APPEAL TO HORSE LOVERS

CANADIANS ASKED TO PROVIDE HOSPITAL FOR WAR EQUINES
Want Thousand "Beds"—A Society With War Office Authority is Asking for $60,000.

Backed by credentials which bear the imprimatur of his Grace the Duke of Portland, K.G., Sir Montague Fowler, Bart., and other men of high standing in England, and all deeply interested in the work of caring for the many hundreds of thousands of sick horses at the battle front, Mr. R. H. Rees has come to Canada to seek help for the wounded animals in France and in Flanders. Mr. Rees represents officially the Fund for Sick and Wounded Horses, organized by the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, London, the principal patrons of which are His Majesty King George and her Majesty Queen Mary. Soon after the war broke out the equipment of the splendidly organized Army Veterinary Corps was found inadequate to efficiently succor all the sick and wounded horses at the front, and the co-operation of the R.S.P.C.A. was offered the British War Office and accepted. This gave birth to the fund, which has already provided at the front four veterinary hospitals, with "wards" and "beds," which ensure treatment for 4,000 horses at the same time.

In addition to these hospitals are quarters for the men, 40 motor and horse ambulances, corn crushers, motor lorries for fodder, etc. The first appeal made by the society was answered by over $500,000, but even this large sum has proved unequal to the task, and Canadians are now being appealed to to provide sufficient funds to erect a hospital for the treatment of Canadian horses. Since the war started 334,255 horses and mules have been shipped from the American Continent to the war area, where there are now millions of animals within the five-mile fire zone, chiefly because motor traction is impossible there. The Canadian Veterinary Hospital is estimated to cost $30,000, and will care for 1,000 horses at the one time.

When Mr. Rees, who is at present in Toronto, landed on this side he immediately invoked the aid of the branch of the R.S.P.C.A. in New York, which is the oldest branch of the society on the American Continent, and the members quickly responded by forming an American auxiliary of the fund at 50 Madison Avenue, New York City, where Mr. Rees has meanwhile made his official headquarters. Lovers of animals throughout the United States, irrespective of international boundary lines, have flocked to the aid of the society, in the belief that charity and mercy should be universal in a case of this kind.

Aiming at Different Targets.
The National Hockey Association games are getting along famously this season with only one referee. They could really be operated without any official in charge, as professional hockey is the only known game in which there is no penalty for infraction of its rules. Replacing a wearied player by a fresh one is a reward for foul play, not a penalty. This condition exists because the rules are drawn by promoters whose purpose is not the encouragement of a sport, but the presentation of a spectacle. And it supplies a basic reason why amateur sport can never be properly served by professional direction. The aims are radically different, and marksmen aiming at different targets are not likely to hit the same one.

Connie Mack Has Signed Bodie.
Ping Bodie will be back in the American League next season. Connie Mack has signed him. Mack is confident that he can get a 300 average out of Bodie by using some of the famous Mack sales and diplomacy. Ping's previous failure in the majors is attributed to bad management.

Ping played in 206 games on the coast last year and had an average of .303. He secured more hits than any other player in the golden west region.

It turns out that only two of Tia Juana's crop of bookmakers, Joseph Blume and Henry Hanf, emigrated to New Orleans.

SOCCER GAMES IN THE OLD COUNTRY

Bottom Dogs Show Renewed Life and Spring Surprises Upon Flag Aspirants.

There was a remarkable upheaval of form in premier soccer circles in Scotland on Saturday. Of the nine league games played, five scores of 1 to 0 were returned, and these were least expected. Motherwell, who are far down the league table, came very close to tripping up the mighty Celtic at Parkhead, and it was a feather in their chaplets that the Fir Park brigade ran the champions to one goal. The efforts of Hamilton Academicals to throw Greenock Morton at Burnbank was none the less meritorious. The only goal of the game went to Morton, who had to show a full hand before they could claim victory. Hibernians made a big attempt to get further away from the "wooden spoon," and succeeded in putting a big dent in the halo of the Love Laners, and incidentally winning their third game of this season. Raith Rovers, the bottom dogs, also surprised themselves, but more so Third Lanark, by securing the points at Cathkin Park by the odd goal. This was Raith Rovers' second win of the season, and Third Lanark never expected that the Fifers could triumph in the West.

Liverpool by defeating Preston North End broke the tie in the leadership for the Lancashire championship and jumped two points ahead of Burnley, who fell to Manchester United at Old Trafford. Everton climbed to another rung on the league ladder by trouncing Blackburn Rovers 5 to 1 at Etwood Park, while Bolton Wanderers had to swallow the most unpalatable dose of any club during the afternoon, Stoke forcing upon the Burneden Park team a seven-goal defeat.

Tough on the Owners.
The latest burden to fall upon the shoulders of the poor magnates is a raise in the hotel rates around the circuit. Major league presidents are in receipt of letters from several hostilities at which their teams put up during the playing season. Advising that the rates will be boosted from 50 cents to $1 per day per man. As the club carries an average of twenty-five men while on the road during the championship season this addition to the cost of travelling will amount to quite a sum during the course of a year. A dollar a day increase in the cost of hotel accommodation means $25 a day to the club, or an advance in the expenses of about $2,000 in a year. Thus do things conspire to annoy the once plutocratic but now shy and shrinking club owner.

