WHILE PLAYING GROUND HOCKEY ON THE CAMPUS.

Accident to Miss Lottie Whitton—Science Wins Inter-Faculty Soccer Championship, Defeating Arts 1 to 0.

On Thursday afternoon the inter-faculty soccer game for the championship of the university and the MacClement cup was played on the lower campus between Science '18 and Arts '18. The game was played a week ago, and resulted in a tie, so that it had to be replayed, and this time Science won, the score being 1-0.

Arts was without two of their regular line-up, Sutherland and Talbot, and this in a measure counts for the defeat.

Both sides, however, were fairly evenly matched, and Science put in their goal after the Arts' men had stopped playing on account of some misunderstanding. The play was perfectly legal, however, and showed judgment on the part of the men from Fleming Hall.

During the game Folger twisted his knee and was replaced by Mohr. N. Hagyard refereed.

While playing ground hockey on Wednesday afternoon for Arts '17 against Arts '18 on the upper campus, Miss Lottie Whitton had the misfortune to have a rib broken.

The game was for the championship of the university, and when the play was going fast and furious the accident occurred. Miss Whitton continued to play, but after the game received medical attention and the fracture was set. She will be completely recovered in a few weeks, it is hoped.

The candidates on the tickets of the A.M.S. elections were out in full force on Thursday night canvassing the young ladies for votes. The residence and the Y.W.C.A. were visited, and several enjoyable hours were spent at these places.

PTE. CHARLES MILTON WRITES BEFORE DEATH

He Tells Capt. the Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald of his Happiness.

Just a few days before he met death on the field of battle, Charles Milton, formerly a Salvation Army chaplain at Barriefield camp with the rank of captain, wrote to his former camp associate, Capt. the Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald, of Kingston, telling him of his work at the front.

Capt. Fitzgerald first learned of the death of his former chaplain confere through the Whig, and paid tribute to his good work: Pte. Milton (for he reverted to the ranks in order to get to the front) wrote in part as follows:

"I am quite happy and striving daily to serve my God and king and country during the present crisis. I have seen a little of the firing line and know what French warfare is like. One of the worst features is the exceeding weather, which causes the men to endure a lot of hardships. It is really wonderful what an army the Allies have now. Apparently it is only a question of time and the Germans will be beaten. We are in billets at present for a few days' rest, which is greatly appreciated by all.

"I have never forgotten the pleasant associations we had together in connection with our work at Barriefield. This is rather a strenuous life, but God has been good to me and helped me in a wonderful manner. Above all I do desire to be a blessing to the men spiritually. I am glad to state that opportunities are opening up for me. I was very glad to be able to pay the last rites to a dear fellow in my platoon who had laid down his life for his country. Otherwise, like hundreds of others, there would not have been any chance of paying the last respects.

"Wishing you much joy in your work. Yours for Christ, C. MILTON."

APPEAL IN RODAGE CASE.

Stated Case to Be Submitted to Appellate Court at Toronto.

Some time ago Walter Rodage was tried on serious charge by Judge LaVell and found guilty. His counsel, A. R. Cunningham, before sentence was passed, asked for a reserve case for submission to the appellate court at Toronto. The request was granted by the judge, and the prisoner allowed out on bail, pending the appeal.

Thursday the stated case was decided before the judge, and it is expected that the matter will be disposed of very shortly by the court at Toronto. The appeal is solely upon questions of law, which, during the trial, were decided against the prisoner.

The case was heard here last week.

THEATRICAL NEWS

To-night "Milestones."

"Milestones" is the play which will be put on at the Grand by the Queen's Dramatic Club to-night. An exceptionally strong cast has been secured, and those who have been following the rehearsals say that "Milestones" will be the biggest success in the history of the club.

J. W. Sutherland, who took the leading role in last year's production, will again play the lead as John Rhead. Miss Emily Inman as Gertrude and Miss Augusta MacLeod as Rose Sibley share the leading female roles between them. Those taking part are: J. W. Sutherland, Emily Inman, H. T. Blacklock, Augusta MacLeod, G. E. Wood, Catherine Holland, F. M. Macfarland, May Gemmill, C. S. Applebe, Alice Goodwin, M. L. Ashmore, H. B. Love, O. D. Cliffe.

At the Grand.

An audience up to full force was thoroughly pleased with the peerless film and variety bill offered at the Grand last evening. Virginia Pearson was seen in the big six-reel feature, "Dare-Devil Kate," a rollicking comedy full of laughs and thrills. Other pictures were "The Lucky Gold Piece," "Hunting Whales in Japan," "Model 48," and Pathe News. In the vaudeville Kampain and Bell made a decided hit with their delightful singing specialty. Among their numbers were "Please, Please," "Song of Songs," "Because He Did His Duty," and for an encore sang Emmett's "Cuckoo Song." Mack O'Neil pleased with the following: "O'Brien," "Home Town in Ireland," and "Very Kind of Me." This same bill will be repeated to-morrow afternoon and evening.

Shakespearean Comedy.

Next Tuesday should be styled the Shakespeare Frolic night at the Grand Opera House when Tom Wise and his two co-stars, Constance Collier and Isabel Irving bring their rollicking performances of "The Merry Wives of Windsor" there. As played by these clever stars and a supporting company of uniform excellence, this, the greatest of all Shakespeare's comedies, is proving that it can entertain and amuse today as surely as it did three hundred years ago. No present day farce evokes more continued and spontaneous gales of laughter as greet the attempts of the amorous fat Falstaff to conduct love affairs with two clever women at one and the same time.

At the Strand.

A large and appreciative audience witnessed a well-balanced programme at this theatre last evening. Sir Herbert Tree, that illustrious English actor-knight, was seen to advantage in the latest 5-part Triangle photoplay, "The Old Folks at Home." Sir Herbert Tree has never had a part more suited to his talents. "Dollars and Sense," a two-part Keystone comedy, and other good reels were also shown. McBride and McBride have a high-class musical act and pleased everyone present. This bill will be shown again to-night and Saturday, with a special Saturday matinee for ladies and children.

MADE EARLY CALL.

Lieut.-Colonel Gardiner Awakened From Sleep to Give Information.

The Military Hospitals Commission does not want to rent half the private residences in the city. Lieut.-Col. R. J. Gardiner, A.D.M.S., has many worries, but his greatest is the fear of being asked to get out of his bed during the night to tell people that no private houses are wanted. On Friday morning at a very early hour he had a rush call to his door, where a man was waiting to inform him that he was willing to rent two Alfred street houses to the commission. The colonel is being besieged with applications.
