NATIONAL SERVICE PLANS

WHAT CAN WE DO TO HELP WIN THE WAR.
Asking the Men of Canada to Enrol Themselves by Voluntary Registration—To Help the Country Find Its Possibilities.

What can we do to help win the war? This is the question that thousands of Canadian men and women have been asking themselves. The answer is supplied by the National Service Commission with its invitation to the men of Canada to enrol themselves by voluntary registration. The cards that are sent out to every man between the ages of sixteen and sixty-five will furnish the information that the Commission needs in order to turn to account in the best way all the resources of the country. Canada needs the services of every man to carry on her agricultural, mineral and manufacturing industries, as well as to fight her battles in France and Flanders. No one is exempt from the duty of enrolment. With a complete inventory of the man-power of the Dominion in their hands, it will be a comparatively easy task for the Commission to point out where available workers may be sought to supply deficiencies in agricultural and other basic industries, and the process of adjustment will be speedy and effective. Without an inventory, such adjustment will be slow and imperfect. The lesson of the last two years of war will have been not to respond promptly and unanimously to the appeal. Germany and her subject nations are united and organized, and they can only be defeated by union and organization as complete and more powerful than their own. Canada has sent her fighting men to beat back the enemy in France and Flanders, but she has a great army of workers at home whose exertions are needed no less to help win the war. In those days, idleness is a crime, but misplaced or inappropriate labour is hardly less an offence against the cause for which our country is fighting. We are asked to enrol ourselves for national service. The man who refuses or neglects to do so enrolls himself among the enemies of his country. The issue is plain. Are we for our country or against it. In this tremendous struggle? Let our registration cards answer the question.

EX-KINGSTONIAN IS VICTIM

Of Quaker Oats Factory Fire in Peterboro Two Weeks Ago.
The terrible toll of the Quaker Oats fire was augmented on Tuesday, when William John Tetro died at 7 p.m. at the St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterboro, after two weeks of patient suffering. The deceased was born in Kingston fifty-six years ago, and resided here until going to Peterboro, twenty years ago. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, three brothers, two of whom M. D. Tetro, Ordnamee street, and James Tetro, Reed street, reside in Kingston, and one in Cleveland, and two sisters, one here and one in Cleveland. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning to St. Peter's church and cemetery, Peterboro.

CHANGE IN THE WEATHER.

Sleet Storm on Wednesday Made it Most Disagreeable.
Citizens were more than surprised at the great change in the weather on Wednesday morning. Rain and sleet set in early in the morning, and in a very short time walking was made very disagreeable, and the men from the Board of Works department went the rounds of the down-town streets and scattered sand on the walks. There are still a number of citizens who have not yet put a shovel on their walks, as the police notified quite a large batch of delinquents during Wednesday.

PRAISE MAYOR RICHARDSON.

Altho. Peters and Newman Speak About His Good Work.
That the work of Mayor Richardson is appreciated by the aldermen was shown at the last meeting of the City Council, when Ald. Peters in moving a resolution of thanks to the mayor spoke of "his able administration during the year." Ald. Newman was most enthusiastic over Mayor Richardson's work. He said the Richardson had displayed "marked executive ability, and a number of citizens who have not yet put a shovel on their walks, as the police notified quite a large batch of delinquents during Wednesday."

To Lecture in Kingston.

Miss Ada L. Ward, who is to lecture in Convocation Hall on Thursday, Dec. 29th, under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club, has been for two years at the front with Lena Ashwell's entertainment company. She arrived in Canada a few days ago after an exciting trip during three days of which the vessel on which she was, was chased by an enemy ship. Miss Ward has met Canadian soldiers from all over the Dominion and brings a message to their friends at home. A unique feature of Miss Ward's lecture is that she illustrates her talks by sketches on a blackboard as she goes along. In the afternoon Miss Ward will talk to the children on Andersen's Fairy Tales. The proceeds are in Aid of the Red Cross.

Letter From Rev. Dr. Mackie. Postmaster James Stewart has received an interesting letter from Rev. Dr. John Mackie, formerly pastor of St. Andrew's church, from Balleboole, Isle of Man. Dr. and Mrs. Mackie were in England for some time. Their many friends in Kingston, to whom they extended best wishes, will be glad to know that they are enjoying good health. Their son, Capt. William Mackie, a graduate of the Royal Military College, is on the firing line.

Council Candidates.

(By Old Timer.)

I see that Dr. D. A. Black, the well-known dentist and yachtsman, is a candidate in Sydenham Ward for Aldermanic honors. He's a modest man and may not like to ask the people to vote for him, but all the same he should receive a big vote on polling day. Dr. Black is a good citizen, and would make a splendid representative for this ward. There also appears on the Sydenham Ward list the name of D. P. Millan, who was brought up in that section of the city. Mr. Millan made a good alderman when he represented Cataract Ward under the mayoralty regime of the late "Jack" Mowat. He was a people's man every time, and Cataract Ward can thank him for many things he succeeded in having done on the streets. Sydenham Ward should elect him next Monday.

There would have been an acclamation in Cataract Ward, I understand, only for the fact that an addendum was wanted to be in the race. However, the people down town there know the man they want. I am acquainted with only two of the candidates running in Cataract. One is Ald. Neil Polson, who is a chip off the old block. His father was one of the best mayors Kingston ever had, and the son has made a good City Council representative this year. I have no doubt but what he will head the poll. Then there is my old friend James Norris, known to nearly everyone in Cataract Ward as a worthy citizen. He, too, should be one of the winners.

Frontenac Ward, I would like to wager, will elect Ald. S. S. Corbett as the head of the poll. "Sam" has been right on the job all year and has not disappointed his constituents of Frontenac Ward, who are bound that he will again represent them. They say that Ald. Peters will be dropped because of the mistakes he has made by the Board of Works. J. W. Smith is looked upon as likely to be elected in Ald. Peters' place by the labor men, who would like to see some new blood in the council from Frontenac Ward.

It will be a close run between Ald. Couper and Clugston as to which will head the poll in Rideau Ward. Those two representatives are a credit to that section of the city. "Bill" and "Dan" are people's men, and that's why they are sent to council year after year.

TWAS A FINE EVENT.
Sunday School Entertainment for Collins' Bay Presbyterians. The Christmas tree and entertainment of Collins' Bay Presbyterian church was held on Tuesday night, and was a fine event. Quite a number from the city attended. The affair was held in the church. A beautiful Christmas tree, laden with gifts for the scholars, was a prominent feature. Anthony Rankin, M.P.P., acted as chairman, and a splendid programme consisting of songs, recitations and choruses, was given by the scholars of the Sunday school, each number being warmly applauded. Those taking part showed marked ability, and the different numbers were delightful. The committee having the entertainment in charge are deserving of great praise. After the programme was concluded the gifts were distributed, and everybody went home happy.
