In the World of Sport

Some Sport Records.

Martin Bobrilla, Bathurst, Australia, February, 1913, sprung a pair of 3 1-4 pound Indian clubs for five days and seventeen hours without a stop.

Jack Burke and Andy Bowen (colored) fought a draw, April 6, 1892, in New Orleans, that lasted seven hours and nineteen minutes.

Jack Jones beat Patsy Tunney, Cheshire, England, in a battle that lasted 276 rounds.

George Littlewood, of Sheffield, England, holds all long-distance records. He ran 623 miles 1,320 yards in 142 hours. He walked 581 miles 135 yards in 139 hours.

George D. Noremac in a go-as-you-please race covered 5,100 miles in 190 days, an average of 51 miles a day. Race held in Middlethian Hall, New York, beginning November 3, 1884.

William Gales, on two occasions, ran 4,000 quarter miles in 4,000 periods of 19 minutes (running a quarter mile at the commencement of and within each consecutive 10 minutes). In other words, this means that he ran a quarter mile every ten minutes, day and night, for 27 days 18 hours and 40 minutes. Gales performed this feat once at the Canton Hotel Grounds in Cardiff, Wales, June 28, 1887, and later in the Agricultural Hall, London, Oct. 21, the same year.

Eugene Estoppey ran 1,000 miles in 1,000 hours—a mile each hour—in Los Angeles, beginning Nov. 20, 1910. Eugene was at his task day and night for 41 days and 16 hours.

Dan O'Leary walked the same thing—4,000 miles in 4,000 hours—at Norwood Inn Park, Cincinnati, starting September 8, 1907.

T. Payne walked 127 miles/542 yards in twenty-four hours with a stop at London, England, September 18, 1909.

J. F. Donoghue, ice-skated 100 miles in 7 hours 11 minutes, 38 1-5 seconds at Stamford, Conn., Jan. 26, 1893.

H. Snowdon roller-skated 1,100 miles in 144 hours in Denver, 1885.

Goulet and Grenda in six a six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden, New York, 1914, covered 2,759 miles and 2 laps.

J. M. Barnett, skipped the pool 11,810 times without a stop or miss.

Jack Schaefer ran 3,000 points on straight-rail billiard table (4 1-2 x 9).

John Layton pocketed 78 balls in pool match.

James Braid rove a golf ball from the tee 395 yards.

H. J. Whigham, former amateur champion of United States, played the Garden City golf course, 18 holes, in 46 minutes and 94 strokes.

George Bothner wrestled Niflock 5 hours and 33 minutes to a draw recently.

Miss Edith Jackson swam continuously for 34 hours at Blackpool, England, May, 1890.

T. W. Burgess swam the English Channel, Dover to Cape Griznez, Sept. 6-7, 1911, in 22 hours and 35 minutes.

M. Paulliquen, Paris, Nov. 3, 1912, swam under water for 6 minutes and 29 4-5 seconds.

The system of individual betting in vogue at New Orleans, requires the money to be actually posted on every wager, and no books can be kept. While the men who accept wagers, the layers, as they are called, are experts at mental calculation, as a rule, the best of them frequently get loaded up on a horse that goes over as a good price, and at one blow lose the bulk of their bank roll. And it is rare luck that the wagers taken by any layers balance—in other words, that he has actually succeeded in making "book," as the term used to be understood.

SPLIT BALL IS DOOMED

As Also Are Other Noxious Baseball Devices.

There will be no change in the pitching rules this year, but in 1918 the use of the spitball and the practice of putting artificial or foreign substances on the ball probably will be abolished. Gov. Toner is strongly opposed to the spitball and the use of rosin, licorice, slippery elm and talcum powder by pitchers in their attempt to obtain better control of the ball.

"The spitball is doomed," said the Governor. "The use of it is both disgusting and unsanitary. Many pitchers bluff with it to fool the batsmen, while others cover the ball with so much saliva that it is impossible for the fielders to handle it cleanly." The spitball has ruined some famous pitchers, notably Ed. Walsh. It has no place in baseball and it ought to be prohibited. So many pitchers can do effective work without the spitball that I feel sure it will not be missed.

"As for the employment of rosin and other substances, I am convinced that these unsportsmanlike methods are unwarranted. The pitchers already have an immense advantage over the batsmen because of the foul strike rule and they should be made to work without artificial aid. If a man cannot pitch good ball with natural skill he does not belong in big league company."

REAL FIGHTING PARSON.

Milwaukee Pastor Blossoms Out as Bowling Promoter.

"Kid" Wedge, former lightweight champion of Rhineland, now better known as "the fighting parson of Northern Wisconsin," is to have his own boxing club.

When "Kid" Wedge was in the ring he was famed for punishing opposing fighters. Having become the Rev. Fred Wedge, he is one of the most popular preachers in the North and has a Sunday school class of boys to whom he is teaching boxing.

Yesterday "Kid" Wedge, an manager of the Rhineland Amateur Athletic Association, filed an application with the State Boxing Commission for a club license, by which his boys will be able to hold regular boxing bouts in their gymnasium, with other Sunday school boys as spectators.

