

Canada's Aviation Training School at Long Branch, Near Toronto

The home of the Aeroplanes at Long Branch.

A GROUP OF PILOTS. - HARRY WEBSTER, BERTRAND ACOSTA, and FLIGHT SUB-LIEUTENANT T.W. WEBBER

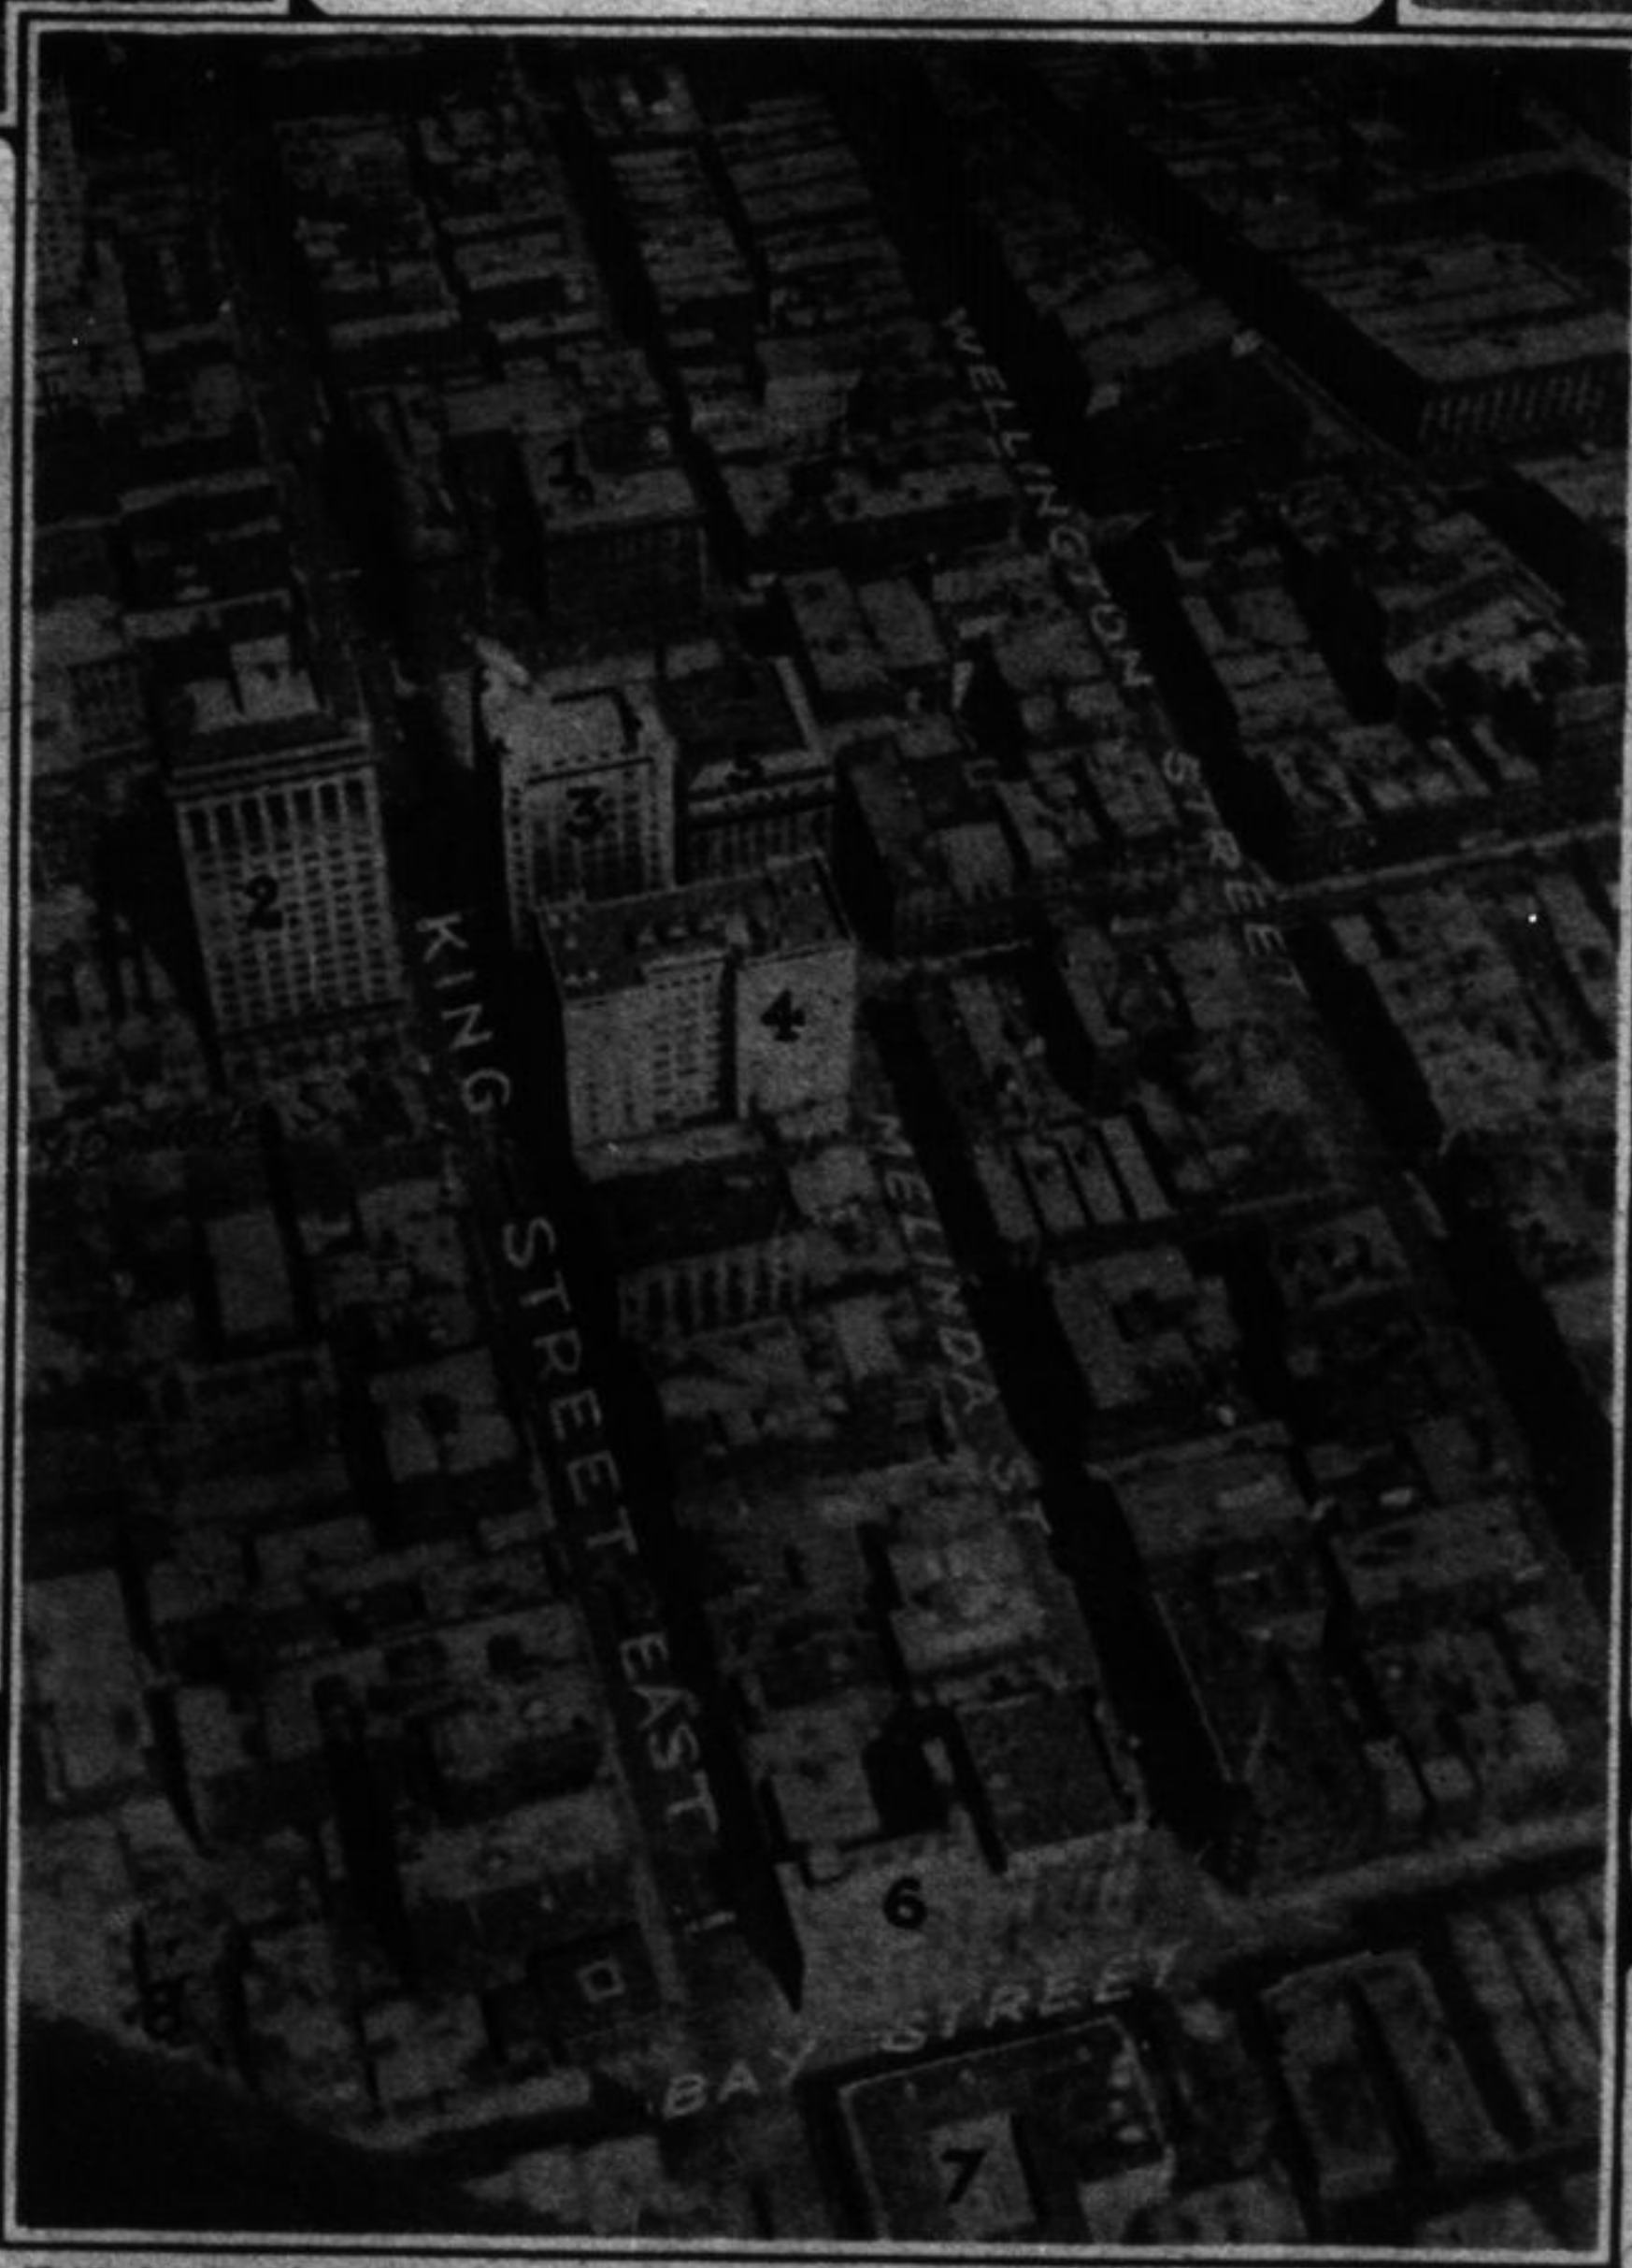

J.A.D. McCurdy. THE MAN WHO FATHERED AVIATION IN CANADA.

