WOMEN WANT TO SERVE

ADDRESS ON "EQUAL FRANCHISE" BY MRS. L. A. HAMILTON

Before the Members of the Women's Canadian Club on Tuesday Night—Committee Will Be Formed to Help on the Campaign in Ontario.

"When talking about coalition, remember that coalition consists of all good people, both men and women, getting together for the nation's good." With these words, Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, of Toronto, closed an able address before a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club in Convocation Hall, Queen's University, on Tuesday evening, in dealing with the question, "Equal Franchise." The president of the club, Mrs. John Macgillivray, presided, and introduced the speaker, and there was a good attendance. Mrs. Hamilton is a most pleasant speaker. She has travelled extensively, is in close touch with conditions, and her address was listened to with keen interest. She made a strong appeal for the support of Kingston women in the effort which is being put forth for the vote for the women of Ontario. At the close of her address several of the members took part in an interesting discussion, and steps were taken to organize a general committee from among the various women's organizations in this city, to assist in the campaign which will be carried on to secure the vote for the women.

What Women Want.

In her opening remarks, Mrs. Hamilton said that a great many contented that a woman's place was in the home. What do women want? What are they seeking? The speaker then cited cases in which women were left with children to care for, and who were compelled to go out to work. She also referred to cases in which women were forced to live in small rooms. There were conditions which were a disgrace to the community and a blot on national life. It was desired to have every person live in a real home, and not in a place merely called a home. Legislation to have mothers' pensions would bring about the conditions desired.

The speaker declared that woman's sphere was changing. In the olden days the women had all to do with the work in the home of providing for the milk for the baby and the water consumed. Reference was made to the many deaths of infants as a result of impure milk nowadays. While there were good men looking after the legislation for the people, they did not know anything about babies. The women desired to have something to say about civic improvement, about the milk and water supply, the appointment of a medical health officer, and sanitary conditions. All this now came under the jurisdiction of civic government, and the mothers were not responsible. Then there were the questions of child labor and factory conditions for girls and women, including the number of hours to be employed. These were among the many important subjects to be considered and in which women could play an important part.

"And it brings up the truth of the old saying, 'Two heads are better than one,'" added the speaker, with a smile, "especially when one is a woman." The women of to-day were carrying on a good work for the protection of the weak and the putting down of evils. Women were taking their part in various institutions, hospitals and rescue homes. They were taking "the daily grind" as the speaker put it. The women were learning things. Other important questions included the care of the feeble-minded and the immigration laws. The women could do a great deal if they had political influence.

"We would have something done, and that is the reason we want the vote. We want to serve our generation. We believe we can contribute a great deal to it."

Women Can Assist. Many problems would follow the war, and the women would be able to assist in the solving of these problems. There were things which would have to be done after the war was over and the women should have a say as to just what was to be done. Many women would have to support themselves after the war, who did not have to do so before this great struggle.

The speaker said that she had travelled all over Canada, and was greatly impressed with the intelligence of the Canadian women. If the women were deprived of a vote, she

Pain in the Back and Kidney Trouble SINCE CHILDHOOD

When the kidneys get out of order the back is sure to become afflicted, and dull pains, sharp pains, quick twinges all point to the fact that the kidneys need attention.

Plasters and liniments will not cure the kidneys, for they cannot get to the seat of the trouble, but Doan's Kidney Pills do, and the reason for this is that they are a remedy for all kidney and bladder troubles only. Miss Mary M. Lancup, St. Asidore, Que., writes: "Since my childhood I have suffered very much from pain in the back and kidney trouble. I have used several remedies but nothing did me any good. A friend advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills so I tried a box, and before I had finished it I felt relief. I took three more boxes and am completely cured. I advise all those who suffer from kidney trouble to use them, and believe they will do for others what they have done for me."

Doan's Kidney Pills are the original kidney pills, they are put up in an oblong box, the trade mark a "Maple Leaf." Price 50c per box, three boxes for $1.25 at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Specify "Doan's" if ordering direct.

believed that a great contribution would be lost. Reference was made to the work of the women in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. When all the other provinces became linked up in this great movement, it would form a magnificent addition. The women were ready to do their part.

"There is no democracy where one-half the people are left out. We are not truly democratic unless the interests of all are represented. We do not want to take away the positions of the men. There are certain spheres we could not work in. The most important sphere for us is in regard to the welfare of women and children. We should not regard the matter from the standpoint of sex. We must realize that we are men and women, working together. There should be coalition between men and women."

Reference was made by Mrs. Hamilton to the movement in England on the liquor question. Men and women must deal with this issue. It is an evil which was weakening the life of the nation. There were many reforms to be brought about. And there was a big link between all these evils and the child life. There were reasons why the women should not be afraid to take up the question. They owed it to their country. Tribute was paid to the good work of the women in the western provinces. The work would tend to build up the national life.

One question which had been raised was to the effect that it would be unwomanly to vote. This prejudice the speaker regarded as on the same lines as the statement that it was unwomanly to skate. The women would have to break through, and tribute was due the women who many years ago took up the movement. "The women needed the vote for service."

Mrs. Hamilton said that a campaign for woman suffrage in Ontario was now on, and that in July next Premier Hearst would be waiting on by a deputation of women, and the claims set forth.

On motion of Miss A. Machar, and Miss Gordon, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Hamilton for her splendid address. Miss Machar agreed that here was much the women could do in the way of nation building, if they had the franchise.

Miss Gordon said that the question was one that would call for the educating of the women to the opportunities of service.

Following Mrs. Hamilton's appeal for help to carry on the movement, it was resolved on motion of Miss Machar, to have the secretary of the club write the secretary of the various women's organizations in Kingston, with a view to having two members from each organization appointed to serve in a separate committee to work in the interest of woman suffrage.

A SOLDIER OBJECTED.

Did Not Want Tea Leaves on the Meat Served Him.

Nothing is too good for the brave fellows who have served at the front. They have done their "bit," and they are deserving of the very best of everything.

However, there is a story going the rounds about a soldier at the Mowat Memorial Hospital which is really too good to keep. The other day choice roast lamb with mint sauce was on the bill-of-fare. The soldier in question was served with his tray, and a few minutes later one of the members of the staff was very much surprised to receive a serious complaint from the soldier. He ordered her to take away his tray, declaring that he did not want any person to spit tea-leaves over his meat. He was informed that no such thing had occurred, but all the talk possible could not convince the patient that he had been served with lamb and mint sauce, so back to the kitchen the tray had to go.
