

Pictures From at Home, Across the Border and Overseas

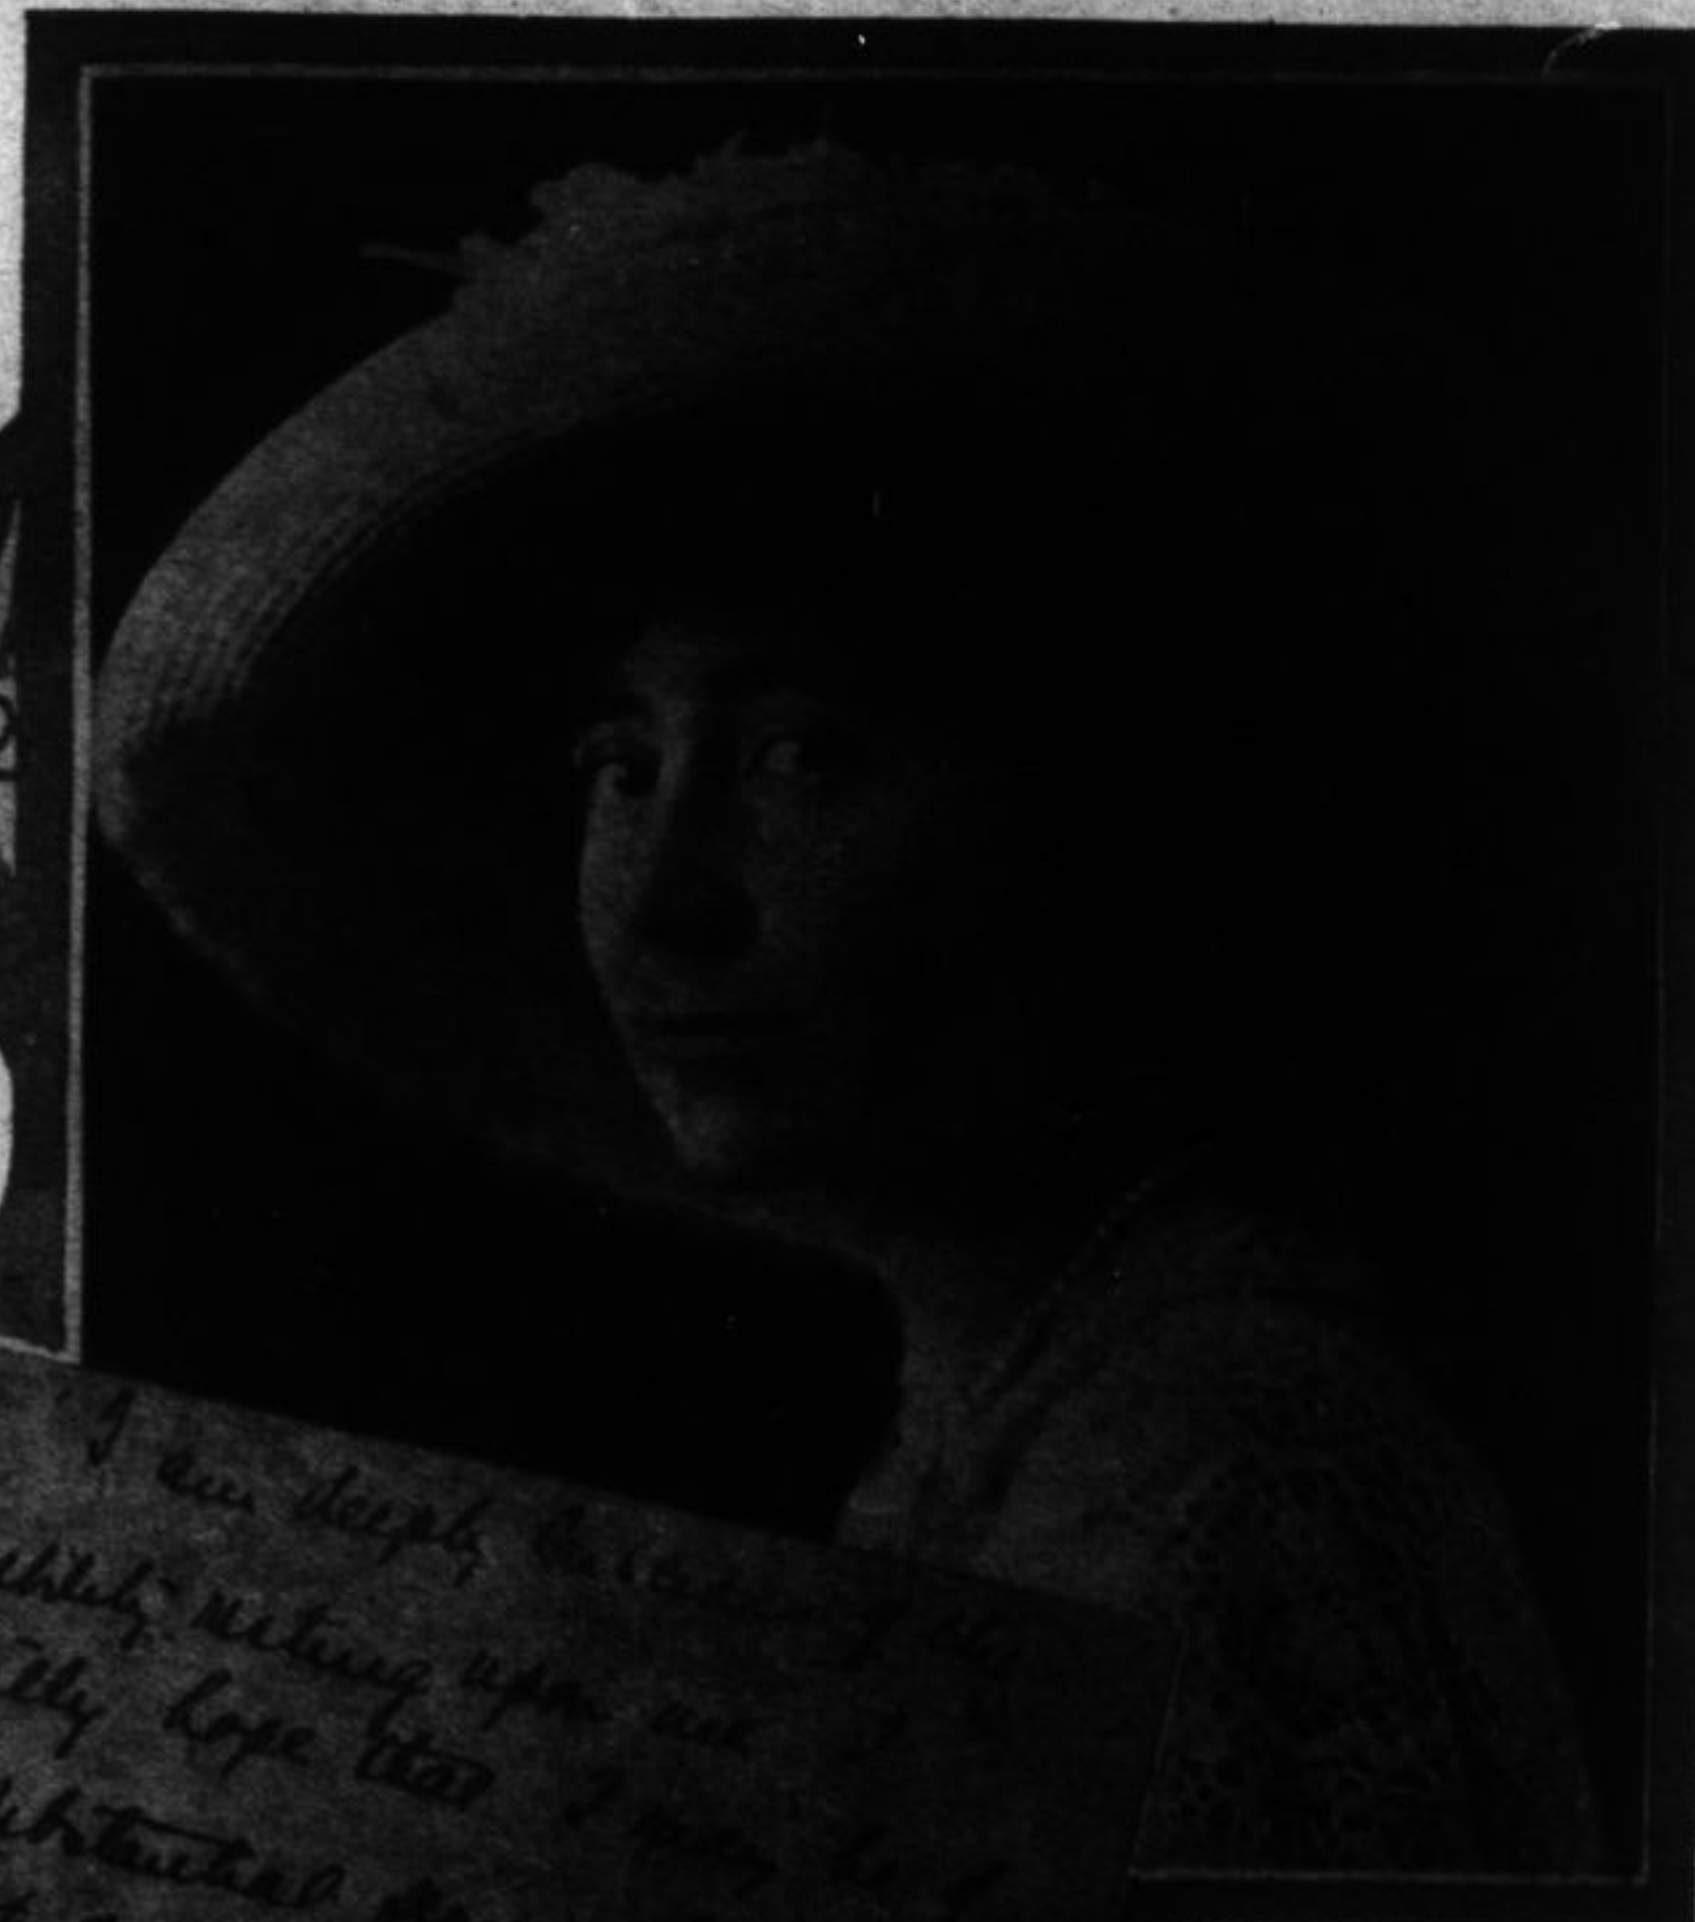

PTE. A. PARDO (on left), AND PTE. L. TIDMAN (on right), Bandmen of the 146th Battalion, Valcartier Camp.

Picture of himself, taken from pocket of a German who was killed by Lieut. Frank Purdy's machine gun squad. Lieut. Purdy, son of the County Treasurer of Frontenac, went overseas with the 146th Kingston Battalion.

PRIVATE JAMES BOCKING
Son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bocking, 168 Lower Bagot Street, who went overseas as bass drummer in the 146th Battalion Bugle Band, now somewhere in France.

*I am deeply...
sincerely hope that...
and of the future...*

