CALLING OUT THE YOUTH.

Have the people been deceived by the premier and by the New York announcement which he made over a year ago? One must think so if he accept seriously the declaration of Hon. Mr. Rogers that the 500,000 that Canada was to raise included the reservists and munition workers and invalids, and adding all these to the men on active service, or preparing for it, the number is 435,000.

Mr. Rogers must not be allowed to get away with that bluff. The premier can put an end to all doubt or controversy, and he will undoubtedly be given the opportunity of saying what he means.

The desire, apparently, is to dodge the demand for conscription, or registration, or anything else which means a mobilization of the young manhood of the country for military purposes.

Mr. Robb, M.P., representing the English constituency of Huntingdon, in Quebec, is willing that the term of parliament shall be prolonged, and the government given the longer lease of power, but the public accounts must be closely scrutinized.

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT, WHY?

The question of a conservative contemporary, lacking in candour and touched with insincerity, is, What can a national government do which is not being done by the present party government?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in his criticism of the government, calls attention to the evidence of inharmoniousness as it has been revealed in the Borden-Hughes correspondence.

Oh! The Nationalists would have killed Borden's naval scheme had they not been assured that the Senate would do this.

the people without regard to politicians, and whose places in the administration are based upon fitness, and fitness only, can do this.

The Hamilton Herald interprets the return of the government candidates in West Simcoe and north-west Toronto, with reduced majorities, as a sign that the liberal reaction has expended itself.

THE MAN: THE MESSAGE. The man who draws over a million people to hear him within a few weeks, who can impress most deeply the 70,000 who heard him on one day, many giving way to tears when he bade them good-bye, is no common individual, of ordinary ways and talents.

The Whig has been studying Billy Sunday, and for the purpose of discovering, if possible, the secret of his success. It concludes that he is seriously-minded, earnest, devoted to his work, eccentric, clever, and methodical.

Then he does everything thoroughly. His campaigns are huge affairs. They involve the service of scores of men and women, organizers, musicians, mechanics, clerks, and exhorters. They are all busy. They anticipate his arrival at a place.

It is said of a great preacher, no other than Thomas Chalmers, that he lacked in dignity, in gracefulness of speech and action, that his Scotch accent was raspy and his voice harsh and guttural, that he read his notes and had few and awkward gestures.

EDITORIAL NOTES. President Wilson is suspected of having another peace card up his sleeve. Yes? Whose hand is dealing the pack anyway? Von Bernstorff's?

The German navy is the smaller as the result of its last collision with the British navy off Holland. The real facts are difficult to estimate, but they are serious and paralyzing.

A loss of $8,000,000 annually, through the destruction of the gophers is an astonishing one. Steps must be taken certainly to wipe out the pest out of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

The Borden-Hughes correspondence shows that the premier was patient up to a certain point. When Sir Sam hinted that the premier was inaccurate, and knew it, the climax came. The effects of it have not yet passed.

The voting in Dorchester takes place on Saturday. 'Tis well. Had the campaign lasted another week Sevigny and Cannon would have been calling for pistols and coffee for two.

The premier was nettled when Sir Wilfrid Laurier revived the recriminations of Sir Sam Hughes. He recalled the retirements of certain members from the liberal government. But they were retirements, not dismissals. Quite a difference.

Oh! The Nationalists would have killed Borden's naval scheme had they not been assured that the Senate would do this.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Believed Party. (Ottawa Evening Journal). Cable says the Crown Prince has been relieved of his command, Rathor says his command has been relieved of the Crown Prince.

already created by the difference in language. The fathers of confederation hoped they had made Canada one.

Women to the Front. (Montreal Herald). Germany is now calling upon women to enlist as soldiers.

A Dig at Uncle Sam. (Ottawa Journal Press). Greece seems to be more or less settled with, but Mexico is as bad as ever.

A Reminiscence. (London Free Press). The Rome newspaper that suspects the United States of having in mind the annexation of Canada and Mexico must have resurrected one of Champ Clark's speeches.

Money in Ice Cream. (Hamilton Spectator). Nearly $300,000,000 are said to have been expended on ice cream in the United States last year.

KINGSTON EVENTS 25 YEARS AGO.

Meat was plentiful on the market this morning, selling at 5c to 6c a pound.

A fight occurred on Princess street late last night in which about a dozen so-called politicians took part.

MUST THE CITY PAY UP? A. Lynn (Mass.), fruit dealer, has sent a bill for $23 to the city for fruit and peanuts eaten in his store.

DEMANDING FAIR DEAL IN CONSCRIPTION. Ottawa Citizen. What the people will demand is a fair deal in the matter of conscription; not only must it be universal, but it must be comprehensive.

THE WANT OF THE HOUR: A MAN

Woodstock Sentinel. What is needed in this country is something more than the combining of the parties in the formation of a Government. It is quite conceivable that the parties might combine to exclude the very man most urgently required.

A TIMELY TIP TO THE HON. SENATORS

Toronto Telegram. Why not Hon. Senators? Canada raised a noble race of hon. colonels who bought their own uniforms and paid their own mess bills.