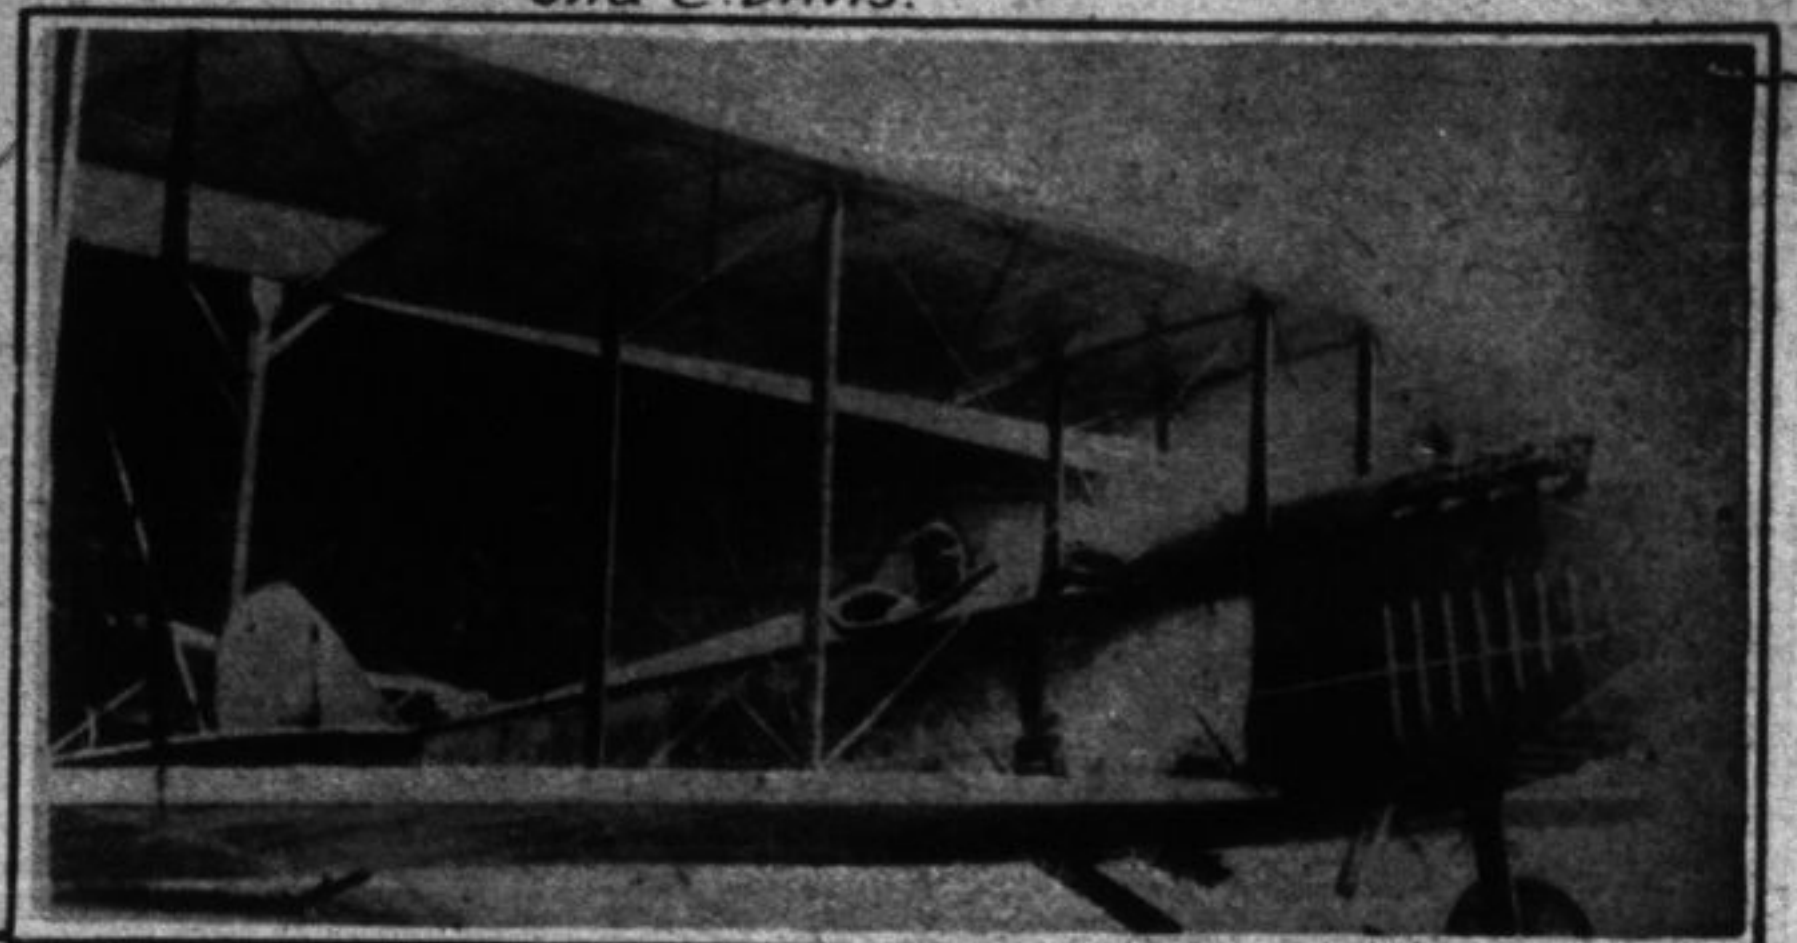

THE MANAGER OF THE CURTISS AVIATION SCHOOL AND HIS STAFF OF MECHANICS. - M. FRASER, J. KING, G. BUNTING, R. WHITFIELD, L. BRIGGS, ELMER ROBINSON (manager), F. BLOSS, E. DALE, R. TIMMONS, and C. DAVIS.

"TROUBLE IN THE ENGINE!"

THE HUB OF THE CITY AS SEEN FROM 2,000 FEET ABOVE. 1. KING EDWARD HOTEL. 2. ROYAL BANK BUILDING. 3. C.P.R. BUILDING. 4. DOMINION BANK. 5. TRADERS BANK. 6. STERLING BANK. 7. BANK OF TORONTO. 8. THE TORONTO DAILY NEWS OFFICE.

Flight Lieutenant Strachan Ince, now in England, and the first pupil to graduate from the Curtiss Aviation School. He has won the DSO for bringing down a German Zeppelin.

Flight Sub-Lieutenant T.W. Webber an instructor at Long Branch. Lieutenant L.J. Dunham of Brockville, who was wounded at the front. He has just finished his aviation course.

"Snapped" in mid-air by his fellow-passenger, an interesting picture of the late pilot Stevenson McGordon taken over the lake.

At the Start Victor Carlstrom getting under way.

At the finish - Swooping down over the hangar.