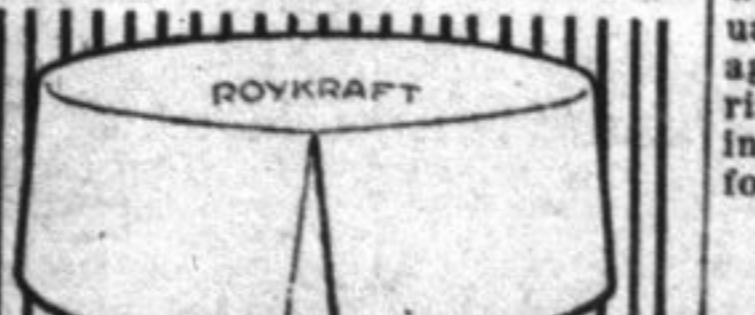

The Rev. Wedge was told that he could have his license as soon as he provided the formal bond required of a new club.

To Help Canada's Heroes.

Curling is gaining in popularity in St. Paul, Mich., and the devotees of the roarin' game in the Michigan city are not forgetting their friends from the Canadian side of the border, by whom the game was given a start in St. Paul. A monster tourney will be held during the week of January 22nd, and it is expected that the number of entries will exceed one hundred. One of the features of the bonspiel will be a grand ball on January 26th. The proceeds of this will be turned over to the Canadian curlers for the benefit of a relief fund for wounded soldiers.

Copper King, the "gift-horse," owned by Peter Gorman, of Ottawa, and which was so successful on the Canadian circuit last season, has been sold to J. K. L. Ross, of Montreal, for a price reported to be $6,500. The horse has already been shipped to his new owner. Copper King was a seven-time winner in eleven starts last season and was only out of the money once. The deal for the horse was made by Tom Bird trainer for Mr. Ross.

CALIFORNIA'S RACING BILL.

Effort Being Made to Revive Sport With Reformed Conditions.

The effort to revive racing in California under reformed conditions has behind it the influence of some of the most influential men in the state. The racing bill to be introduced at the first session of the legislature by Senator Nealon of San Francisco provides for a state racing commission of three members, which is empowered to control and regulate racing in California.

Bookmaking is declared unlawful, and in its stead will be the pari-mutuel form of wagering by machines. A percentage of the commissions, not to exceed eight per cent, will be taken out of the money wagered, and one-fourth of the sum received will be turned over for the exclusive use of the state school fund.

THREAT OF FRATERNITY

To Permit No Baseball This Coming Season.

A New York despatch says: The Baseball Players' Fraternity, through its president, David L. Fultz, yesterday threw down the gauntlet to organized baseball and declared that unless the magnates agreed to the requests of the Fraternity there would be no need of training camps this spring.

As evidence of the earnest intention of the Fraternity to fight for what it terms its just rights, the organization announced that it had expelled Pitcher Harry F. (Slim) Sallee from membership because he had signed a contract with the New York National League club after he had promised that he would stand with the Fraternity until given the word that would permit of a contract acceptance.

A Veteran Australian Rider. Sydney Referee: The veteran rider, T. Donoghue, was again in evidence on Saturday. At the Mudgee meeting he was second on his mare, Tehama, in the Opening Handicap, and later won the Havilah Welter on her. As Donoghue is fifty-eight years of age, he must be made of tough material. There is certainly nothing of the "too old at forty" about him.

Bases on Balls. Intuition has once more been vindicated. Despite the fact that ninety per cent of the baseball sharps conceded the 1917 pennant to the Giants we felt that something would eventually happen to upset the dope. Manager McGraw has signed Bill Morrisette, who once hurled Spaldings in the general direction of the plate for Jack Dunn.

Meeking With Ottawa. The Ottawa Hockey Club has a new acquisition in Harry Meeking, a former O.H.A. luminary, who finished the season in 1916 with the Toronto pros, and has this year been playing with Signallers, in the Ottawa City League.

Meeking comes to Ottawa as a voluntary loan from Owner Ed. Livingstone, of the Toronto Club, who wired the player permission yesterday he was at liberty to sign with the Senators for the season.

ALL SPORTS REPRESENTED.

Latest Casualty Lists Include Names of Prominent Athletes.

Every branch of British sport is represented in the latest list issued with the casualties on the Somme—champions at hockey, boxing, swimming, rowing and football have been killed or wounded in action.

Wilfrid G. Vint, killed, was a famous coxswain and created a record at Shrewsbury by steering the eight to victory against Bedford Grammar school five years running, 1900-1904.

Lieut. L. E. King-Stephens, killed, was the well-known hockey player of the Teddington club, for which he acted as secretary for several years. He also played many times in the representative games for the South against the North of England.

Swimming has lost a splendid champion in Edward ("Ted") Wickham, who has also made the big sac-

He scored many of his successes in Australia, notably the Australian 100 yards championship in 59 seconds at Melbourne in February, 1912, when A. W. Barry was second and W. Longworth third.

The death is also reported of Sergt. F. Gleason, famous middle-weight boxer of the Royal Irish Constabulary, and the Irish navy and army champion.

Sergt. Baker of the Plymouth Argyle club, and Oscar Linkson, of Manchester United, both football players, have fallen in action.

Warning to Hockey Clubs. Amateur hockey clubs and players are warned that all tours and exhibition-games must be sanctioned either by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association directly or through the provincial bodies which are in affiliation with the C.A.H.A.
