Diamond Rings For Christmas.

A great fund of happiness is condensed in a diamond; one never grows tired of it, and there is the additional satisfaction of knowing that it will be just as perfect many years from now as when it left the cutter's wheel. It never depreciates in value. It is like a government bond;, always worth its face value.

It is not an expenditure in the strictest sense of the term. It is a substantial asset, an investment yielding as "interest" the joy and happiness that it affords the wearer.

For this Christmas we have a very large assortment of diamond rings.

Solitare rings, $20 up to $450.

Three stone rings, $50 up to $300.

Five Stone Rings, $50 up.

Cluster Rings, $25, $50, $75 and $125
