YOUTH GIVEN A CHANCE

ON PLEADING GUILTY TO THEFT IN POLICE COURT.

Russell Phillips Called Upon to Pay Back Money to Men Who Suffered Loss When Motor Boat Engines Were Stripped of Brass.

Russell Phillips, the eighteen-year-old lad placed under arrest on Tuesday by Constable Robert Sargeant, on a charge of breaking into boat-houses and robbing motor boat engines of brass, and who confessed to the charge, will be given a chance to "make good" by Magistrate Farrell.

When arraigned on the charge on Wednesday morning the accused pleaded guilty, but the two citizens who suffered the loss stated that they did not care to press the charge.

Magistrate Farrell told Phillips that he would give him a chance to "make good." He would allow the case to stand over, and he would be called upon to pay back every week as much money as he could to the men who suffered the loss, until a satisfactory settlement was made.

"I hope you will realize the position you are in," said the Magistrate to the accused, "and that in the future you will be able to see that you must not take what does not belong to you.

The youth has employment, and he will be able to pay back the money, and appeared to be glad of the opportunity to do so.

Every winter the police receive complaints about boat-houses being entered, and engines stripped of brass. In many cases it has been a very difficult matter for the police to catch the guilty parties, but in this they made an arrest in quick order.

"The Glory of the Patriotic Fund."

One reason given by the executive committee of the Canadian Patriotic Fund for its decision to retain voluntarism as the basis of the fund, was thus pungently put in its report in October:

"The glory of the Patriotic Fund, has always been that it afforded an opportunity for the man who could not enlist to make a present sacrifice in some degree commensurate with that of the man in the trenches, and it is felt that so long as the soldier stacks to his post, the stay-at-homes in Canada should continue their support to his family."

Need $100 for P.O.W. Fund.

The American Consul reports that the prisoners-of-war fund is $100 short of being sufficient to send the usual number of parcels to the Canadian soldiers in Germany this month. An effort is being made to secure the desired amount so that the Canadian prisoners will not have to suffer from lack of food in their monthly parcel.

KINGSTON WOMEN'S WANTS INSTALLED AS MINISTER

MEETING HELD AT QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY TO DISCUSS SUBJECT.

Women to Distribute Pledges Through the City to Find Out the Opinion of the Public.

Kingstonians are to have the opportunity before the end of the month of expressing their opinion as to whether women should have a vote in elections. This was decided unanimously at a meeting of Kingston ladies held in Fleming Hall of Queen's University on Tuesday afternoon when the preliminary arrangement for the work were made.

Mrs. John Macgillivray was elected president, Mrs. Elmer Davis, secretary, and Miss H. Laird, treasurer of the committee. After much discussion it was decided that the president and secretary and Miss Laird would form a committee to divide the city into districts. In each of the districts three ladies would be detailed to look after the signing of pledges, which are expected to arrive from Toronto shortly.

Mrs. Macgillivray reviewed the history of the movement in Toronto the ladies' organizations were very anxious that equal franchise should become law in Ontario. Premier Hearst had been approached on the subject. He requested that proof be given him of the general feeling not only in Toronto but all through the province of what the public thought on the subject. If the opinion was found favorable, there would be no hesitation about the question being brought before the house. To secure this information the local committee had been formed of the members present at Tuesday's meeting into the "Equal Franchise Campaign Committee." The cards, which will be taken around by the ladies in the various sub-divisions of the city, must be returned to Toronto by the end of this month.

There were present at the meeting the following ladies: Mrs. J. Macgillivray, Mrs. W. Skinner, Mrs. S. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. W. R. Givens, Mrs. J. M. Campbell, Mrs. Guthrie, Mrs. T. G. Smith, Mrs. J. Wright, Mrs. I. G. Bogart, Mrs. Walter Macnee, Mrs. Sandford Calvia, Mrs. Stiekney, Mrs. W. H. Gimblett, Mrs. Elmer Davis, Mrs. Linton, Miss M. Gordon, Miss Meadows, Miss Beatrice Donagall, Miss H. Laird, Miss A. M. Machar, Miss Lovick and Miss Bureau.

OF FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TUESDAY EVENING.

