THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

To-night will be the last chance to see Virginia Pearson in "Dare-Devil Kate." An excellent bill is scheduled for the first three days of next week. Dorothy Green and Clifford Bruce are starred in the feature picture, "The Devil at His Elbow," a story of the evil influence of drink when taken as a stimulant to aid in completing an almost super-human piece of work. This production contains scores of big situations, on board a big steamer at sea, and also on a submarine obtained from the United States Navy. A two reel Universal photo-play, a ripping good comedy, and the Pathe News will also be shown. In the vaudeville Boule and Druar will present a comedy singing and piano act. Engard and Marshall will be seen in a novelty aerial act.

Shakesperian Play.

"The Merry Wives of Windsor" which will appear at the Grand on Tuesday, December 12th, will be one of the most fascinating productions of the season. On the present company's tour of Canada, the merry Shakesperian comedy has evoked unlimited commendation. Headed by a cast of stars including Thos. A. Wise, in the memorable role of Falstaff, Constance Collier, as Mistress Page and many other prominent stars, one would readily expect a finished production. Added to the sparkling humor of the book is the musical score by Silvio Hein, whose name speaks for crispness and melody in the musical line.

At the Strand.

For the first three days of next week patrons of this popular theatre will have a chance to see Miss Lillian Gish, late co-star in the "Birth of a Nation." Miss Gish will appear at the Strand in the last five-part Triangle photo-play, "Diane of the Folies," a story of a girl who left the stage to be married to a millionaire aristocrat and then returned "Diane of the Folies," is a play of domestic life, and the dresses worn by the women (sixty-seven in number) are simply marvelous and interest in them is only surpassed by the excellence of the entire production. Charley Chaplin in a new production, "Police," will also be shown, a two-part Keystone comedy. See Weekly and a high-class act of vaudeville will complete an excellent bill.
