saskatchewan for women. The woman is in a very delicate state of health, and the penitentiary population will shortly be increased and that not by committals.

The woman's brother and a fellow-prisoner escaped recently from the Moose Jaw jail, by were cornered by the Mounted Police, the latter being shot to death.

Staff-Sergt. Watson was accompanied by his wife, and they left Monday noon for Toronto, where they will visit friends.