A Bullet-Riddled Athlete.
With several German bullet wounds on his body and legs, "Bob" Phyllis, former amateur lightweight champion and a member of the St. Charles Athletic Club, is back in Toronto. Before the war he was considered one of the best amateur lightweights in Canada.

SADDLE AND SULKY

The rumor of a race track being built in Detroit this season is again being revived. It is said that several wealthy sportsmen are interested in the project, and are aiming to interest Judge Murphy.

It is not all a picnic for the clubs introducing the mutuels. The Sydney Referee says: "Between buildings and machines, the installation of the tallisator at Randwick will probably cost the Australian Jockey Club nearly £40,000."

Recent selling race activities at New Orleans resulted in the transfer of Squeeler to B. J. Brannon for $1,550. The Duke to W. Birnie for $1,100, and Pontefract to C. O. Reed for $900. Capt. Press bought Hubhub for $2,000 at private sale. Sam Louis raised No Manager $600, but did not get him.

Bookmaker Al Koenigsberg has been denied the privileges of the Tia Juana track for the present.

At Juarez Bobolink was advanced from $200 to $500, after winning the second race, by K. Spence and sold. Certain Point was bid up from $200 to $430 by R. S. Plunkett and was retained by Owner Spence. Mineral Jim was bid up from $200 to $430 by K. Spence and retained by W. A. Griffin.

The racing bill to be introduced into the Texas Legislature creates a State Racing Commission and legalizes racing in cities of 50,000 for fifteen days in the spring and fifteen days in the fall. In smaller towns racing will be permitted seven days, spring and fall.

Bigdodo was bid up from $500 to $730 by J. M. Shilling after his Juarez victory Friday, but was retained. Josefina Zarate was bid up from $300 to $605 by J. E. Hines, but was protected by Hays & Kessinger. There were two bids for the filly—one of $525 by R. H. Goode.

A Juarez report has it that the Browne-Henschall track at Havana, to race in conflict with that of other sources, indicates a great scurrying for capital for the new enterprise, and the most extravagant and impossible promises in that connection.

WRIGHT TO BE COACH

Canadian Oarsman Has Called a Turnout for Drill.
Any belief among undergraduates at the University of Pennsylvania that "Joe" Wright would be unable to coach the Red and Blue crews this season vanished this afternoon when the Canadian rowing mentor appeared in the athletic association headquarters and issued a call for crew candidates to report in Weighman Hall tomorrow.

Coach Wright in Philadelphia yesterday and immediately began active preparations to drill the oarsmen. Since last autumn there had been some questions over whether Wright would be at Pennsylvania this winter and spring, because he is in the Canadian Post Office service, and it was feared he would not succeed in obtaining leave of absence.

Coach Wright made himself popular with the majority of the oarsmen a year ago, although he changed all styles of training and was not as successful as was looked for in his work. Wright is one of the best of the oarsmen in Canada and for years captained and coached the famous Argonaut crews of Toronto, making several trips to Henley with them.

Awarded Military Medal.

QUEEN'S GOALKEEPER

Shown Great Form in Toronto—Purvis an Elusive Skater.

The Toronto Star says—The Queen's team is picked from the medical school, and every man is in training for overseas service. The demand for doctors is one of the great needs of the army, and these boys are going through as quickly as possible in order to get to the front. In the meantime they are keeping in good physical condition by playing hockey and deserve every encouragement from the public. They showed a surprising good team against the Riversides and earned the applause of the fans for their plucky efforts against the champions. Like every other senior O.H.A. team this year, they also introduced a remarkably clever goalkeeper in Harold Lees. He made all shots look easy and the determined attack of the Riversides was rendered harmless by his amazing work. Purvis at centre also displayed fine form. He is a very elusive skater. The great weakness of the Queen's forwards was in being shunted into the corner after they got up to the defence, but they will overcome that by practice.

National Commission Ruling.

The National Baseball Commission has held that the only tests that should be applied in the engagement of a minor league ball player upon his willingness to play for a salary within the prescribed limit of the club desiring his services should be his eligibility to contract. Any other restrictions imposed by league legislation are held arbitrary rights, subversive of the national agreement rights of the player, and therefore are null and void.

Ex-Walking Champion Dead.
Fred Keiser, a former walking champion of America, and a member of the Olympic team that visited Stockholm in 1912, is dead at New York.

Keiser had been in active competition until shortly before he became ill, and was a competitor in the seven-mile title race last fall. His principal success was in 1913, when he won the 7-mile national championship carrying the colors of the New York A.C. His time was .55 9 1-5.

Duke in Honorary President.
The announcement is made that His Grace the Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General of Canada, has accepted the honorary presidency of the Connaught Park Jockey Club, Ottawa, in succession to H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught. The former Governor-General was honorary president since the inception of the club in 1913.

Hockey in New York.
The first of a series of hockey matches between college teams will start here Wednesday with Princeton and Dartmouth at the St. Nicholas rink. The games will be conjured as a championship affair. Yale and Harvard are scheduled to play later.

It is said that Missouri is to be asked to pass a racing law which will tax race tracks $1,000 a day, to go to the good roads fund of the State. Fifty per cent. of the net profits are also to be turned into the same fund.
