"HURRAH FOR THE FRONT."

A Popular Recruiting Song Much in Vogue.

MRS. FRED NICOLLE.

One of the latest and most popular recruiting songs in circulation is the soldiers' marching song, entitled "Hurrah for the Front." It is dedicated to the "boys in khaki," written and composed by Margaret Callaghan Nicolle. Mrs. Nicolle is one of Chatham's popular ladies, possessing marked musical ability, and is the wife of Capt. (Dr.) Fred Nicolle, C.A.M.C., who is now in France, and was formerly one of Chatham's prominent surgeons.

The above is taken from the musical section of Toronto Saturday Night. The authoress of this beautiful and inspiring worded song is the daughter of Thomas Callaghan, Campbellford, a well-known lumberman. Dr. Nicolle being a native of the city, a son of John Nicolle, Barrie street, and a graduate of Queen's. Both he and Mrs. Nicolle are, of course, widely known here, where the latter's musical abilities are recognized. There is little doubt of an extensive sale for this catchy vocal production, and we shall expect to hear it sung freely in Kingston and vicinity.

NEW INSPECTOR PRAISED.

At a Meeting of Executive of Children's Aid Society.

A meeting of the executive of the Children's Aid Society was held in the City Council chamber on Friday afternoon, but the business was mostly of a routine nature.

The newly-appointed inspector, Alexander Jack, has his work well in hand, and is conducting the business in an able manner. The members are well pleased with his work, and the new inspector came in for some warm praise at Friday's meeting.

Mr. Jack presented a report, giving an account of the work undertaken since the last meeting.

Dr. A. W. Richardson presided at the meeting.

Had Leg Broken.

Michael Muchmore, Queen street, had his left leg broken on Saturday morning when a heavy chain flew off a post at the Shipbuilding Co. yard. Mr. Muchmore was hurriedly removed to the Hotel Dieu, where Dr. Crowley performed an operation and found the fracture to be a bad one.

Valentines for the boys overseas. Finest selection in the city at The College Book Store.

Mrs. Henry Blair, Westport, aged sixty years, died suddenly on Friday. She was well on Thursday, and when she retired she gave no outward intimation of impending death. Friday morning she passed away suddenly from heart failure. She leaves a grown up family of four sons and three daughters.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

To-night will be the last chance to see Bertha Kallich in "Love and Hate." An exhibition of the better class of interesting photodramas and polka, variety entertainment has been arranged for Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. An exceedingly fine five-reel feature has been booked for this engagement. Miss Billie Burke will appear in the fourth chapter of "Gloria's Romance," the epoch-making serial which the Grand is offering for its first half of each week. A two-reel Universal photoplay, a comedy, and the Pathe News will also be shown. An unusual vaudeville bill will be shown. Billy and Eva McClintock will present their comedy singing and dancing specialty.

"Daddy Long Legs."

"Daddy Long Legs," the one big dramatic success of this and last season, will be presented here for the second time next Monday, matinee and night at the Grand Opera House. The play, is a dramatization of the famous Daddy Long Legs letters published as a serial story by one of the big magazines three years ago. The comedy sets forth a fascinating love story in which tender sentiment is delightfully blended with bubbling, whimsical humor. Its central characters are a very quaint little Cinderella and a decidedly up-to-date Prince Charming and the love story in which the figure becomes a veritable idyl of buoyant youth.

Guy Bates Post.

Richard Watson Tully is sparing no expense to make his production of "The Masquerader" perfect in every detail so that when he presents his star, Guy Bates Post, in the play at the Grand Opera House, one night Thursday January 25th, playgoers may rest assured that there will be presented a play, a production and a company worth of their attention and support. Among the players, Mr. Tully has engaged in Ian Robertson, who is numbered among the most able of the English players of the present day. He is a brother of Forbes Robertson.

"Canada in Khaki" at Strand. "Canada in Khaki" is the title of a new feature film by the Ucan Feature Film Co., made in the interests of recruiting in Canada, and being shown at the Strand. It was made in Kingston with the exception of pictures of the 154th Battalion presentation of colors at Cornwall.

The film is interesting not only because it was taken locally, but because of the subjects photographed. The scenes are all well known, and scarcely a minute passes without the spectators seeing someone whom they recognize.

Included in the pictures are the locomotive works, St. George's Cathedral, showing the military service, and beside those and others of a similar nature there is the complete photo history of Barrielfield military camp. The pictures will be shown again this evening.

OBITUARY

The Late J. D. Shea.

John Daniel Shea, one of Kingston's best-known residents, passed away at 7 o'clock on Saturday morning after an illness of two years. The deceased was born forty-seven years ago in London, England, and was brought to this city as an infant, always residing here. For thirteen years he was assistant to his father, the late William Shea, chief keeper at Rockwood Hospital. He was also engaged at his trade as a brass moulder at the Locomotive works. For a great number of years the late Mr. Shea was choir leader at Queen street Methodist church. In recognition for his work in the I.O.O.F. he is being accorded a funeral by that order.

There survive his mother, Mrs. William Shea; his wife, formerly Miss Pappa, and their one son, Allan, lately returned from the front, and two daughters, Mrs. E. Spencer, Clergy street, and Mrs. E. Paradis, King street.