Rev. T. De Courcy Rayner Inducted—Rev. Dr. Griffith-Jones, of Bradford, England, Gave a Splendid Address.

At the ceremony in the First Congregational church in connection with the installation of the new pastor, Rev. T. De Courcy-Rayner, on Tuesday evening, there were several prominent clerical representatives, including Principal E. Griffith-Jones, Bradford, England; Rev. William T. Gunn, M.A., D.D., general secretary of the Congregational Union of Canada; Rev. James T. Daley, B.A., Coburg; Rev. Dr. Hugh Pedley, Montreal, Moderator of the Congregational Union; Rev. John Lyall, Calvary church, city; and Rev. G. S. Clendinning, Brock street Methodist church, representing the Kingston Ministerial Association.

Rev. Dr. Pedley presided at the meeting, which was well attended. When the meeting opened, letters of congratulation to the First Congregational church congregation were read from Emmanuel church, Hamilton, which Rev. Rayner has just left, and from other places where he is known.

The Moderator referred to the late Robert J. McKelvey, who had been such an energetic and faithful member of the First church all his life.

The speaker had been at Cold Springs, Winnipeg, and in Montreal for the last seventeen years. He always remembered, however, that it was Kingston where his first call to a pastorate came from. He referred to the need for greater co-operation in every church, which should be inspired by the recent call to national service.

Dr. Gunn offered the prayer of installation, and Rev. Mr. Lyall extended the right hand of fellowship to the new minister.

Dr. Griffith-Jones, in his charge to Mr. Rayner, gave an admirable address. He referred to the fact that he had many occasions to charge his students with their duties before they went out to preach what they had learned. A charge to one who had already been through his first ministry was a relief. The speaker said that he had to live his life over again he would remain as a minister and not as professor or principal. Addressing the people directly, Dr. Griffith-Jones said he would give their new minister the motto, "Seek not yours, but you."

Ministers are not in the ministry for a living. The congregation should look after that and give their pastor more freedom in his duties.

One of the faults of modern preaching, he wished to add, was that too often the preacher was more interested in thinking up subjects than he was of his congregation. The minister of to-day must interest his people in their spiritual welfare in every way possible.

This was Dr. Jones' last opportunity of speaking in Canada, and in a few words he spoke of the great pleasure his visit had given him. "Now is the crucial time in deciding what ideals shall guide the Canadian nation," he said. No Gospel that was not as broad as this land would be satisfactory. The mixing of races after the war would bring about some difficulty. Assimilation of these races was the only possible way out.

In his charge to the people, Mr. Daley dealt principally with the theme, "Pay Your Minister." With eggs at 60c a dozen and butter at 50c a lb., a minister should be receiving five times as much as a few years ago. There ought to be a law that a minister could not go into debt. Then the people would be made to feel their responsibility. "Co-operate with your minister instead of patronizing him, and begin to practise what he preaches," was the speaker's advice.

Mr. De Courcy-Rayner extended a welcome from the local Ministerial Association, and the meeting closed with prayer led by the new pastor.

County Magistrate George Hunter had a case of non-payment of wages before him Tuesday. A Kingston township farmer was sued by his hired man for $45, while the farmer made a counter-claim for $5 for washing, at the rate of 50 cents a week; $1 for medicine and $1 for breaking a plow handle. The Magistrate gave judgment for $40.16. Another farmer of Kingston township was fined $2 and costs, the total of which amounted to $10 for allowing three of his horses to run at large. The animals were placed in pound and the accused took them away without authority. He claimed he did not know that the horses were in pound.

INCINERATOR KEEPS DOWN FIRE LOSSES

Garbage Collection Tends to Make Citizens Clean Up Their Premises.

It may not be generally known, but the new garbage system, which was installed in Kingston over a year ago, has helped to cut down the fire losses in this city.

This fact was announced at the inaugural meeting of the Fire and Light Committee on Tuesday afternoon, after the report of Fire Chief Armstrong had been read, so that the city's incinerator is doing a double service.

As a result of the collection of garbage, a large amount of refuse is removed from the premises of the citizens, and the removal reduces the chances of fires. Then again, the removal of refuse has a tendency to make merchants "clean-up." This is shown in the fact that there have been fewer fires in the business section of the city.