Suffragettes throughout the United States are congratulating themselves that at last a woman was elected to the House of Representatives. Miss Jeannette Rankin has been elected for Montana and will be the first woman to sit in the United States Congress.

The 208th Irish Battalion after an inspection by the C. O., going through manoeuvres at Exhibition Camp.

PRIVATE THOMAS BOCKING
Youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bocking, 168 Lower Bagot Street, enlisted in the 109th Batt., Lindsay, transferred to the 146th Batt., now with the 4th C.M.R. in France.

OVERSEA DRAFT FROM DEPOT AMBULANCE CORPS (QUEENS), KINGSTON.
—Photo by Blakemore Studio, Kingston.

Lord Shaughnessy, the new Peer, leaving the Canadian Pacific Railway office at London, England, to take his seat in the House of Lords.

PRIVATE GEORGE BOCKING
Son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bocking, 168 Lower Bagot Street, who went overseas last February with No. 7 Canadian General Hospital (Queen's), now in France.

HARRY AND GEORGE, sons of Sgt. J. H. Hughes, who are also proud to wear khaki.

SERG. J. H. HUGHES
With 146th Battalion in England.

BANDSMAN J. H. HUGHES,
87 Barrack St., 38th Battalion, in France.

BANDSMAN THOS. HUGHES
With 38th Battalion in France.

BUGLER WM. HUGHES
With 146th Battalion in France.

BANDSMAN FRED HUGHES
With 146th Battalion in England.