THE ALLIES MUST BE READY FOR THE THREAT.

"It May Come at Any Moment Now," Writes London Spectator—British People Face Stern Ordeal.

New York, Jan. 17.—The Herald publishes the following cable from London, dated yesterday, saying: "Will Germany be forced to capitulate this year and peace be established? Writers on the war in the current periodicals all contribute, one way or to the other, and directly or indirectly, 'Engage the enemy more closely, by sea and by land, under the water and in the air. That should be the New Year signal,' says the Spectator, and continues: 'For this last spring of the tiger we must be ready, with the power to meet it, but we must be prepared morally as well as physically, for the impact will be terrific. It may come at any moment now.'

"With the coming year," writes Dr. A. Shadwell in the Nineteenth Century, "the great drama moves on to another phase, and the peace of this country approaches the sternest ordeal in its history. The ordeal by fire is one of will to endure pain and suffering. We can pass the test with honor if we are resolved and prepared."

In the Contemporary Review, Sir J. Compton Rickett writes: "Slowly we are learning the lesson of founding communities, differing in race and color, faithful to one central hope and allegiance. Let us ask ourselves whether it is not our duty to refuse to let the power of Prussia for the time and to make one supreme effort on behalf of a beneficent civilization."

The war of attrition, writes Austin Harrison in the English Review, is only beginning; it is a new thing in history, except in the sense that the enemy, who on various occasions have literally been burned, starved and shot over. "No people," he says, "have ever endured greater misery than the Germans, as any man can see who runs through a decent history of the thirty years' war, or the Peasants' War, or the heel of Napoleon. We must bear this in mind. Attrition is no novelty to the German. It has been his fate through history."

In the Fortnightly, Archibald Hurd postulates organization of British shipping as a primary essential.

GREECE HAS COMPLIED WITH ALLIES' DEMANDS

The Release of Venizelist Prisoners is Considered Imminent.

Athens, Jan. 16.—(Delayed)—The Crown Council to-night decided to accept the Allies' entire ultimatum with regard to the release of the Venizelist prisoners, here was the substance of this decision. The release of the Venizelist prisoners is considered imminent. The above is corroborated by official despatches received in London from the British Ministers to Greece.

CALL MORE SWISS TROOPS

Measure of Protection Says the Federal Council.

Berne, Switzerland, Jan. 17.—An official announcement says: "The Federal Council declares that circumstances enabled it to reduce very considerably during recent months the forces on the frontier. At the beginning of the year it was considered necessary to take more extensive measures of precaution and for this reason it ordered the mobilization on Jan. 24th of the second division and the contingents of the fourth and fifth divisions, which have not yet been mobilized."

"The federal council remains fully confident of the intention of the belligerent parties toward the neutrality of Switzerland."

There have been frequent reports recently of uneasiness in Switzerland regarding possible violation of the country's neutrality. Italy, according to unofficial despatches, has been strengthening her defenses along the Swiss border. President Schulthess, of Switzerland, said recently that the Swiss people would never allow a foreign army to invade their soil. On account of the reiteration of these reports the French and German Governments renewed their assurances to Switzerland that they would respect her neutrality.

NEUTRAL DIPLOMATS TO LEAVE BUCHAREST

Diplomacy Offers No Precedent for Such a Request as Germany's.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Enquiry was addressed to Germany yesterday by the State Department as to the truth of press reports that German diplomats had asked all neutral diplomats to leave Bucharest, Rumania, and had provided for that purpose a special train. Officials are at a loss to understand why the German Government should wish to send the whole neutral diplomatic corps out of the captured Rumanian capital though it is admitted that she has the legal right to do so. A minister is accredited to a Government, and not to a place, but officials here believe that some representative of neutral Governments must remain in Bucharest, not only to represent their own national interests, but also to represent those of the Allied Governments who have turned their affairs in Rumania over to them.

Diplomacy offers little precedent for such a request as Germany's despite its legal justification.

TURKS AND HUNS SIGN UP.

Treaties Are Based on Reciprocity and Equal Rights.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—Several treaties between Germany and Turkey were signed yesterday by representatives of the two nations, the Overseas News announces. The treaties to which the signatures were affixed at the Foreign Office here, have to do with questions of international law, says the announcement, among them being treaties regarding the consular service, mutual legal protection and legal assistance in civil affairs and questions regarding the right of residence.

Vestal Centre, N.Y.—"I am a farmer 74 years of age and got into a weak, run-down condition as a result of the gripe. Our druggist suggested Vinol to build me up and I noticed an improvement soon after taking it, and it has restored my strength so I can now do a good day's work. My wife has also taken Vinol for a run-down condition with splendid results."—H. W. Lester.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather; cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.
